This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

John Hunn Esquire } Report about a Survey made 1 May 1805 Street Commissioner } to find out the proper North east corner of Greenwich Street and Harison Street.

In order to ascertain this corner with [231] proper precision I went to Thomas Barrow, and examined the Trinity Church maps and the cession made by the Corporation to the Corporation of this City, and find Rhinelanders corner the South side of Harison Street. Harrison Street ceded to the Corporation of this City 65 feet wide. The block from Harison Street to Provoost Street 175 feet and then Provost Street 65 feet wide

I surveyed accordingly with a line and a 10 feet standard, beginning at the corner of R. Strongs house, measured 65 feet and find the corner or the fence of Mr Boards lot to be one foot in the Street or too far South. Measuring Mr Boards two lots 50 feet I find the foundation of Mr Dobbs house 5½ inches too far south and on Mr Boards lot. Measuring 125 feet more to the corner of Provoost Street I find the corner 6 inches in the Street. Measuring from the mark across the Street I find Provoost Street 65 feet wide and the whole corresponding with the map of the Trinity Church Corporation

Charles Loss.
Surveyor of the City

The Committee to whom it was referred to ascertain the north east corner of Greenwich and Harison Streets report that in their opinion by the return or survey hereunto annexed the same is ascertained.

The Committee request that the said return may be considered as their report they having approved of the same.

Ja^{s} Fairlie
George Janeway.

Ordered that the same be accepted and entered on the minutes.

Ordered that the Clerk and Street Commissioner report a state of Facts relative to the proceedings in relation to Roosevelt Street

[232] Alderman Fairlie, Drake and M^{r} Warner } Were appointed a committee to report regulations respecting foot passengers.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner. to wit.

The Street Commissioner to whom it was referred to direct a survey to be made across the East River at Corlaers hook with a view of ascertaining the distance, situation, course of the tides and eddies and other circumstances in order to determine the place most proper for a permanent ferry has the honour to report

That he has examined the ground on both sides of the River and that M^{r} Loss and M^{r} Stilwell two of the City Surveyors have made a Survey the map or plan of which is herewith presented with a report of M^{r} Loss on the subject

That the distance from the foot of Grand Street to Morrells Landing is 3000 feet, while the distance from Bullock Street to Woodhulls is 3560 feet

That the course of the tides is also most favorable to the landing at Morrells. passages can be generally made with expedition and safety between those points, while on the other hand it very frequently happens from the nature of the wind and tides. that passages to and from Woodhulls will be much more tedious, and attended with considerable difficulty

The ground of M^{r} Woodhull on the Long Island *[234] shore is situated in a cove which from the best information the Street Commissioner can collect is generally obstructed by ice during the greatest part of the winter season. The land of Morrell on the contrary in addition to its being more directly opposite and more favorably situated with regard to the tides and eddies is placed upon a point which is generally free and open and from which passages can be made during all seasons of the year

It is only at favorable periods that Horse boats can pass between

* Clerk's error in numbering; no page 233.—ED.

Woodhulls and Willetts landings, and near to Woodhulls on the opposite shore there is said to be a reef of rocks which occasions rough water whenever the wind is high. This reef is entirely out of the course to Morrells landing but cannot be avoided in a passage to Woodhulls.

From these circumstances the Street Commissioner believes that the foot of Grand Street would be the most convenient and eligible place for a public ferry. It is not only the widest street in that part of the City but it also receives the greatest number of intersecting Streets and affords the readiest communication with other parts of the town. A public bason is reserved at the foot of Grand Street in the East River, and in all probability whenever a Market is erected, it will be built at that place, and it appears probable to him from the reservation of a bason that it must have been the original intention of the Corporation to establish the ferry there.

All which is respectfully submitted

May 27. 1805 John S Hunn St Comr

Resolved that the report of the Street Commissioner [235] respecting the ferry at Corlaers hook together with the several applications on that subject be referred to a Select Committee and that such Committee be requested to examine the premises and to make report with all convenient speed

That they have had several conferences with Mr Lawrence and Mr King upon the subject, but could come to no decision relative to a sale.

That your Committee are of opinion it would not comport with the interest of the Corporation to sell this ground at this time as Elm Street will by being widened become a much more valuable Street, than it could have been before that alteration.

[253] Your Committee therefore proposed to Mr Lawrence to have one hundred feet from Elm Street towards Broadway. divided into lots, and to leave it to the opinion of two disinterested persons to decide what portion of these lots each should have upon the same principle the board are now negociating with Messieurs Jay. Munro and Morris.

Your Committee further proposed that the ground on Mr Lawrances lots which will be unnecessary should at the Corporation expence be applied to filling up Elm Street and that part of the Corporation property which is below the intended regulation and that the residue of the earth should be carted away by the Corporation as their property.

The Committee have to inform that Messieurs Laurance and King have agreed to this plan of settlement and will appoint one referee on their part to unite with another to be appointed by the

The following report was received from the Comptroller to wit.

The Comptroller to whom was referred the Several papers relating to the claims of Charles Smith Respectfully reports

That the claims of Mr Smith for an abatement of dock hire are founded upon his being deprived of the piers at Fly market. Coffee house, and Old [256] Slips. also Remsen and Rikers wharf at Burling Slip and at Charlotte Slip by Isaac Clason

Mr Smith makes the amount of damages $3501 this claim was presented to the Corporation 28 June 1804 two reports of the former Comptroller have been presented in relation to them and no decision had.

Mr Smith hired the public slips and wharves 1 May 1802 for two years for $33.000 and he has since hired them for two years for $30.000. the Corporation having leased the public wharves and Slips for $3000 less the present term (it is believed) in consequence of Mr Smiths being now deprived of the benefit arising from those piers by a decision of the Supreme Court.

It appears that in the first report of the former Comptroller which it may be proper now to read an attempt is made to make a calculation of the probable damages sustained by Mr Smith. It is therein stated that the sum of $2361 would be the most that Mr Smith in all probability could have lost by being deprived of these piers slips and wharves

Every information has been diligently sought on this subject in order to render equal justice. It is therefore believed that if the sum of $2000 be allowed to Mr Smith for the privations he has sustained, it will be a full compensation

A considerable sum of money is withheld by Mr Smith in consequence of the board not coming to a decision on his claims. It is therefore recommended that the sum of $2000 be allowed him. provided he pay without delay the balance now due to the Corporation into the City Treasury. All which is respectfully submitted.

June 17. 1805 Bj. Romaine

Ordered that the same be confirmed and that a deduction of $2000 be made to Mr Smith, upon his immediately paying the balance into the Treasury [257] The following reports were received. to wit.

Report. that there is no dock near the village of Harlaem, and as it would be a public convenience to the inhabitants we therefore recommend that the petitioner have a grant for 21 years subject to such rent as the Common Council may think proper

Jacob Shute

The Street Commissioner and Comptroller to whom was referred a reconsideration of the above report beg leave to state that they have viewed the situation above mentioned, and recommend that Benjamin Vredenburgh have permission to erect a wharf from high to low water mark fronting to his Land at Harlaem at a point of rocks to the South ward of his house and that he build the same fifty feet in breadth along the River at right angles with the main road running to the River through Harlaem town. That the same be granted subject to the future regulations of the Corporation. when other wharves and Slips shall be laid out to be erected at Harlaem. That for the present Mr Vredenburgh pay the Yearly rent of fifteen Dollars commencing [258] from May 1. 1806. That the said rent of $15 per annum be not raised during the term of 21 years unless some permanent regulation shall be made generally respecting docks and Slips at Harlaem

Ordered that the same be confirmed and that Mr Vredenburgh have liberty to erect a wharf agreeably to the terms thereby recommended.

Resolved that the Road masters be authorized without delay. to call upon the late Road masters who may have any part of the tools belonging to the Corporation in their possession and to receive the same in behalf of the Common Council

Resolved that the Lamp Committee cause a Lamp or Lamps to be placed at the Dock at Brooklyn near the ferry stairs similar to those heretofore ordered at the other ferries in this City. And that the Comptroller take measures to have the same lighted.

Resolved that the Mayor issue his Warrants on the Treasurer to pay

The following report was received from the market Committee

The Market Committee Report. I That the ground on which Hudson market now stands is too valuable to be appropriated for a market, and is situated in a Street too important for the purpose.

II That the said Market is in a state of Decay will be useless in two or three Years. it being built upon a construction that is inconvenient to the public not productive of such a revenue as a new one upon an approved plan will undoubtedly be

III That the Corporation Slip is at present a Nuisance. it being so Shallow, that a considerable part [262] of the bottom lays bare at Low Water which renders it dangerous to the health of the Citizens in that part of the City that the dock around it is rotten and has part of it already given way. The Committee therefore, are of opinion it will be for the public advantage to run a New bulkhead across the Slip in the manner laid down in a map now presented drawn by Mr Mangin, and proceed to fill up the same, and to Erect a substantial and commodious market, on the ground to be filled up, to be built of Brick &c

The following report was received from the Committee to whom was referred the applications respecting a new ferry at Corlaers hook.

The Committee to whom was referred the report of the Street Commissioner and also the several papers in relation to the application for a New ferry at Corlaers Hook.

Respectfully Report.

That your Committee have examined the subject referred to them with considerable attention a Majority of them have viewed the situation of the land on both sides of the River, and all the subscribers have also heard the several parties for, and against the application.

Upon a subject of so much importance as well [263] to the public interest. as to the individuals concerned.

Your Committee did not form an opinion without a proper degree of caution and deliberation. in presenting their report they have considered it their duty to assign the reasons and the principles by which their decision has been ground.

In the first place ferries are establishments of the greatest public importance. And in creating them the convenience, safety and accommodation of the Community are the principal objects to be attained the Charter of this City having invested the Common Council with the right of forming those establishments at their discretion. Your Committee considers that right in the nature of a trust which they are bound to exercise in such a manner as shall best promote the convenience and benefit of the public.

Your Committee believe it perfectly immaterial and totally foreign to the principles which should govern the decision of this board, to enquire whose property is benefitted. or is not benefitted by those institutions. such enquiry might lead to favoritism and partiality, but never could advance the general interest. As representatives of this City. it appeared to your Committee that the public is entitled to expect that the board will invariably adopt such measures as are calculated to benefit its constituents in general.

Two questions therefore presented themselves to the Committee. First whether the place proposed by the petitioners is in reality the best? and Secondly whether if that should be the Case any circumstances [264] did exist which should induce the Board to reject the better place?

Upon the first of these heads your Committee entertained no doubt, for Independent of the examinations which had formerly taken place the spot had been recently viewed by the Street Commissioner and by two of the City Surveyors. the result of their investigation was such as to convince them that the natural advantages of the situation proposed by the petitioners afford it a manifest superiority and of course entitled it to the preference of the board.

Upon examining the report of the Street Commissioner your Committee found it to be correct and they are decidedly of opinion that from the foot of Grand Street to Morrills point is not only the best place for a public ferry. but that it would be unwarrantably hazarding the interests of the public to permit the present opportunity of securing it to pass by.

In Stating to the board, the most important particulars in which the situation of the present petitioners is entitled to a preference, we shall only enumerate the following.

I The Landings between Willetts and Woodhulls are not nearly opposite to each other. while those between Cannons and Morrells are sufficiently so. the difference in distance is also very great. being more than one sixth part of a passage across the River.

II The ferry at Woodhulls is situated in a Cove which during the winter season is generally obstructed with ice. It appeared to your Committee by very satisfactory evidence that during Seven Weeks of the last season the [265] landing at Woodhulls was entirely useless and the boats were frequently drawn by horses to Morrills point [which] is generally accessible and notwithstanding the severity of the last season boats could ply between thence and Cannons every day. It was indeed contended before the Committee on the part of M^{r} Willett that as the last season was uncommonly rigorous no conclusion should be drawn from thence they cannot however but view it as affording a very strong reason in favour of Morrills landing for as that was accessible during a Winter so unusually severe it may reasonably be inferred that it will generally remain so—and again it is well known that even ordinary winters produce a considerable quantity of ice and though the Channel of the River may remain unobstructed yet the Creeks and Coves are usually filled.

III. The favorable position of Cannon and Morrills Landings. in relation to the situation, course and direction of the tides and eddies affords another ground of superiority, equal to those which have already been mentioned. the course of the flood proceeds from the point of Corlaers hook to Morrills and from thence in an opposite direction it strikes the Brandemula shore. with the flood tide when the wind is up the river to effect a passage from Woodhulls to Willetts would always be difficult and with a horse boat most frequently impracticable for the tide points along the opposite shore are so strong and rapid as to render it very nearly impossible to pass them with a large boat, and unless they are passed so as to admit of putting [266] across near Morrells the boat will not reach nearer than Brandemula many other cases of difficulty might be mentioned. but the Committee content themselves with observing that in general passages can be made with much more certainty. safety. comfort. and expedition between Cannons and Morrells that [than] at the present place

IV. The foot of Grand Street on this side appears to your Committee the best, and most eligible spot for the establishment of a ferry. because it is by far the widest Street in that part of the City, because it communicates with the greatest number of intersecting Streets because a public bason of seventy feet is there reserved. and because the Market to supply that portion of the City will in all probability be established there, and it appears obvious to your Committee that the Market and the ferry should be United and communicate at the same landing

V. It appears to your Committee that in general the present ferry is alone adapted to the Summer Season and to mild and clement weather. It is only at favorable periods and with suitable tides that large boats. capable of transporting horses and Carriages can be made to ply. but that between Cannons and Morrills a passage can be generally effected at all periods.

In addition to the aforegoing reasons the Committee might mention several others also entitled to considerable weight. near woodhulls Wharf on the opposite side there is situated a reef of considerable extent which is said to occasion rough Water and to be considerably dangerous whenever the Wind is high [267] this reef which cannot be avoided in a passage from Woodhulls to Willetts. is entirely out of the Course from Cannons to Morrills. Upon the whole the result of the investigation exercised by your Committee has been to convince them that the present ferry is established at an improper and inconvenient place that it is not calculated for permanent duration and that the place proposed by the Petitioners is far the most suitable for a valuable and durable establishment.

With regard to the second point whether any circumstances existed which unfortunately committed the board to select the worst place and to refuse the best for a permanent establishment? Your Committee have also endeavoured to consider that question with all the attention it deserves. they submit to the board the opinion they have matured together with the facts and the reasonings which have led to its formation.

It appears from an examination of the Minutes that some time in 1802 a petition having been presented to the board for the establishment of a ferry from the Ground of Mr Willett. to that then owned by Samuel Titus. that on the 29 November following the Committee reported that such an establishment would be usefull. shortly afterwards the board proceeded to consider such report and agreed to establish a ferry at that place to commence at a future period.

on the 14 February 1804 and before any Grant was made or ordered to be made to Mr Willett Thomas Morrell presented a petition for a ferry. [268] this petition was ordered to lie upon the table. and no Notice was afterwards taken of it on the 27. February upon receiving the Report of the then Comptroller, a lease was directed to be made to Mr Willett for six Years without rent upon condition of his making the necessary Wharves and ferry Stairs and restoring them to the Corporation in good order.

Mr Woodhull having become possessed of the land of Samuel Titus, a similar lease was afterwards directed to be made to him which was afterwards extended for a twelve month longer as a further Compensation for his improvements.

No agreement was made with either of those parties that such ferry should remain a perpetual one. indeed none could have been made.

Alderman Minthorne one of your present Committee was also a member of the Committee who reported upon the subject of the present ferry he perfectly recollects that such former Committee were solicitious to procure an establishment at or near the place proposed by the petitioners and that they endeavoured to obtain the consent of the proprietors for that purpose—a ferry being deemed necessary the former Committee reported in favour of the establishment as the best that could then be procured—but certainly did not imagine that the public became thereby precluded from the better place.

Your Committee being fully of opinion that the public interest will be promoted by granting the prayer of the petitioners it therefore only remains to be considered [269] whether any valid impediment exists in the engagement with Woodhull and Willett. Your Committee are equally decided in their opinion that no such impediment can be found.

For in the first place the petitioners are contented with receiving a lease to commence from the expiration of those of Woodhull and Willett—in the next place they do not pray an exclusive right, but are willing to receive a concurrent one.

What is the interest of Mr Woodhull and Mr Willett in the ferry and how would such a grant affect them? It is plain to Your Committee, that their only right is as Lessees. the whole ultimate and proprietary right of the establishment is in the Corporation—From the expiration of the Leasses all the interest of the Lessees ceases and it is in the power of the Corporation to direct whatever regulation may be thought proper: In this view of the subject it must be evident that the interests of Woodhull and Willett cannot be effected. by an act which is limited to take place after those interests expire

It was also urged to your Committee that Woodhull and Willett had been at considerable expence in building Wharves and other accommodations for the ferry on this head the Committee would observe that although it is always a subject of regret when individuals lose by an enterprize. Yet that circumstance cannot operate as a substantial ground of argument. For Mr Woodhull and Mr Willett must have known that the board could not be considered as pledged to them for a longer period [270] than their leases express. and it would have been perfectly absurd in them to have imagined that the board would remain forever bound to continue an infeiror [inferior] ferry when a far superior one can be procured.

Your Committee further observe that any expences in which they have engaged are also the result of a fair negociation and for which they have received the very consideration they contracted for. A Lease for six years without rent was granted to them as the stipulated price of those improvements. and if in the event they should not realize the benefits they anticipated still it furnishes no sufficient inducement in this board to sacrifice the interests of the public in their behalf.

Another argument against the adoption of this measure has also been suggested which on a slight view appears to possess some speciousness and is therefore worthy of reply—It has been said that it would be legislating for a future board on this head your Committee would observe that the measure recommended by them is not to be considered as an act of Legislation for a future board but that it is making such provisions for the permanent welfare of the public as is not only justifiable but strictly necessary, and they take the present opportunity of refuting an idea which if sanctioned would nearly destroy the usefulness of this Corporation. for if it was considered that the common Council were only to direct such regulations as are to Commence or be Completed during the period for [which] its present members are elected it is plain that few [271] undertakings of an extensive or durable nature could ever be accomplished. The powers of the Common Council would be subject to continual diminution and would vary with the seasons of the Year—In December and January its authority would be greater than in September and October because in the former period members would have near a twelve month to serve. but in the latter they would be confined within the compass of a few weeks. the regulation of a Street the construction of a Common Sewer or the erection of a market would be considered as improper because the measure could not be completed until the intervention of another board. In opposition to an idea so extremely pernicious Your Committee would observe that though the Common Council in respect to the periods of its election is annual yet in its public relations it is always the same body and is bound to consult the permanent interests of the Community—a future board is properly bound by the Acts of its predecessors when those acts are judged expedient for the public benefit. nothing is more common and more necessary than the adoption of measures of a permanent nature and such is the practice of every day. In all affairs which concern the property or the more important and durable Interests of the public it is necessary to look beyond the present hour, thus leases are granted for twenty one Years or for a longer period, how often have leases been renewed for several Year[s] before their expiration? Thus property is purchased or sold in fee, Thus an exclusive establishment is considered [272] as vested in Mr Willett for six years and inasmuch as it was necessary to provide a ferry the present board is properly bound by the Act of its predecessors though a far superior establishment could now be procured Thus likewise the ferry leased to Mr Willett was established by one Common Council and by them directed to be put into operation during the administration of another. When the building of a New City Hall was directed it was never mentioned as a valid objection to that measure that it could scarcely be commenced by the members who directed it and that it was legislating for many future boards. It was never deemed an impediment that it was anticipating the revenues of several Years over which the then members could have no controul and engaging their Successors into unvoidable expenditures of an extent so great as to prevent other improvements which they perhaps might deem more necessary. It cannot be requisite to cite a greater variety of instances in support of a principle thus obvious—should such an objection be suffered to prevail. it would prevent every solid and substantial improvement. destroy the usefulness of the Corporation, and confine its powers within a very narrow sphere. Your Committee are convinced that it is the duty of the board to provide for the best and permanent interests of the City whether those interests are future or immediate and that if they should be convinced that the contemplated establishment is necessary they would not be justifiable in hazarding it by the Caprice of individuals the accidents of time or the vicissitude of events. It is plain to [273] Your Committee that nature has constituted that spot the best for a ferry—It will ever remain so—It is therefore necessary and proper to secure it—It was also mentioned to Your Committee as improper to determine the place of a New ferry before the expiration of the present Leases inasmuch as it may tend to diminish the value of the property of Mr Woodhull and Mr Willett and prevent them from selling their lots at as high a price as they might otherwise obtain

And your Committee are aware that this consideration furnishes the principal motive of their objection

The opinion of the Committee on this head has already been mentioned. The effect of a ferry upon the value of private property has been regarded by them as totally foreign to their enquiries. They have considered themselves as acting in behalf of the public, and as bound to promote the public interests satisfied that the spot proposed by the petitioners is by far the best and that [it] is the duty of the board to secure for public purposes while an opportunity exists. Your Committee have considered that a former Committee was desirous of obtaining it but could not procure the consent of the then proprietor that consent has now been obtained but it may hereafter be with drawn—the property may fall into the hands of infant proprietors who are unable to cede. ground to the public and indeed a variety of impediments might occur which would prevent the public from obtaining an establishment so essential to their accommodations under these circumstances, and acting with a view to [274] promote the general benefit. your Committee are decidedly of opinion that it is proper and necessary to secure the best establishment for the public while it is attainable.

Indeed the very reasoning which has been most strenuously urged in opposition to the immediate adoption of the measure. upon being duly investigated by your Committee appears to dictate a prompt decision.

Ferries are not established with a view to any effect upon private property but if they are calculated to increase its price. and if a conviction should exist that it will hereafter be necessary to change the place of their establishment. Justice and duty to the public most evidently dictate that instead of concealing such intention, notice should be given to the inhabitants. Why should Mr Woodhull and Mr Willett be permitted to dispose of property under an idea and with representations which this board are convinced to be fallacious?

The suspension of a measure which is deemed to be essential, lest it should diminish the value, or embarrass the sale of lots would in the opinion of the Committee render the board instrumental in the deceptions which might ensue. If therefore the board shall be of opinion that in the establishment of Ferries, it is bound to select the best place and that the place proposed by the petitioners is in reality the best it appears to Your Committee that the earliest publicity should be given to its intentions.

In a Case which is governed by principles so evident, your Committee deem it unnecessary to refer to precedent. Yet they may venture to appeal to the [275] ordinary practice of this board. there are several Wehauk ferries and several to Elizabeth town.

When it was found that one ferry to Brooklyn was not sufficient to accommodate the inhabitants, another was established from Catharine Slip to the vicinity of the same Brooklyn Wharf. Again Budds ferry was established between the Hoboken and Paulus hook ferries during the existence of their leases and though the establishment was in some measure the effect of a compromise the board in adopting the report expressly recognized the principle that it took no concern in the calculations of individuals but was governed by a "single eye" to the public interest. And it is further to be observed that in the very instance before the Committee the ferry at Corlaers hook was directed to be established more than a twelve month before it was to be put in operation.

Upon the subject of ferries generally an idea has been suggested which deserves the serious and deliberate attention of this board. It has been asserted with great probability that the only effectual method of accommodating the public is by the creation of rival establishments. The competition produced by jealous and hostile interests, it has been reasonably supposed will afford the public a choice, and prevent those impositions which are frequently practised when the power of accommodation is vested in a single man, should this idea hereafter receive the sanction of the Common Council, it will be optional with the board at the expiration of the present Leases to maintain both establishments But if, they should then consider [276] the present ferry to be so inferior in point of situation as to be incapable of being supported Your Committee upon a due consideration of the subject. and to prevent any complaint of hardship. are of opinion that it would be proper to restore to Mr Woodhull and Mr Willett the property they have ceded. together with all improvements thereon.

The present petitioners have offered to cede to the public a lot of ground at the foot of Grand Street together with sufficient ground on the opposite shore to erect thereon sufficient accommodations for the ferry and to surrender the same to the board for public purposes upon receiving a lease similar to that made to Woodhull and Willett and commencing at its expiration—Your Committee consider such proposition to be fair and reasonable and that it would conduce to the public interest to accede to it. but they recommend that an immediate cession of the ground be directed in order to prevent any accidents which might intervene to deprive the public of the establishment.

In presenting this report. Your Committee offer to the board the result of their reflections upon a full and impartial examination of the subject referred to them while they have patiently attended to the Claims of individuals whose private interests are supposed to be concerned and while they have been anxious to despense strict and equal justice to each of those individuals they have been particularly studious to promote the public interest and to perform the duties with which they are more immediately intrusted They might indeed have [277] observed that Mr Cannon one of the petitioners is the oldest settler at Corlaers hook. that he has kept a ferry at that place near fifty Years. and had been led to form a reasonable expectations that whenever a regular ferry was established the first lease would have been granted to him, but the pretensions of Mr Cannon on the one side and those of Mr Willet on the other, in the opinion of your Committee are alike immaterial and should equally Yield to those measures which the substantial and general interest of the public requires.

Another objection was also stated in the Counter petition as considerable stress appears to have been the principal ground of objection with many of the petitioners. Your Committee have thought it worthy of a particular reply. This objection is that the proprietors of the Turnpike would sustain material injury and that the neighbouring Inhabitants would be put to considerable expences in altering their fences in consequence of the diversion of the Road. This objection appears to your Committee to be altogether ill founded for in the first place it is obvious that an improvement of the ferry will increase the travelling on the road and so far from injuring will considerably benefit the proprietors of the Turnpike. Secondly Mr Morrell has stipulated that he will cede a public road equal in breadth to the Turnpike to communicate with it and to form a continuation to his landing of consequence the Turnpike itself would become improved without [278] any inconvenience being sustained by the Inhabitants. and Your Committee also observe that the Turnpike would be rendered more conformable to the act by which it was established for by a recurrence to the act of 1803 constituting such Turnpike Company, it is found that they were directed to lay out and open the road in such a manner as to terminate at a place opposite or nearly opposite to Cannon Tavern by name this is not the case with respect to Woodhulls landing but is strictly so as it regards the landing of Morrell.

Mr Woodhulls in his verbal communication to the Committee also mentioned that he owned a landing superior to the present at a place termed the Drumpoint. and that is was his intention to erect a Wharf there this point which divides his land from that of Mr Morrells is at a very inconsiderable distance from the present ferry and is formed by the reef which has been already mentioned. it must always be liable to very great objection on account of the roughness of the water and no labour which can be bestowed upon it can render it equal in point of situation. safety and convenience to the land of Mr Morrell.

Your Committee have been thus particular in order that the reasons and motives which have governed their determination might be fairly presented to the board upon a full and impartial examination of the subject they are decidedly of opinion that the place proposed by the petitioners is by far the best [279] and most eligible for a permanent public ferry, and that as no sufficient obstracles exist to prevent its being established after the present leases terminates the public Interest requires that such establishment should take place.

Your Committee therefore recommend the following Resolutions.

Resolved that a ferry be established from the foot of Grand Street to the point of land belonging to Thomas Morrell at the opposite shore to commence from the expiration of the present leases granted to Mr Woodhull and Mr Willett and that a lease similar to that made to Woodhull and Willett be granted to Cannon and Morrell to commence from the termination of the leases of the present ferry upon their immediately ceding a lot of ground at the foot of Grand Street and suitable ground on the opposite Shore both to be selected by the Comptroller, undertaking to make suitable accommodations for the ferry and agreeing to surrender the possession of the same and all improvements thereto [to] the board at the expiration of their lease.

Resolved that if at the expiration of the present leases. the board should deem it inexpedient for the public interest to continue a ferry from Willetts Wharf to Long Island. that the property ceded to them by Woodhull and Willett be restored to the said Woodhull and Willett.

But if the reasoning contained in the proceeding Report should not be deemed conclusive by the Board there is a method of securing every contemplated advantage to the public upon such terms as to remove every dificulty and silence every possible objection provided the present Petitioners should agree to the same that is to direct the new Ferry, immediately to take place. and the public to have the immediate benefit of the Landings. and in order that Messrs Woodhull and Willett should have no pretence of complaining. that in addition to their present Lease a Lease of such new Landing shall also be granted to them during the present term without Rent. and to compensate the petitioners for their Grant to the board that a lease be granted to them commencing from the expiration of that of Woodhull and Willett By that means the public would have the immediate use of the ferry. Woodhull and Willett would receive an additional grant and no objection could be urged that it is and act of which the operation is to be in future though your Committee are inclined to prefer the resolution first offered in order to afford the petitioners time to make suitable improvements and accommodations Yet if this board should not think proper to concur with them in sentiment in that Case on account of the superior advantages of the situation and the necessity of securing it to the public. they would [281] offer the following Resolution.

Resolved that if the present petitioners for a New ferry from the foot of Grand Street to Morrells landing shall consent to such arrangement and make immediate cessions of a lot of land at the foot of the said Street and of suitable land on the opposite Shore that a New ferry be immediately established from the foot of Grand Street to Morrells point on the opposite Shore and that a lease of the said landing bee also granted to M^{r} Woodhull and M^{r} Willett without rent during the continuance of their present term and to compensate Cannon and Morrell for their Cession of ground that a similar lease be made to them commencing from the expiration of that of Woodhull and Willett upon their undertaking to furnish suitable accommodations to have the same ready at the Commencement of the lease granted to them and surrendering the same to the board at the expiration of their term But if the said Woodhull and Willett should refuse to accept of such grant that then a lease shall be made to Cannon and Morrell for Six Years to commence immediately upon their making such improvements and agreeing to surrender the same to the board at the expiration of their term

That it appears from the Books of the Corporation, that a balance of One thousand six hundred and eighty five Dollars and fifty five Cents. has remained due to the Corporation for the hire of the public Docks and Slips by the said Ash and Pearsee, since the first day of April 1799

It also appears that a suit was commenced by the Corporation against the said Ash and Pearsee several years since and no decision had. It further appears by the Petition of Messrs Ash and Pearsee. that sundry impediments have prevented them from obtaining the Docks Rents from several Individuals and that by the ordinances of the [286] Corporation certain Docks. and Slips have been taken from them by filling and other privations. The account exhibited for those privations is inadmissible in the opinion of your Committee, at least to its full amount.

The Committee to whom was referred the Communication of the Street Commissioner upon the subject of Straitening Magazine Street. beg leave to report

That they have examined the premises [305] and find that the regulation contemplated by the Street Commissioner is a very proper and necessary one. as it will add very much to the beauty of the Street. as well as convenience of the Inhabitants and can be done at a trifling expence there being no buildings in the way except a small Stable of but little value The ground that would be taken for this purpose principally belongs to the Corporation but as it would essentially benefit the whole Street. Your Committee are of opinion that it would be proper to take it by the usual mode of assessment

The Petition of Isaac Clason, referred to the Comptroller States two sources of grievance—The first is that he has erected a Pier into the East River on the East side of Charlotte Slip without any orders from the Corporation. which Pier forms one intire side of said Slip that the Dock master, Charles Smith has and still continues to collect the Wharfage of the Slip side of the said Pier where since it has been erected. The second, states that, for erecting the Bulk-head across the said Slip, he has been assessed between five and six hundred Dollars, and prays redress in the premises.

With respect to the first. It has been an established [308] rule and practice of the Corporation not to relinquish the Wharfage of the public Slips on either side; and no inducement has been discovered why in this instance they should yield this right, especially when it is considered that, by erecting and extending this Pier Mr Clason formed a Compleat Bason and safe harbour on the East side, which is wholly his property; and without having erected this Pier no Bason could have been formed, and his own Waters would have remained exposed to the Westerly Storms. Again the Corporation have rented to Charles Smith all the public Docks and Slips, and have so far put it out of their own power to grant Mr Clason the Wharfage on the Slip side. With respect to the over assessment for erecting the Bulk head, some considerable enquiry, and inspection, has been made. It appears that Mr Clason has a very large property on the East side of said Charlotte Slip, and extending from the river to Harman Street, all in the adjacent Neighbourhood of the place, and no fact has been discovered that the assessors should have rated Mr Clason more than an equitable portion according to the benefit received by him. as correct a view of the premises as could be made from bare inspection is hereunto subjoined

In addition to the former reports [313] upon the subject the Committee to whom was referred the several applications respecting the ferries at Corlaers hook report that the several parties interested therein have agreed to terms substantially the same with these which were recommended in the first report upon the subject and that satisfactory testimony has strengthened the conviction of the Committee that a ferry from Grand Street to Morrells point would proved a valuable accommodation to the public. The public will be benefitted by the acquisition of valuable Lots on both sides of the River—they will acquire the immediate use of the best landings and the progress of improvement in that part of the Town will be greatly facilitated and promoted by the constant and easy intercourse that will be afforded with Long Island with a view of submitting the question to the board in a specific shape the Committee beg leave to submit the following resolution in which they have been studious to attend to the public interest. and to prevent any misunderstanding which might hereafter place the rights of the board in question

Resolved that a ferry be, and the same is hereby established from the foot of Grand Street to Morrells point on Long Island, upon condition that Abraham Cannon immediately cede to this board in fee simple a suitable lot fronting on Grand Street and Thomas Morrell immediately cede in fee simple to the board two suitable Lots at the aforesaid point and that leases of the said ferry be granted [314] Marinus Willett and Richard M Woodhull during the continuance of their lease of the ferry from Willetts Wharf to Williamsburg. and to Abraham Cannon and Thomas Morrell for Six Years from and after the expiration of the aforesaid lease granted to Willett and Woodhull provided the said Abraham Cannon and Thomas Morrell shall erect good and convenient ferry Stairs and other proper accommodations for the said ferry and have the same in readiness by the commencement of their lease. and surrender the same to the board for the use of the public at the expiration thereof, and resolved further that the lease of the ferry from Willetts Wharf to Williamsburg granted to the said Willett and Woodhull be extended and enlarged for the space of six Years from the expiration of their present lease thereof, the said Lessees respectively always to remain subject and be bound to conform to such rules and regulations as the Common Council shall from time to time think proper to order and direct with respect to the number of men and boats to be employed. the qualifications and description of Men and boats. and in respect to every other particular*ly* which shall be deemed necessary for the better governing and conducting the said ferries. And likewise that a clause be inserted in the said leases that the board retain the right of instituting other ferries [315] and of licencing boats of [if] the public convenience should require it.

The following report was received to Wit.

The Committee to whom was referred the Resolution of the 24th June and the Report of the Comptroller, respecting White hall Slip and the pier on the West side for the accommodations of Hay and ferry Boats.

Reports, that having viewed the said Slip at Low Water, [they] are of opinion that it ought to be filled in about 25 feet, and the ferry stairs on the East side moved nearer the end; as the neighbours in the vicinity complain. that it is almost impossible for them to live there particularly when the Slip is bare and as we have been witnesses of the facts, We therefore recommend that the Street Commissioner be directed to advertise for estimates and report to this board with all convenient speed, [316] having also examined the pier on the West side, we find about 4 feet Water and upon further examination for upwards of 200 feet in the river, we found the depth of Water about 12 feet, the Committee are therefore of opinion that the said pier ought to be extended to the permanent Line with an L of 20 feet north Easterly as the water is very shole. and the expence would be but very trifling. when compared to the great accommodation it would aford to the vast number of boats resorting this Slip, and as the owners of the wharfs on the East side are only waiting for the pier now in contemplation to be run out. Your Committee are also of opinion that that the west side of the Slip ought to be exclusively for Hay boats, we are creditably informed that between 20 and 30 ferry Boats resort this Slip, would therefore recommend that the East side together with the L on the West side be for the sole use of the respective ferry boats, and the yearly revenue that will be received from the ferrys will no doubt be sufficient for to defray the expences.

[319] The following Report was received from the Comptroller to Wit.

The Comptroller begs leave respectfully to state to the Common Council—That the monies in the Treasury have been expended, and that Warrants issued by the board, have been accepted and paid by the Manhattan Company, amounting nearly to ten thousand Dollars which remain unredeemed.

It may be proper to remark that, from the unusual severity of the last winter, which called into exercise every charitable emotion, and a corresponding disposition to relieve the distresses of the poor, the Corporation took a lively interest in affording them relief; which occasioned the expenditure of [a] large sum of money. From this circumstance, the provision made for the last year has not been able to meet the demands on the Treasury.

It is believed that, four or six weeks will elapse before any resources can be expected from the newly assessed Tax. The sums remaining due from sundry individuals for Water Lot rents and other dues will give some relief from time to time. nevertheless it is believed adviseable that the Corporation take a loan from the Manhattan Company of twenty thousand Dollars, which may enable them to answer the demands against the board until relief can be had from the tax.

The following order is therefore recommended to the Board Viz. Ordered, that the [320] Comptroller under the direction of his Honor the Mayor negotiate a loan of the Manhatten Company for the sum of twenty thousand Dollars to be refunded in a reasonable time and that the Mayor be authorized to affix the seal of the Corporation to the above to be given for that purpose

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner.

The Street Commissioner has been frequently applied to for the determination of the Common Council relative to the plan he projected for improving the Bowery road; and it is with considerable reluctance he brings forward a subject which has already been reported upon by the Committee to whom it was referred; and he only feels himself excusable as the report has laid over for further consideration.

The Board will confer a considerable obligation upon the proprietors of Ground through which the road is to pass, if they revive the subject, and determine [331] upon the principle, "whether this plan is not preferable to the former, and if so, whether they determine to order it in that direction."

The difficulties which have arisen at the Common Council Board relative to the angular line near Mr Morris's may be left for future consideration, if the Board have not made up an opinion upon that particular, But the importance of a decision upon the whole Street ought not to depend upon such a small objection.

All which is respectfully Submitted

Ordered, that the same be confirmed.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner,

The Street Commissioner has the honor to represent, That he has been applid to by Mr Barrow in behalf of the Corporation of Trinity Church for permission to set their intended Brick Wall on the North Side of St Pauls Church one foot further in Vesey Street, to preserve a row of valuable trees unfortunately placed too near the present fence.

Vesey Street is about 64 feet wide, These trees are large & beautiful; and it would be a pity to cut them down. No inconvenience would result from granting the request, as the walks on that side of the Street will be [332] unincumbered with stoops or cellar doors.

The Street Commissioner understands from Mr Barrow that they will leave out an equal number of Square feet in Church Street, if this application is granted, or execute a Lease for the ground in Vesey Street subject to an annual moderate quit rent, and for a determined period.

If it is not altogether inconsistent to suffer this encroachment on the Street The Street Commissioner hopes he will be excused by offering his opinion, that the application of the Corporation of Trinity Church ought to be complied with.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner,

The Comptroller, & Street Commissioner to whom it was referred to treat with Mess: Laurance & King for ten feet of ground to widen Leonard Street, from Broadway to Elm Street have the honor to report,

That they have had several conversations with those gentlemen on that subject, and that the lowest offer they have been able to procure was an actual Sale to the Corporation upon [333] the same terms the ground on the other side of Broadway was attained from Mr Quackenboss (which was at the rate of twenty three hundred dollars for about One hundred & Sixty feet) & that they be released from any assessment the Corporation may impose to raise the money

Your Committee have calculated the price now demanded to exceed Five Thousand dollars and as they are of opinion, it is too much, considering the advantages a wide Street will be to the residue of these gentlemens property, they have informed them that they declined to report favorably of their proposals.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the ten feet of Ground from Broadway to Elm Street (including some belonging to the Corporation) be taken by the usual mode; which Messr Laurance & King have no Objection to.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner,

The Street Commissioner to whom it was referred to Treat with the Heir of Mr Frederick Rhinelander for the Lot of ground on the North side of Jay Street, has the honor to report,

That he has called several times on Mr Rhinelander his son & Heir to Know what he was willing to take for his right in the premises [334] to be taken to widen Jay Street without being able to obtain from him a definitive answer. That Mr Rhinelander has no objection that the same be taken by assessment and has deferred building in consequence of this contemplated improvement.

The Street Commissioner has made some enquiry, and consulted Mr Harrison relative to Mr Rhinelanders Title, from which it appears Mr Rhinelander purchased upon a Forty foot Street and That he has a fee simple claim to the lot in question. It is therefore the Opinion of the Street Commissioner that a precept ought to issue to take it by the usual mode.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner

The Street Commissioner represents to the Board that the house erected to cover the floating engine at the bottom of Roosevelt Street stands several feet into front Street, and it will be necessary to remove it further into the river to enable the dock Builders to sink a Block to form Front Street agreeably to the order of the 27. day of may last.

The Corporation owning the ground [335] adjoining Roosevelt Street on the West Side, are bound (as an individual in the like cases) to make half of front Street, as mentioned in the Ordinance. Mr Beekman, Mr Agnew, Mr Miller, & Mr Franklin, who own the Lots contiguous to this spot are willing to unite with the Common Council to carry out the blocks together and fill in the same by contract. Each person to contribute in proportion to their front, and to the quantity of ground to be covered: And have applied for the consent of the Common Council to the plan.

As it will cost considerably less money to do this collectively, there is no doubt in the mind of the Street Commissioner that the Common Council will comply; and he asks their permission to unite in the Contract as aforesaid.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner and Comptroller.

The Comptroller and Street Commissioner to whom the petition of John Murray was referred, have the honor to report,

That they have examined the premises mentioned by the petitioner, and find they are inconveniently situated for commerce and within the permanent line.

That as front Street has been Ordered, to be made to the West Side of James's Slip; it would not be improper to extend the line to [342] Catharine Slip; but that it would be improper so to do, unless additional peirs were made to protect the Shipping.

Your reporters, are however of Opinion that the proprietors ought to petition the Corporation, (if there is a majority of them inclined to this measure) to extend their peirs as aforesaid. And that when such petition is preferred, it ought to be granted, Provided they would engage to abide by the regulations of the Common Council; as to the position of said Piers, take out their grants within three months after the Corporation may fix the prices thereon & pay the quits on said grant from the date of their petition.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner to wit.

The Street Commissioner to whom was referred the petition of Garret B Abeel and relative to an assessment for intersections of James Slip and Water Street, has the honor to report,

That the report of a Committee upon the petition of Abraham Stagg on the 13. of February last, recommending that the prayer of the petitioner to be paid for having said intersections be granted, was agreed to by the Board, and an [343] Ordinance was passed in conformity thereto, to assess the amount thereof upon the inhabitants benefited thereby.

It appears to the Street Commissioner that this Committee did not advert to the situation of ground for which M^{r} Stagg was to be paid; for they have allowed him for the intersection at the same rate he did the rest of the Street including brick and curbstone; when it is plain it ought to have been much less; as neither brick or Curbstone are included in the space for which he claimed compensation.

By a law of the State, passed in April 1801, the Corporation are to be charged with one third of the expence of improving the Public

Slips This has been omitted by the assessors in the case before us; but with no good reason as this intersection fronts the head of the Slip, and the open space between the Slip and Cherry Street, containing about seventy feet, along the Slip by thirty five feet in breadth, as stated in the petition.

It is only certain that if this work had been done separately from Mr Staggs Contract it would not have cost above one hundred dollars, but by the statement, it is estimated at Dolls 184.90—besides expences of assessing and Collecting.

The Street Commissioner is therefore of the Opinion, that as the Corporation are bound to pay one third, and the assessment is far beyond a reasonable sum for the work that has been done. The Common Council ought to pay one half of the above, to wit, Dolls, 92.45, toward [344] the said assessment.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner.

The Street Commissioner to whom the petition of John Vreelandt and others, was referred, praying that an Ordinance might be passed to brick the walks of the Bowery road, has the honor to report.

That an Ordinance has been passed, to order that portion of the Bowery to be filled in with gravel, & curbstones laid; and that a contract had been made with Messrs Gosman and McComb to do the Work previous to the reference of the above mentioned petition. That if an Ordinance was now to be passed, to fill in the walks with sand, it would not only delay the execution of the work until very late in the Fall, but so materially interfere with the contract already made with Gosman and McComb, as to produce great confusion with the workmen [353] and great difficulty in apportioning the Assessments

That he has consulted Messrs Gosman and Macomb and finds they will be willing to substitute sand in the place of the Gravel, and lay the walks for such of the proprietors as wish it, at a fair price to be agreed upon between them, without the necessary interference of the Corporation.

The Street Commissioner believes under these circumstances, that the prayer of the petitioners, so far as it relates to the compulsotary measure of the Common Council, ought not to be granted; But that they be recommended to agree with the present Contractors, to make the desired alteration.

A Petition of Benjamin Page and others for the regulation of Hammond Street, was referred to the Street Commissioner.

The following report was received from the road Committee, to wit,

The Road Committee, agreeably to the tenor of a resolution of the 12th of August last, directing them to procure a profile of the Middle road, with a view to a permanent regulation thereof, and to report how much ought to be completed this season; have the honor to make the following partial,

Report,

That in consequence of the absence of the Surveyors, and the sudden appearance of Malignant Fever, they have not yet been able to obtain a complete survey of the Middle road, but they herewith submit a profile of about 1600 feet [371] between the Bridge near the powder house and William Ogden's gate; which they are of opinion deserve the first attention; and is as much as it is probable can be compleated before the ensuing winter.

The regulating red line on the profile cuts down more of the Hill than might be supposed necessary on a slight view of the premises, and this opinion might be supported by a remark, that a faint black line on the profile, which is considerably steeper, is the ascent usually given to hills on a Turnpike. In opposition to this it must be taken into consideration, that although the ascents of the turnpike hills (which are 8 or 9 inches on 10 feet) are sufficiently small to answer the purpose of slow carting in the country, they would be found extremely inconvenient near the City when the passage of carriages are so frequent, and that it is beyond a question that the hill will soon be sunk to that level, if it is not now done. It is further to be observed that the proposed regulation (being above 4½ inches on 10 feet) is a very considerable ascent [372] for a continued line of that length, and that it can be dug down cheaper by one operation, that [than] by detached periods.

The Committee believe that a considerable sum may at this time be saved in the expence of this road if as many of the men at Bellevue Gate that are able were employed at such wages as the Street Commissioner in his discretion may suppose they merit, after deducting therefrom a reasonable charge for their diet; The Street Commissioner represents that there are 15 or 20 at that place who are willing to engage in this way, and may be the means of rendering them a real service, while it will be an easy and cheap method of affecting this object.

The Committee intended in a short time to explore the road generally and report what further repairs are in their opinion necessary at this period: But they believe no time ought to be lost in com*menced*[ing] that above mentioned. They therefore propose the subjoined [373] resolutions relative to that subject.

September 30th 1805

Resolved, that the Middle road from the Bridge near the powder house, to W^m Ogdens Gate being a distance of 1586 feet be regulated with a regular ascent of four inches and five hundredths of an inch on every ten feet, conformably to a red line on a profile thereof made by Charles Loss, and dated the twenty fourth instant. To effect which the following alterations will be necessary, Viz; At 100 feet north of the Bridge, it will require 5 feet 6 inches filling, thence 120 feet further requires 6 feet filling, thence 200 feet further it requires 5 feet, 6 inches, thence 100 feet further it requires 3 feet 6 inches filling; then[c]e 80 feet further it remains as it now is, thence 60 feet further it requires 2 feet 6 inches, digging thence 125 feet further it requires 9 feet, 9 inches digging thence 162 feet further it requires 15 feet 4 inches, digging thence 260 feet further it requires 9 feet 9 inches, digging thence 150 feet further it requires 6 feet 9 inches, digging thence 230 feet further at M^r Ogdens gate it is to remain as it is now

Resolved that the Street Commission [374] Commissioner be directed to employ the men now accomodated at Bellevue gate and other persons as he may find necessary to regulate the portion of the Middle road described in the preceding resolution.

Ordered, that the same be confirmed and the resolutions thereby recommended passed accordingly.

Report,

Of the Committee of the Board of Health on the Subject of enumerating the inhabitants of this City.

The Committee to whom it was referred. to consider the expediency of taking an enumeration of the inhabitants who remained in the City during the late epidemic, report,

That they believe such an enumeration to be important & desirable, for the [394] following reasons. Because it will supply the only means of calculating the extent, virulence & ravages of the disease and of estimating the danger which must have arisen from a longer continuance of the inhabitants in the more exposed parts of the City.

Because the result will materially aid the selection of the safest situations in the City, in the event of a similar epidemic hereafter, will beget confidence in the healthfulness of such situations, and thereby will serve to diminish the evils and inconveniences of a general flight and a total suspension of Business.

Because there is much reason to believe it will result from such an enumeration that the mortality in the City was far less, in proportion to the number of People, than has been generally supposed, and certainly less than took place in many Districts of the Surrounding Country.

Because, as a medical document, this enumeration will Supply one, of a number of important data on which alone physicians will be enabled accurately to compare the Character of the late [395] epidemic with former ones of a similar kind as well as with such as may occur hereafter, and thereby to Deduce inferences of a practical & perhaps of a very interesting nature.

And finally, Because in the future developements of this pestilence, applications and uses of an important kind may grow out of such a Document, of which the present state of knowledge does not warrant the expectation.

To obviate any reasonable Objection as to the expence that may attend this enumeration, Your Committee would suggest that the persons to be appointed by the 12th Section of the Jury Act, for making and returning a list of proper persons to serve as jurors, and which, by the directions of the said act is necessary to be made about this period, should, in the execution of that duty make the enumeration required, which can add very little to the expence of making, and returning the list of Jurors,

Signed, E Miller,
James Fairlie

Resolved that the Cross road commonly called Bridgens road from its intersection with the middle road be run and opened to the Hudsons River on the north side of the Cove between the property of Mr Norton and Mr Rapalje and as nearly in a straight line as practicable, so as to escape the dwellings and other valuable improvements of Mr Norton

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner, to wit. The Street Commissioner to whom was referred the Communication of Mr Jones relative to Streets near the two Mile stone has the honour to report

That he does not find that the Common Council have ever laid out, adopted or proposed any Streets [426] in the block encompassed by Broadway, Art Street the Bowery and Bleecker Street which includes the ground delineated on the plan presented by Mr Jones.

Since the reference of Mr Jone's communication he has consented to alter his plan to meet a regulation of Minthorne Street proposed by Alderman Minthorne, and the subject as it is agreed to by these Gentlemen stands thus.

1. That Minthorne Street be made 75 feet from the Bowery to be taken from the South side and to be opened free of expence, to the Corporation by Alderman Minthorne to Orchard Street

2. That the Street proposed by Mr Jones to be called Jones Street be 75 feet South of his Northerly corner on the Bowery and be opened 75 feet wide to Broadway. By this regulation Minthorne Street and Jones Street will come out opposite each other in the Bowery

3 That a Street proposed by Mr Jones to be called Bond Street be opened 70 feet wide from the Bowery to Broadway parallel to Jones Street and two hundred feet South of it

The Street Commissioner believes it will be a good regulation and recommends the acceptance of these cessions

The distance from the Bowery to Broadway at Bleecker Street is more than One thousand feet but at Art Street not more than 400 It will be too large and inconvenient to have blocks of the extent of the first Street, and as it is necessary to stop several streets at Bleecker Street It is recommended to continue the Center Street [427] called Mulberry (or Catherine Street) to Art Street and parallel to Broadway. it will then divide the block described in equal parts. This plan has been submitted to Mr David Jones who thinks well of it but cannot determine to give cession without first consulting his father. Upon examining the City Map it will be seen that Bleecker Street comes out in the Bowery too far Southerly. It could be altered to suit public convenience without any reasonable objection. It is therefore proposed that it be run from the Bowery more northerly until it comes out in Broadway at a point opposite to the Mouth of David Street continued to that Street by this alteration there will be almost a straight communication from the East River to the State Prison and it will be more parallel to the Streets to the North and South of it

Agreeably to an order of the Board in September the Street Commissioner has caused a Survey of the Block between Bleecker and

Prince Streets, which is herewith presented, and he recommends that a Street be opened from Broadway to the Bowery through the said Block to the points and in the direction of the red lines drawn upon the said survey And that the said Street be at least fifty feet wide and if it is not materially more expensive that the same be of the width of Sixty feet.

All which is respectfully submitted,

December 16. 1805 John S Hunn. St Commissr

A report of the Comptroller on the petition of Abraham Brevoort for a renewal of his lease was referred to Alderman Van Zandt, King, and Mr Hegeman

The following report was received from the Comptroller, respecting the settlement of the Mayors accounts. I do Certify that I have examined the accounts of De Witt Clinton Esquire Mayor of the City, for Tavern licences issued by him from 1 November 1804 to 1 November 1805. That 1698 Licences have been issued at 3 $^{75}/_{100}$ each, amounting as appears [454] by the account current within stated to $6367.$^{50}/_{100}$ The within account current exhibits sundry charges being expenditures in the issuing of said Licenses amounting to $233 $^{9}/_{100}$ leaving a balance of $6134 $^{41}/_{100}$. By agreement the Mayor retains 112½ Cents on each license amounting to $1910.$^{25}/_{100}$ leaving a neat balance of $4224 $^{16}/_{100}$ in favour of the Corporation which sum has been paid by the Mayor into the City Treasury excepting $100. I do further Certify that I have examined the returns rendered to the Mayor by the Clerks of the several Markets, for the neat amount of Fees, and that it appears $6644.$^{50}/_{100}$ has been received from 5 November 1804 to 2 November 1805 as appears by the within account current together with an estimate annexed. The Mayor has retained the one half of the Market fees to his own use and paid the remaining one half into the City Treasury being $3322 $^{25}/_{100}$. It therefore appears that the Mayors accounts are fully adjusted with the Corporation respecting the several sums of money received by him on Tavern licenses and Market fees. As the same is more particularly stated in the within account current, excepting $100 which remain due to the Corporation on the Tavern Licence account

The following report was received to wit The Committee appointed to examine the Attorney's accounts and fix upon the principle as respects his charges have the honour to submit the following.

It appeared by examination of the former Attorney of the Corporation accounts that he received one half the fines sued for and recovered.

Such rate of allowance does not appear to be correct, inasmuch as in some cases of [459] the same nature in principle, different degrees of labour and attention are necessary on the part of the Attorney.

The present Attorney is willing to receive as a compensation Two dollars in each case of complaint, where the fine is under $25 and in cases under the charter for selling liquor he thinks himself entitled to Five dollars for each case, and in all cases for twenty five Dollars

The following report was received from the Committee of Finances

[495] The Committee of Finance with great solicitude have seriously reflected on the present arrangement respecting the disposition of the public property

This subject embraces three leading and important considerations. The first is—The improvement of the City and suburbs in such parts of it, where the public property is situate. The second is. To secure to the public a reasonable compensation from the Tenants, and the third is, to reconcile the inhabitants on the public Estate. as far as may be consistant with justice, and the public expectation from this Board as trustees of the general interest.

It was supposed that the arrangements, and disposition of the public property the last Year, embraced the above stated important objects. The Common Council however have supposed that, an improvement on the plan of the last Year would be made, by disposing of the public property at auction.

It is therefore only necessary to state, what we have done already, in the prosecution of the plan, for the disposal of the public Estate. We have instituted a valuation, and appointed the time when this property shall be disposed of at public auction, and what remains to be determined is, the terms on which the Leases shall be granted

With respect to the property in Town—The Committee after the most mature reflection recommend that, the conditions and terms of the Leases be as follows—Viz

The Leasees or their Successors or assigns, shall, [496] before the expiration of twenty one years, erect good & substantial Brick buildings, covered with Slate or tile, of at least two Stories high, besides the Garret, from the Ground sills thereof to the plates. That if buildings as aforesaid shall be erected, the Mayor Aldermen & Commonalty. shall again Lease to the person or persons who may hold the original Lease (at the end of the term) the said premises for a subsequent term of twenty one Years, on such terms and conditions as shall at that day be agreed upon between the parties or as shall be determined by two sworn appraisors, one of whom to be chosen by each of the parties, and in case of non-agreement they to choose a third—Unless the Corporation at that day shall choose to dispose of the public property at Auction. in such case—a fair valuation shall be made of the Buildings and improvements by sworn appraisors are to be chosen by the Corporation and the other by the Leasee in manner aforesaid. And if it shall so happen that buildings as above mentioned shall not have been erected, at or before the expiration of the term of twenty one years—that, in such case the owner or owners shall remove the same within ten days. It is also recommended that when any of the present buildings shall be taken down, or otherwise removed that. no buildings shall be erected other than mentioned above.

That in all cases when Leases expire which shall be given in pursuance of the above plan, it is expressly understood that—it shall be optional with [497] the Corporation, either to take the buildings and improvements at a fair valuation as aforesaid or to grant a further term in the manner and form above stated. That the usual clauses and provisors be also stipulated in the said leases, that the Tenant or tenants shall pay all assessments impositions &c which may be levied and raised on the said property during the term.

Your Committee believe that the above recommended plan, fully embraces the three above stated important objects and considerations. That while it gives encouragement and security to persons who shall purchase leases on the public property—at the same time holds the controll of the public Estate under the direction of the Corporation at the expiration of any term.

The following report was received from the Street Commissioner (respecting Division Street)

The Street Commissioner has the honor to represent to the Board that it is necessary for them to determine the sum they are willing to pay towards the repairing Division Street. in order that an Ordinance may pass for the residue—It is unpleasant to the Street Commissioner to call up this affair so often, as it is unjust the Corporation should pay the whole of the expence of repairing that Street, but the Contractor ought to have balance due him & it only remains for the Board to [539] deside upon the sum to be assessed.

Two thirds of the expence of the Carriage way was recommended to be Charged to the Corporation but even if they consent to pay the whole of the Carriage Way—There must be an assessment upon the people for the Curb & Walks—which they are satisfied with & will pay if it is so ordered by the board—The Street Commissioner hopes this will be decided to day, that he may present the ordinance on monday next.

The following report was received from the finance Committee

The finance Committee to whom was referred the letter of the Treasurer, respecting the monies [46] to be collected from Streets by assessments

Reports

That the practice under the former Street Commissioner D^r^ Brown was that the respective Collectors. were ordered to pay the several

Contractors from time to time such sums of money as they collected, in proportion as the work progressed; and when the Contract was compleated and examined by the Street Commissioner the Contractor received the whole of his Money from the Collector

The present Street Commissioner having altered the mode of paying the Contractors and having already opened a set of Books respecting Streets, as recommended by the Treasurer—Your Committee are of opinion on reconsidering the subject that it will be most adviseable to place the operations on this subject, in the mode already arranged by the Street Commissioner, as his Books will at all times be ready for any examination the Board may direct. The Committee on investigating this subject do not discover the necessity of keeping any Books on this subject—if the assessments were regularly filed all the purposes would be, in their opinion answered

They however have no objection to the mode arranged by the present Street Commissioner

The following report was received from the Committee to whom was referred the report of the City Inspector.

The City Inspector has the honor to present draft of Ordinances for the purpose of removing sundry nuisances from N° 2530 to 2540 inclusive, which in his opinion ought to be passed by the Common Council.

M^r Roome to whom was referred the subject of Bell carts reports the proposals of [72] Enos Tomkins and the arrangement that can be made by him to cleanse the Streets adjoining the public Markets on Sundays and the removal of Dead carcases &^ca which is submitted

The privies of the Alms house are in an abominable state of nuisance and require immediate attention. On consultation with the Superintendants of the Alms house and repairs, it appears practicable to construct new privies in such manner as to discharge the contents by means of the common sewer through Chamber Street into the North river, which may be sufficiently scoured by means of the almost constant flow of Water from the pumps of the Alms house to keep them clean—The plan appears so extremely feasible as to deserve the experiment—in which case the yard of the Alms house will be kept pure and wholesome otherwise it must progressively become a sink of pollution, should new vaults be opened as the old ones are filled

City Inspector John Pintard
office May. 12. 1806

The Committee to whom that part of the within report relating to the foul state of the sinks in the alms house Yard was referred, recommend—That sinks in the Vicinity of those Complained of and of the [73] same size be immediately constructed and Masoned up with Stone and Mortar and as soon as possible. That the present necessary houses be put over them, and the old sinks be filled up with unslack'd lime, and covered over

The Committee are of opinion That the filth will be so neutralized by the lime That it may be removed without inconvenience before the new sinks are filled. June 16th 1806

An application of Dr Hosack stating that there was an overcharge of interest on his Bond was referred to the Comptroller

The following report was received from the Attorney of the Board

The Attorney of the Board to whom was referred the Petition of James Halliday, Thomas McConaghy, Augustus Lawrence, & John Gilman praying to be indemnified, against the demands of Peter Lorrillard for the Rent of Lots leased by them. of him in Canal Street

Reports

That in his Opinion the claims of which the petitioners are apprehensive are unfounded and consequently [74] that there is nothing to indemnify them against Perhaps it may be said by these

'Gentleman, if the Corporation hazard nothing by granting us the Prayer of our petition, it is of Course at most a nugatory Act, and cannot involve them, while it will essentially relieve us from what we are informed by Counsel may possibly happen—With as much propriety might it be demanded of a Grantor to Warrant the Grantee against the tortious and illegal acts of Strangers while in the Case now under consideration this Consequence might result, in addition to the trouble of drawing & executing the required instrument of indemnity, the claims of Mr Lorrillard might receive a stronger Colour of propriety and foundation from the Circumstance that the petitioners would eventually be relieved against them. or the petitioners might be rendered less assiduous in repelling them It cannot be determined what might be the Extent of this Consideration either on the minds of a Court and Jury or on the applicants But certain it is, in respect to the former, that individuals are Viewed and dealt with in a more favorable manner than the public. and in respect to the latter considered as individuals, it may with much appearance of probability be said that security might lead to inactivity on their part, it will follow then that the Corporation ought not, unless for very strong & conclusive reasons [75] to interfere in a Case like the present—In order to determine this the more satisfactorily, the following Concise statement of facts is presented.

Mr Lorrillard is intitled to the reversion in fee of the 4 Lots in Canal Street spoken of by the petitioners, he having granted Leases of them respectively for the Term of 20 Years from the 1st of May last, to the Petitioners—Sometime since a Jury was summoned pursuant to the act for laying out Streets, to value such parts of these Lots, as were required for the opening of Canal Street The Jury were sworn and gave in their Verdicts which it must be Supposed were Satisfactory to Mr Lorrillard as he did not move for a new Inquest—The Directions then of the Act, in respect to Mr Lorrillard have been complied with. what these Directions are will be seen from the following Extract. "Which Jury shall inquire of and assess such damages and recompence as they shall under all the circumstances Judge fit to be awarded to the Owner or Owners of such ground for their respective losses according to their several interests and Estates therein" Some time after similar proceedings were had respecting the Petitioners, the Lessees of the same lots. They say they are satisfied with the Verdicts But complain of their liability to Mr Lorrillard for the whole Rent of the Lots, and his threat to inforce such liability—It remain[s] therefore to be seen whether such liability exists. Mr [76] Lorrillard has received a Valuation according to his Interest and Estate in the Premises.

The Attorney of the Board cannot state what were the calculations of the Jury on the subject. But on principle, Mr Lorrillards Claim is unquestionably extinguished—He demands rent, now Rent is defined to be a certain profit issuing yearly out of Lands and Tenements. It Constitutes therefore a part of his Interest & Estate, and according to his Interest and Estate, the Valuation must be presumed to have proceded—He has therefore received a satisfaction, in legal Contemplation, for the Rent which he now makes the subject of demand

But upon a broader View of the subject and without reference to technical definitions Mr Lorrillard must be supposed to be compensated by the verdict of the Jury, to the full Value of his Estate in the premises—so that what he was worth in Land is now made up to him in Money

The Jury must have considered their Verdict in this point of view, or they could not have supposed that they were allowing him such damages & recompence as were fit to be under all the Circumstances to be awarded to him—But supposing for a moment that Complete Justice had not been done to Mr Lorrillard still the Lessees have nothing to apprehend from his demand of rent because their being deprived of the Land by force of the Act referred to, must be considered [77] as tantamount and equivalent to an Eviction at Common Law, in which Case the rent ceases of Course and the plea of Eviction is a good bar to the action for rent

The injustice of the demand apprehended by the Petitioners is strikingly evident in asmuch as the Lessor has been paid for the Ground its full Value (this must be supposed) which becomes the principal in his hands. And can be put out & Interest secured upon it, in addition to which he proposes to demand Rent or Interest at the hands of his ejected Lessees, thus making double interest out of the same sum—A proceeding in which he cannot reasonably expect to be sanctioned by any Court or any principle of Justice—From these Considerations the Undersigned has the Honor to recommend that the petitioners have leave to with draw their petition—It may be proper to state that Mr Harrison Counsel of the Board concurs in this recommendation

The following report was received upon the petition of Nicholas Romaine to wit.

The Street Commissioner and Comptroller to whom was referred the petition of Nicholas Romaine, dated 28 July 1806, beg leave to report.

First, that it appears from the minutes of the board of 30 August 1801, that the said Nicholas Romaine had complied with all the regulations of the Corporation, and that nothing more remained to be required of him [200] on that subject, and that from a report signed J Bogart, entered on the minutes, it was the opinion of the Reporter, that a grant be made to the said Nicholas Romayne for the part of his land from high to low water mark, on such terms and conditions, as is customary in that part of the City—The consideration of this report was postponed, until Mr Strong was appointed Comptroller. then on the 29 November 1802, the then Comptroller Mr Strong to whom it was referred to fill up the blanks for granting water lots to Nicholas Romayne, with the proper sums, intimated to the board, that it would be proper to charge an annual quit rent and no other consideration, and it was thereupon ordered, that the water lots from high to low water mark which extends to Front Street be granted to Nicholas Romayne he paying 40 cents per foot along his whole front for ever and that in case the said front be made a slip he the said Nicholas Romaine relinquish the right of wharfage, it is presumed that as usual the Corporation in that case would pay the expence of front Street.

Secondly it appears that the facts stated in the said petition (and herewith presented) are well founded, that the petitioner is subject to inconvenience from sundry resolutions, which would prevent the necessity of the considerations of the report made by Alderman Bogert respecting reserving this front for a Slip. There is now a large [201] and extensive slip made and reserved adjoining and east of the land of the said Nicholas Romayne. Therefore the Street Commissioner and Comptroller recommend that the grant to front Street be made to the said Nicholas Romayne upon the present established price of quit rent from high to low water mark which is fifty cents per foot per annum and that he have the right of wharfage in front in the stead of the forty cents per foot recommended to be paid by former reports.

A return from Captain Lawrence's watch Company was referred to the Watch Committee

A proposal of John T. Crane and Samuel Hutchings to cleanse the Streets was referred to the City Inspector

A petition of Andrew Ross and Thomas Duvall respecting the regulation of Crosby Street was referred to the Street Commissioner

A petition of Stephen Gould to obtain the printing business of the Corporation was referred to the City [257] Inspector

A petition of William Post for a grant of the stand No 59 Fly Market was received and granted

A petition of Caleb Fordham and others for a pump in Bedlow Street between Charlotte and East Rutgers Streets was granted on the usual terms under the directions of the Alderman and assistant of the Seventh ward

A representation was received from Mr Macomb that Johnson and Stevens stand in need of an advance of $3000 upon their Contract for Marble ordered that the same be made upon their giving proper security to be approved by the building Committee—that $1000 parcel thereof be immediately paid and the residue when convenient to the board

The following report was received from the Committee relative to the Piers at White Hall Slip

The Committee appointed to Superintend the Erecting of Piers between the Exchange & White Hall Slips have the Honor to—Report that the questions offered to Mr Harison by the Street Commissioner together with his answers have been shewn to Mr Coles who has Consented to Contribute his proportion towards the piers upon the following principles

1t That the Ell projecting Easterly from the west pier be paid for and the wharfage thereof be considered the Exclusive right of the proprietors in the same [258] manner as is agreed with respect to the Center pier

2 That the Corporation relinquish their right to half the Wharfage at the Ends of the Piers in consideration of Mr Coles & Mr Goelet relinquishing their claim to damages for receding from the Slip. the half of the End of said Piers to be the Exclusive right of the said Coles & Goelet

3 That the Corporation receive the Wharfage on the Slip sides and the proprietors all the residue according to their several interests which several interests shall in this case be determined by the width of their respective fronts and in all cases the width of the Street leading to the river or such parts thereof as hath been made by the owners of the Corner lots shall be added to said Corner Lots

The Committee are aware that Mr Harisons Opinion respecting the interests of the several proprietors is different from the above propositions which are founded upon the Statement C Mr Harison having decided in favor of the Statement A But it ought to be understood that the law upon which he founded his opinion supposes or may be deemed to suppose the term of the water rights and the Expence of making the water into land to be in proportion to the width of their several fronts Whereas it is clear that the corner lots on Slips or Streets have been Obliged to expend a Considerable additional sum The proposition of Mr Coles is therefore to put the Corner lots upon an Equal footing as to their payments [259] & interest in the revenue with the other proprietors

The proposition of Mr Coles to give up his claim to damages for the Bulk head and Waters and take as an Equivalent the half of the End of the Pier claimed by the Corporation appears to the Committee to be such as the Corporation ought to comply with; for they will receive a front on the Slip of Twenty feet in lieu of fifteen feet and the End of the pier & thereby be released from a difficult and doubtful settlement of damages which might be attended with the Expences of a suit at Law

The committee having taken up this subject in various points of View and believing that further delay will increase the difficulties of settlement recommend that the Corporation Accede to the propositions now made as a permanent adjustment of this affair. There does not appear any disposition in the other proprietors hostile to this mode of settlement and the Committee know of no objection to it except that Mr Goelet has not been Consulted in this particular But as he has uniformly refused to contribute the Corporation may be considered his Successor and they will consequently have to advance towards the piers already built for his rights &c therein $603 $^{35}/_{100}$ which the Committee recommend to be paid to the Contractors And that Mr Goelet have Six months to refund the money to be advanced by the Corporation on paying interest for the same and that the Street Commissioner give him notice accordingly.

ise the Board in affording her pecuniary relief out of the ordinary course and that she be referred to the proper Officers in case she should be disposed to make an application as a pauper Ordered that the said report be confirmed

Upon receiving the report of the Committee to whom was referred the petition of *John Hunter and others and also the petition of Fire Company N° 1 Resolved that the New Engine House made or making for Fire Engine N° 1 be set up and [261] Established until the further order of the Common Council at the place where the old one now Stands and under the direction of the Chief Engineer

The Committee appointed to examine into the State of the Public funds presented the following report

The Committee that was appointed to enquire into the State of the Public Funds. Report. That by the City Treasurers Cash account given on the 26 Dec^r last there was in the Treasury $2733 $^{26}/_{100}$ and warrants had been drawn previous to that date upon the Treasury which had not been paid to the amount of $2550 $^{5}/_{100}$ consequently the actual balance due from the Treasury at that time was only $183 $^{21}/_{100}$

The Committee further report. there has been Collected of the new Tax $37.471 $^{87}/_{100}$

The amount of debts which the Corporation owe the Committee have not been able to ascertain with that Exactness they could wish. The Comptroller's Books do not furnish the necessary information but they have learned from other sources that the Corporation owe to the Manhattan Bank for money loaned (the principal and interest) amounting to $102.715 $^{80}/_{100}$ that they owe upon Bonds given to Individuals after deducting what money has been already paid on them $44.228 there is also Owing on Contracts for building Bridges Docks Piers &c^a the proportion which the Corporation is bound to pay is $12.713 these several sums making altogether $159.656 $^{80}/_{100}$ Dollars. It is expected that some part of this sum will be refunded by assessments that [262] are intended to be laid on New Streets that have been opened. It is not likely that more than $40.000 can be raised from these assessments which will still leave $119.656 $^{80}/_{100}$ to be provided for either by additional taxes or by the Sale of Public property for it is believed that the part of the Tax that still remains uncollected and the remainder of the Corporation revenue will scarcely

That he attended with M^{r} Barrow and M^{r} Loss upon the premises to consult upon the best positions from which to run the lines of

That it would be adviseable to run Washington Street on a straight line from Brannon Street to the Street in front of the State Prison and that West Best Street be continued from a Point One hundred and ninety feet West of Washington Street at Brannon Street to the Westerly Wall of the State Prison yard agreeably to the Plan thereof made by Charles Loss and herewith presented

The Intersecting Streets deleniated upon the Map as such as the Corporation of Trinity Church have long since laid out and which they will so cede being Sixty five feet wide and of Suitable distances [298] there will be no objection no doubt to them

Trinity Church is about disposing of part of the premises above described and wish these lines permanently adopted to effect which the Street Commissioner proposes the following Resolutions vizt

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York in Senate and Assembly convened

The Memorial of the Mayor Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York in Common Council convened most respectfully Sheweth

That the laying out Streets and Roads in the City of New York form a branch of their duties highly interesting and important. The necessity of projecting them in such a manner as to unite regularity and order with the public convenience and benefit and in particular to promote the health of the City must be obvious in the prosecution of this subject however various and complicated difficulties and embarresments exists. The first which naturally presents itself is a radical defect in the power of your memorialists any regulation however promotive of utility adopted by one Board unless carried fully into execution may be disregarded or annulled by its successors: There are others equally palpable and of very considerable magnitude. The diversity of Sentiments and opinions which has heretofore existed and probably will always exist among the members of the Common Council, the incessant remonstrances of proprietors against plans however well devised or beneficial wherein their individual Interests do not concur and the Impossibility of completing those plans thus opposed but by a tedious and expensive course of Law are obstacles of a serious and very perplexing nature

[306] As these evils are continually Accumulating by reason of our increasing population and the rise of frequent Subdivisions of property. Your Memorialists find it necessary to appeal to the Wisdom of the Legislature for relief in the premises

Your memorialists do therefore pray that such measures may be adopted by your Honorable Body as will obviate the Difficulties which at present lie in the way of public improvements in the City of New York or at least in such parts thereof as shall appear most susceptable of advantage from the interposition of your Honorable Body

City of New York Common Council 2nd Febr 1807.

The Committee to whom was referred the Petition of Elizabeth R. Skaats

Report

That it appears to the Committee that notice or coppies of an Ordinance for a general regulation lówering and reducing certain Lots of Ground or Yards situate at or near the corner of Church and Barley Streets were served on the several proprietors or occupants of the said Lots or Yards sometime on or about the first day of November last. and that in pursuance of such Ordinance or Notice Tunis Van Winkle a proprietor of one of the said Lots there fronting on Barley [315] Street has proceded to regulate his Yard and in so doing hath disturbed the Ground and Stable of the said Elizabeth contiguous and adjoining thereto. that is to say. by digging and reducing his Ground six or eight feet below the Lot or Yard of the said Elizabeth which she hath not provided to regulate as required by said Ordinance. and which gives way falling down into and upon the the premises of the said Tunis.

It further appears that by the Time of the said Ordinance. which was served as well on the said Elizabeth as the said Tunis and others the regulation of the said Lots or Ground was required to have been compleated on or about the fifteenth day of December last It further appears that the said Tunis has no necessity to proceed further in the regulation of his Yard so as further to disturb the said Elizabeth till the Spring opens

Your Committee are therefore of opinion that as the said Elizabeth is a Widow. has a family and is not in sufficient Circumstances it would be proper to allow her time until the tenth day of March next to procure Guardianship for her said Children and then to regulate her said Lot or Yard (unless the Common Council shall see fit to regulate the same as the Act directs) and that in the mean time the said Tunis desist from further disturbing the Premises of the said Elizabeth

The Committee on that Subject having reported the draft of a Petition to the Legislature hereunto annexed ordered that a fair Copy be made of the same and that it be transmitted to the Honorable the Legislature under the Common Seal of the Corporation

The Petition of the Mayor Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York respectfully Sheweth

That Various representations have been made to your Petitioners in Common Council respecting the exposed and dangerous Situation of the Powder Magazine belonging to the City near the fresh Water Pond in the Ninth Ward thereof and in which the Powder belonging to the State is kept That the said Magazine is in the Opinion of your Petitioners becoming dangerous to the Inhabitants of that Vicinity, but that the Common Council having assented to the keeping of the public Stores therein do not think themselves authorized to remove the same without the Concurrence of the Legislature That a Regard to the Public Safety has led to the practice of keeping Powder Magazines as much [323] as possible in retired and unfrequented places where they woul'd be less exposed to Accidents, and woul'd endanger as few persons as possible if Accidents should happen

That tho' the Situation of said Magazine was not improper in those respects when it was first established, yet at present it is surrounded on all sides by Inhabitants at short distances and that, in Seasons of general Sickness great numbers of the Poor are quartered near it by the City Corporation. That among the Works which with the Improvement of that part of the City are necessarily carried on, is the blowing of Rocks from which the Magazine has already been endangered, and that all these Causes of Alarm will probably increase with the increase of Inhabitants and improvement, and that the Situation of said Magazine renders the public property less secure both in ordinary times & particularly in times of public Danger, than the Interest of the State seems to require. Your Petitioners therefore respectfully pray that the Legislature will be pleased to cause a Building to be provided for the keeping of the Powder belonging to the State in the Vicinity of Spyt den Duyvel or in some other place less dangerous to the public and more secure for the Military Stores than the present Situation of the said Magazine, and that the said Powder may be removed to such other place, or that some other proper remedy may be provided for the safety and quiet of the Citizens of this City respecting the Premisses. And Your Petitioners will ever pray &c[a]

The Comptrolling Committee beg leave to state. That there are nineteen bills to audit certified by Cornelius Warner late Superintendant of repairs amounting to five hundred and fifty dollars. a small part thereof is for Work done since he was discharged. they have further to observe, that it is said the late Superintendant of repairs had received Warrants to pay certain Accounts which were never paid and are now again presented for payment—the Committee wish the Board to decide upon measures to be pursued by them respecting those Accompts

signed W[m] P. Ritter
And[w] Morris

Ordered that the said Report be again referr'd to the Comptrolling Committee and the Counsel of this Board

Ordered that Alderman. R. Strong & Messrs Bogardus and Mulligan be a Committee to make a statement for the Counsel of this Board relative to the Claims exhibited by William Kay and the persons whose accounts have been certified as above by Cornelius Warner

The following Resolution was moved.

The Committee appointed to enquire and point out the most fit mode of applying for a Grant of the Lands under Water contiguous and adjacent to the Shores or Margin of the City of New York or Manhattans Island reported as follows

That upon Examination it appears that by a Law of the State certain Officers of the Government are authorized as Commissioners of the Land Office to make Grants of the Land under the Waters of navigable Rivers. It is also stated that the Legislature have since that Law was pass'd, by Grant authorized [326] the Corporation to extend Wharves into the East River beyond the Line of the old Water Grant. Whether a gratuitous Grant is expected now or a Grant upon Valuable Consideration or what will be expected by the Legislature or the Commissioners of the Land Office in case of an Application to either or both is a matter upon which your Committee have not had the Opinion of any gentlemen and consider the whole Subject as a matter of great importance to the City. Your Committee are therefore of Opinion that those Questions had better be discussed in an extra meeting of the Board

That the Offices opened within the City and County of New York for the Insurance of Lottery Tickets have greatly increased, and produce very serious evils in the said City

Many persons are thereby induced to venture small Sums in consideration of the large Amount to be returned in proportion without considering that the chances allowing for the disparity is nearly twenty five per Cent in favor of the Insurer. Success or ill fortune lead to the same consequences, the former increases the desire of gain, and lessens the apprehension of loss, the former incites to a continuation of the adventure, by the Anxiety to retrieve what has been lost a spirit of gambling is thus introduced in the Community [330] and operates most on that part of it who have the least ability to support loss

The pernicious influence of these offices is extended even to Children, whose Morals are thereby corrupted in the very bud, as well by the example of those more advanced in years, as by the facility with which they find the means of participating in the practice

At these Offices are to be found not only labouring poor, but even Mendicants, children and Servants who do not scruple to make a Crime the Instrument to enable them to become Adventurers

Whatever Motives of policy may justify the resort to Lotteries for supplies, Your Memorialists believe that in their most unexceptionable form they produce Evils and your Honorable body will see how far those Evils must be increased by the means of the insurance System

Your Memorialists further observe to your Honorable body that the Grand Inquest for this City and County alarmed at the increase of that Evil have presented these Offices at the last Court of Oyer and Terminer held in this City a Copy of which Presentment was communicated by their request to Your Memorialists and is annexed to this Memorial

Your Petitioners therefore pray that your Honorable Body will take such speedy and effectual Measures for the correcting of the Evils complained of as in your Wisdom you shall deem meet

The Grand Jury in and for the Body of the City and County of New York Present

The Offices opened within the said City and County for the insurance of Lottery Tickets, as a serious Evil, and one which demands the interference of the Legislature, and they request that the Court will be pleased to cause a copy of this presentment to be communicated to the Common Council of the City, that Measures [331] may be speedily adopted to correct this growing Mischief

The Committee to whom was referrd was referrd the Petition of Henry Leuthausen made the following Report

That on Examination they find that Ernest Aubick in his life time obtained a leave of the rear part of a Lot fronting on Beekman Streef and adjoining his own Lotts on Gold Street and by the consent of the Possessors of a Lott on Ferry Street was permitted to lay a Trunk for a drain under Ground through said lot; which Lease has expired some few years since, and has not been renewed on Account of some disagreement And Altho' the use made of the said drain is connived at present Yet the same is daily liable to be stopped up either by enclosing the partition fence between the lot fronting on Beekman Street and that of the Petitioner, Or to obtain or exact some extravagant compensation, Or from a mere whim or Caprice to have the same stopp'd up, in either of these cases if the Sum assessed is paid by the Petitioner, it woul'd be for no benefit or purpose whatever to the Estate intended to be benefitted by the Drain in Ferry Street. That the piece of Ground at the corner of Cherry and Roosevelt Streets containing twenty feet in breadth and Seventy one in length was by this Board leased to Samuel Akerly in his life time—that the said Samuel Akerly soon after built a house which now stands thereon. That Akerly died before his lease was delivered to him, and afterwards this Board granted to his Executors a lease for the then unexpired term and included in the lease the house which was so as aforesaid built by said Akerly and which the Committee believe belongd to him That the Executors of said Akerly sold the said House and transferr'd the said Lease to Samuel Webb who shortly before the End of the term sold the same to said Charles McCarty for Eight hundred Dollars That on the first day of November 1804 this Board demised the said Ground including the House to the said Charles McCarty for the term of twenty one years at one hundred and Seventy five dollars per year and all taxes &ca That by the said last mentioned lease the said House so as aforesaid built by Akerly sold by his Executors to Webb and by him since to said McCarty are considered as the property of this Board, and he is bound to keep it in repair and at the End of the Term deliver the same to this Board. That M^r Loss the City Surveyor in making the Survey for M^r Jones considered M^r Burs fence as the West line of Thompson Street & hence the line given to M^r Jones is not as it shoul'd have been parralel to Broadway in consequence of which M^r Jone's house is several feet on the Street. M^r Dobs house being in conformity to what is supposed to be the true line if M^r Loss's Survey is adopted will be several feet back of the Street—That if the Corporation give Damages to either of those persons, it is recommended that Referees determine the amount of them. Case of Stuyvesant Street

On the 30th Novr 1787 Evert Bancker Junr one of the Surveyors for the City of New York, surveyed and laid out at the request of Peter Stuyvesant on his Farm in the then Out Ward of the City of New York, a piece of Ground intended for a Street then and since known and call'd by the name of Stuyvesant Street

On the 30th day of March 1789, the said Peter Stuyvesant conveyed by Indenture of Lease, Lots of Ground bounded by the said Street, to John Coutant and Gilbert Coutant

On the day of 179 the Ground on which St Marks Church in the Bowery is erected, also bounded by the said Street was conveyed in fee to the Corporation of Trinity St Marks in the Bowery was built in the Year 1795 before which time and since the said Piece of Ground has remained laid open, and has ever since been used by the Public for their enjoyment and Accomodation as an High Way

The Legislature by an Act passed the 7th of March 1793 vested all the Right Title Interest Claim and demand Whatsoever, of the People of this State of in and to all lands at any time heretofore left for Streets or high Ways in the City of New York, by any person or persons whomsoever, in the Mayor Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York and their Successors, for the Use of Streets and High Ways

[372] The Legislature by an Act pass'd the 30th March 1799 declare "that no New Street shall thereafter be laid out in the City of New York except with the Approbation of the Mayor Aldermen and Commonalty in Common Council convened, and if any such Street should be laid out without such Permission it shoul'd be lawful for the Mayor Aldermen and Commonalty by Bye Laws or Ordinances to direct the same to be stopp'd up, and all Buildings adjoining thereto to be removed by the Proprietors or Occupants within such times and under such Penalties, as they shoul'd think proper, and that all Streets not then already named and approved of by the Mayor Aldermen and Commonalty shoul'd be considered as New Streets within the Meaning of that Act which had expired on the 30th March 1802

By an Act pass'd the Second of April 1803 the Legislature have made Similar Provisions to those contained in the Act of the 30th of March 1799 with this Variation that by the last Act all Streets not then already named and opened shoul'd be considered as new Streets within the Meaning thereof

On the 11th of December 1797 contracted with Casimer Th. Goerck & Joseph Mangin City Surveyors to make a New Map of the City from the Battery to the Sandy Hill road at the two Mile Stone and Easterly including the Street on which the New Episcopal Church stands on Stuyvesants Grounds to the East River, and Westerly to the North River so as to include the Sandy Hill Road and the State Prison. By the Contract the Map was to contain certain specific Descriptions, and a Field Book to accompany the same and they were [373] to deliver another Map upon a smaller Scale which was intended for Sale to indemnify the Common Council &c[a]

From the Minutes of the Common Council it appears that

" On the 10[th] of April 1799 the Mayor laid before the Board the new Map of the City made by M[r] Mangin which was committed to a Committee to examine and correct, as to the names of Streets, and also to Report a Mode for obtaining Subscribers to the Work " On the 15 of July 1799 Ordered that the Committee on the Subject with M[r] Mangin, obtain the engraving of the New Map of this City by M[r] Mavrick or other competent person on the best terms they can

On the 30[th] March 1801. it appearing that great inconvenience is sustained in consequence of having several Streets designated by the same Names, Ordered that the Street Commissioner be directed to attend to the completion of the new Map of the City, and that he be authorized to employ M[r] Richard Furman to assist him in the execution of that duty

On the 14[th] February 1804 Alderman Barker, Alderman Brasher & Alderman Oothout were appointed a Committee in conjunction with the Comptroller and Street Commissioner, to examine the New Map of this City now nearly ready to be published, and to take such measures as will be most proper to indemnify this Board and the persons who have executed the same for the expence that has been incurr'd

A number of these Maps were Sold by the Corporation with the Title of " A Plan and Regulation of the City of New York made from Actual Survey by Casmer Th. Goerck and Josep Fr Mangin City Surveyor by order of the Common Council and protracted by Joseph Fr Mangin Anno Domini 1800

[374] Some Alterations were afterwards made on the Map and instead of the above Title a label was substituted in these Words " Plan of the City of New York drawn from actual Survey by Carmer Th Goerck and Joseph F. Mangin City Surveyors. This Plan shews the Wards of the City as lately altered by the Legislature, and designates with Accuracy most of the Streets and Wharves and Slips &c[a] lying to the South Ward of a line beginning at the North River at Watts Street, thence extending thro' said Street to Hudson Street, thence to Leonard Street thence to Broad Way, from thence in a line to Bayard Street, thro' this Street to Bowery Road, thence to Bullock Street, and thro' this Street to the East River. Except Brannon and Spring Streets, none of the Streets to the North Ward of the line above mentioned have been ceded to the Corporation, or have been approved and opened under their authority; they are therefore to be considered, subject to such future Arrangements as the Corporation may deem best calculated to promote health, introduce Regularity, and conduce to the conveniency of the City. New York Nov^{r} 1803

By an Act of the Legislature pass'd the 8th March 1803 entitled "an Act to increase the number of Wards in the City of New York and to equalize the same, the Boundaries of the Seventh Ward are described in these words" The Seventh Ward shall begin at the South Easterly corner of the fourth Ward; thence along the Northerly boundary of said Ward to the boundary of the sixth Ward thence along the Boundary of the Sixth Ward to the Bowery Road, thence along the Middle of the Bowery Road to a place opposite to the Middle of Stuyvesant Street, then along the [375] Middle of Stuyvesant Street in front of S^{t} Marks Church to the East River, and on a direct course to low Water Mark on Nassau Island &c^{a}

By three Acts of the Legislature severally entitled an Act to enable the Corporation of the City of New York to raise Monies by Tax pass'd April 6: 1804, March 28: 1805 and February 17. 1806. The lamp and Watch District of the City is described to be "to the South Ward of a line beginning at the North River at a place call'd De Klines ferry a little to the North Ward of the State Prison; thence Eastwardly in front of the new Banking houses, to a Road commonly call'd the Sandy Hill Road, thence along the said Sandy Hill Road to the North Ward of Potters field, and the house of William Neilson to the Bowery road, thence across the Bowery Road to a Street commonly call'd Stuyvesant Street, and thro' the Middle thereof to the East River

The said Piece of Ground or Street has never been actually ceded by Deed, from the said Peter Stuyvesant or any other person or persons to the Corporation

The Proprietors of Ground bounded by the said Street have petitioned the Corporation to cause the said Street to be regulated by ordinances in the Usual Way

The Corporation are now desirous to know if by the Acts of the said Peter Stuyvesant, the Legislature and themselves, the said Street has been regularly opened, named, approved, and sanctioned, as a public Street or high Way, and if it is not a public Street, and it can be shut up, have they the Power so to order

Answer

Tho there are several Circumstances in this Case which might lead to the Idea that the Ground call'd [376] Stuyvesant Street was considered as a a public Street, yet I am of Opinion that they are not binding on the Corporation

The Charter gives the Corporation full Power and Authority to establish and appoint the laying out of all Streets, and the altering mending and repairing them

This Grant woul'd be Nugatory if every Individual had a Right to lay out Streets over his Grounds according to his own Fancy

The Several Acts of the Legislature mentioned in the Case do not in my Opinion destroy the Original Power. They only restrain the Corporation from removing the Buildings, unless they are valued and paid for in the Manner prescribed by Law

I think therefore that the Corporation may if they deem it proper, order this Street to be shut up, provided no Act was passed at the late Session of the Legislature which may deprive them of that Right

The Expediency of such a Measure they alone are competent to decide

The following opinion of Richard Harrison Esq[r] Counsellor of the Board on the remonstrance of Theodosius Fowler and others proprietors of Harlem Bridge was read and referred to the Comptroller.

I have maturely considered the case of Harlem Bridge, and am of opinion that it is not, as such, a proper subject of taxation. This, as well as Turnpike roads and other similar undertakings, has been [414] sanctioned by the Legislature. The acts establishing them I consider as a compact by law, giving a certain toll or allowance to the individuals concerned, as a compensation for the benefit derived to the publick. It would therefore, I think, be a breach of publick faith to diminish the profits of the Bridge arising from such tolls, by the imposition of taxes, operating as a deduction from their amount. I would not however be understood to say that property which would otherwise be subject to taxation is to be exempted, because it belongs to the proprietor of the road or bridge, for which a toll may be given, where there is no special exemption by law. But then the former state of the property should be considered, and the tax neither should be imposed nor augmented on account of the receipts from the Bridge or road. The Board will therefore understand it as my opinion that the Bridge and Tolls are not, as such, proper subjects of taxation; but that if the land on which the Bridge and Toll house are erected were actually subject to taxation, they would still remain so, at their real value, independent of the [415] tolls, which ought not to be taken into consideration by the Assessors. If the land would not otherwise have been liable to taxation as belonging to the publick; then I think that it is not so when appropriated to the purpose of a Bridge under the sanction of a legislative contract."

Richard Harrison.

The Report of the Committee on the Petition of William Ball & John Cooper, respecting a complaint of the Firewardens of the Sixth Ward against them for heating cart tier in their respective yards, that to deprive them of that privilege would be detrimental to their families, and that an Ordinance ought to be passed, providing against any accidents which might arise from prosecuting such business, was read and referred to the Attorney of the Board to draft a Bill in conformity Council to confirm the same in order that they may insert the true name in their deeds of sale.

The alterations and arrangements [417] upon the map are as follow. That the Street formerly called Budd Street, be called Vandam[1] Street; that the street formerly called Hetty Street, be called Charlton[2] Street, that the Street formerly called Hazard Street, be called King[3] Street, that the Street formerly called Village Street, be called Hammersley[4] Street, that the Street formerly called Morton Street, be called Clarkson[5] Street; and that the Three Streets immediately North of those above mentioned be called Leroy[6] Street Morton[7] Street and Barrow[8] Street.

As this opinion is against the legality of the mode of assessment, the Board will probably consider the former assessment void, and it is submitted to their consideration whether it would not be adviseable to appoint new Assessors, or at least to permit him to present the draft of an Ordinance for that purpose.

[419] The Street Commissioner takes this moment to observe, that Messrs Emmet & Van Slyck, council for Mr Duggan have applied to him for an answer to their communication and state that they will shut up the Street near Broadway (not ceded to the Board or agreed to be paid for) unless the Corporation come to some decision to effect a settlement of their claims; and they state further that they will have no objection to let the ground in question be included in the award of the new Jury that must be impannelled to value other grounds in that Street.

All which is respectfully submitted

State of the Case
on the assessment for opening Canal Street

The Corporation for the purpose of extending the width of Canal Street, proceeded in the mode pointed out by the Act, and a Jury, on the 26. Feb. 1806. awarded sundry large sums to several proprietors for their land taken for the aforesaid purpose, and for which sums the Corporation in several instances paid the money, and in others gave their bonds.

[420] In Order to obtain a remuneration of the money so paid or secured to be paid, the Corporation passed an Ordinance dated the 26th May in the same year, to assess the amount of the award of the Jury and the expences of surveying &c[a] "among the owners and occu"pants of all the houses and lots intended to be benefitted by the "aforesaid regulations, in proportion as nearly as might be to the ad"vantages which each should be deemed to acquire," agreeably to the powers vested in them by the act of the Legislature, and appointed Five persons to make such assessment.

The Assessors all qualified to make the Assessment directed by the Ordinance fairly and impartially, according to the best of their skill and judgment, and proceeded to the duty.

Their first determination was to levy the whole of the award within a district 500 feet round Canal Street, within which district neither of the Assessors were interested in any landed or copyhold estate, and directed a survey to be made accordingly.

Upon a representation of the inhabitants [421] within this district, that the burthen on them would be great, and that others more remote from the Street would be benefitted almost as much as those near 500 feet from it, the Assessors agreed to extend the assessment to all Streets from whence the water would ultimately empty into the Canal.

In order to facilitate the Collection of so much of the money to be raised as would be wanted in the month of August thereafter to pay an instalment upon the bonds, the assessors proceeded to assess so much as they thought expedient upon the persons within the 500 feet district, and presented it to the Common Council as part of the assessment directed by the Ordinance which being taken up by that board was ratified in the said month of August, when they also appointed a Collector who received three or four hundred Dollars upon the said Assessment, part of which he deposited in the City Treasury at the direction of the Corporation.

The object of the Assessors was solely to facilitate the collection of part of the money wanted, and it was their intention to levy all the money not included [422] in the first assessment upon the residue of the property from whence the water ran to the Canal, but from the information of the Surveyor, property owned by three of the Assessors would be included within this last district, and nothing further has been done by them in consideration that they may be deemed interested.

Is the first Assessment binding upon the inhabitants?

Can the Corporation rescind it and direct a new assessment?

If it is binding can the same Assessors continue to complete the second assessment?

If not, can the Corporation appoint others in their stead? And finally, how is that Board to act in this case, to proceed to effect and agreeably to law?

Opinion.

All the Acts of the Legislature, empowering the Corporation to direct assessments for certain purposes, require that such assessments should be made by disinterested Persons; and even if the Legislature had been silent upon the subject, it would still, in my judgment, be essential [423] to the validity of the proceeding.

In the case of Canal Street it is conceded that the assessors themselves have considered the Benefit of the improvement to extend to property, of which three of them are proprietors. They would therefore be interested not only in the Assessment last directed but in regulating the proportions to be paid between Lots within the distance of five hundred feet round Canal Street, and those at a greater distance. Under these circumstances I think it would be unsafe to proceed upon the Assessment that has been made, and that new Assessors should be appointed, wholely disinterested in the property benefitted by the Canal.

Rich. Harrison.
May 18. 1807.

Whereupon Resolved that the former assessment on Canal Street be rescinded, and that the Street Commissioner be directed to report an Ordinance for the appointment of new Assessors to assess the damages for opening Canal Street.

The Report of the Street Commissioner on the Petition of John R. [428] The following Memorials of William Thomas, Nicholas Romaine and others relating to Scammel Street and the Soil under water in front thereof, were read and ordered to be entered at large on the minutes.

To His Honor the Mayor, Aldermen and Gentlemen of the Common Council

*The Petition of William Thomas humbly sheweth;

That on or about the year 1785, upwards of twenty Years ago, Your Honorable Board gave permission to Thomas Ivers and James Blanchard to dock out below high water mark (subject to the running of streets) with a promise of a corporation grant of the water when grants were issued at that distance from the city. This Dock or piece of ground with the upland in fee, was sold and conveyed by the said Ivers and Blanchard and about seven years ago, Your Petitioner became purchaser of the whole at about Eight thousand Dollars. This wharf has been suffering for years, and in an unproductive state, for want of a grant and permission to dock out farther as granted to the neighbours of your petitioner.

[429] Your Honorable Board will please to recollect, that for some years back Your Petitioners applications have been favorably received and variously referred, to former Street Commissioners, Comptrollers and Aldermen; but the grant has been always suspended on a contrariety of opinion, whether Scammel Street or Lane of 30 feet ought not to be continued through your Petitioners Wharf.

Your Petitioner humbly submits, that whatever intention Your Honorable Board had formerly of extending Scammel Lane, the present permanent regulation of Gouverneur Street of Fifty feet, leading to the very centre of your ground, reserved for a Corporation Wharf and Bason, and to which Scammel lane is so very contiguous, will shew the inutility of extending that Lane further than it is at present.

Your honorable Board must know that your Street Commissioner has contracted for, and has had sunk a bulk head and the space filled in to compleat your Corporation wharf of Two hundred & twenty two feet, along side of your Petitioners ground; and has under your directions assessed the owners of adjoining Lots for the expence; and that your Petitioner [430] has paid Mr Stagg the Collector, One thousand and Forty one Dollars for his proportion. That from the state of your Petitioners wharf being lower than Water Street, and the Corporation Wharf, the ground of both is washing into his Wharf and also into the East river, for want of a bulkhead to prevent it, and also to secure the earth, that your Petitioner may cart to fill up his ground even with the Corporation Wharf. Mr Bergh, your Petitioners tenant, threatens to quit it, and the neighbours to indict it; and imperious necessity compels your Petitioner to pray that your Honorable Board will grant him prompt relief in the premises, to enable him to embrace the present season to procure Dock Logs and earth, from the adjoining Streets now digging out, and your Petitioner as in duty bound will ever pray

To the Honorable the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York

The memorial of the Subscriber respectfully sheweth;

That your Petitioner has just been informed that the Street Commissioner is about to report to your honourable [431] Board respecting a grant to be made to Mr Thomas on the east side of the Bason reserved by the Corporation at the foot of Gouverneur Street, and which Grant, if made, as Your Memorialist is informed, will be injurious to the public and the proprietors of the adjacent Land.

And therefore prays in behalf of himself and other Proprietors, that he and the other proprietors may have a hearing before your Honorable Board, before the said grant be made.

New York. May 4th Nichs Romayne.

To the Honorable the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York.

The Memorial of the subscribers respectfully sheweth;

That Your Memorialists are owners of Lots, Houses or other tenements on Scammel Street, and the adjacent Streets, and feel a great interest in the improvement of that part of the city, especially as their interests are connected with the public good and convenience.

That Your Memorialists are informed with deep regret that some of the Officers [432] of your Honorable Board have reported as their advice to shut up the lower part of Scammel Street, and to sell to an individual the land heretofore appropriated as a public Street.

Your Memorialists beg leave to remind Your Hon. Board that for near Twenty years there have been various applications to your Hon. Board for shutting up the lower end of Scammel Street and disposing of the same. That the subject has often heretofore been considered in all its relations, by men of judgment and talents appointed by Your Hon. Board, and has always until now been reported against. Your Memorialists might refer specially to those Reports, but they only beg leave to refer to the one hereunto annexed.

Your Memorialists therefore pray that Your Hon. Board will refuse to shut or dispose of the lower end of the said Scammel Street, and if necessary that you will give them an opportunity to be heard by Council or otherwise before Your Hon. Board or before a Committee [433] appointed for that purpose.

Extract from the minutes of the Common Council April 25th 1803.

The Street Commissioner and Comptroller to whom was referred the Petition of Wm Thomas praying for a grant of the soil under water opposite his ground at Corlaers Hook, Report that the prayer of the petitioner be granted reserving Scammel Street to be continued Fifty feet wide from Water Street into the river, and also reserving Front and South Streets their usual width.

[434] To the Honorable the Mayor Aldermen & Commonalty of the City of New York.

The Memorial of the Subscribers respectfully sheweth

That Your Memorialists and others proprietors of Land situate on and near Scammel Street have for many years considered it important to their property and the public good that Scammel Street should be extended to the East river, and their opinions on this subject have met the approbation of Committees formerly appointed by Your Honorable Board. Your Memorialists have now however much reason to believe that Your Hon. Board may consider it more for the interest of the public to derive a revenue from the said ground, which would be comprehended in Scammel Street were it extended from Water Street to the East river, than to permit it to be laid open for a street, and therefore they think themselves in duty bound to the public their neighbours and themselves to meet that point.

Your Memorialists are therefore ready to give to your Hon. Board a [435] yearly rent of One Hundred and Fifty Pounds a year net rent forever from this date for the claims, Right and title of the Corporation of the City of New York to such part of Christian Bergh's ship yard, situate near Scammel Street on the west side of the Lots of John Youle and extending from high water mark or from Water Street to Front Street and along Front Street, One hundred and Fifty feet: that they will comply with the usual contract for making Front Street, and whatever may be just in law or equity respecting the earth carted on the said land by Christian Bergh or others, and that Your Memorialists will also be ready at any time to open Scammel Street to the East river free from expence whenever your Hon. Board will permit the same to be done.

Your memorialists further state that they are ready to meet a Committee of your Hon^{e} Board or any person or persons appointed by Your Hon. Board to explain any thing respecting the premises or any matter which might require further explanation.

That they have viewed the premises and taken the subject under their consideration. It will certainly be to the advantage of the petitioners to have their petition granted, as their lots are not above 65 or 70 feet deep, but as your Committee conceive that it is a subject of interest they are of opinion no decision of [453] theirs, even if adopted by the Board would be considered satisfactory; for should they agree upon a large sum, it would be considered oppressive, and if upon a small one, granting undue favours.

The Committee therefore beg leave to be discharged from this duty after recommending the subject to be left to referees with power to choose an Umpire to judge between them; and they recommend George Gosman as a referree in behalf of this Board.

The Clerk informed the Board that he had received from his predecessor Thomas Morris Esq^{r} all the Minutes of the Common Council from the year 1675 to the present day, comprehended in seventeen Volumes Folio.

In the apartment occupied by the Clerk of the Mayor's Court, there are several Boxes said to contain papers, deeds and documents [468] belonging to the Corporation. A case, the property of M^{r} Wortman, in the Comptrollers Office, contains a large proportion of Memorials, Petitions, Reports &c^{a} which have been presented and acted upon within the last few years. All these papers require arrangement, and demand more room to render them of convenient access than the present office, jointly occupied by the Street Commissioner and the Clerk, affords.

He therefore, respectfully proposed that a Committee be appointed to examine and see whether, without incurring any serious expence, some accommodation cannot be provided, within the City Hall, for repositing and arranging the public records in such manner as to render them more accessible.

Situate in Suffolk Street and assessed said lots for regulating said Street.

[482] The Street Commissioner presented to the Board a map of a number of Streets through grounds belonging to Anthony L. Bleecker which he proposes to cede to the Corporation as public Streets, upon the same principles M[r] Jay has consented to cede Canal Street to wit, on condition that their grounds shall not be assessed for opening Streets through the surrounding premises.

This principle, he reported, might operate to the disadvantage of the Board where a very small donation of this kind was proffered. But it is very different where a large grant of streets are made, the proper widths and in the direction desired by the Corporation.

The Street Commissioner was of opinion that the terms of M[r] Bleecker ought to be agreed to.

assessments remaining in his hands: although it is probable he is daily collecting money upon them.

The Attorney of the Board mentions that the Corporation can only recover from him at common law, such sums as they can prove he has received, and that they must file a bill in chancery, if they are in want of that proof.

The Street Commissioner begs leave to suggest one plan, to prevent a further dilapidation, if such should be the case: namely, that the Corporation appoint some discreet active person to take up the assessments of which Bussing has the copies, and go amongst the proprietors to know whether they have actually paid him and to prohibit payment if they have not.

All which is respectfully submitted.

June. 8. 1807 John S. Hunn
S[t] Comm[r]

Resolved that John Bussing be displaced as Collector, and that he deliver up to the Street Commissioner the Assessments in his hands, and that the Clerk publish notice of his being removed in the papers employed by this Board. The Comptroller reported that according to the Statement of the Treasurer there was in the Treasury.....	$16,160.37
And that the Collector of revenues had received.....	1,359.50

The Clerk reported that the following subjects which passed the Board on the 23d March last have been omitted to be entered on the Minutes; vizt that the improvement was essentially necessary, but recommended that the Petition be referred back to obtain a greater number of Subscribers.

Ordered that the same be confirmed.

*The Report of the Street Commissioner on the petition of William Hunter and others requesting permission to make Corlaer Street from Cherry to Grand Street, was referred to the Comptroller and Street Commissioner for further investigation.

The following Communication was presented by the Street Commissioner.

The Street Commissioner has the honor to represent to the Board that he notified the proprietors of Lots on Broadway and the Bowery last fall to open said Street, and that [10] he also notified them this Spring, but that they have hitherto neglected to comply, with one or two exceptions. That Mr Dunham still occupies his house standing on the Street, although long since paid for the ground and the expence of removal. The Street Commissioner therefore requests to be informed what further steps he must pursue to open the said Street, in order that some plan may be devised to make it passable.

All which is respectfully submitted

†Ordered that the Street Commissioner with the advice of the Counsel and Attorney of the Board adopt legal measures to compel the opening of Broadway.

The Committee to whom was referred the petition of Peter Schermerhorn and George Codwise reported

That the Petitioners own the whole of the property fronting on South Street between Beekman and Burling Slips being about 111 feet that they request permission to sink a pier into the river in the centre of their ground.

The Committee are of opinion that the request of Messrs Schermerhorn and Codwise cannot be complied with, as the sinking a pier at that place would [11] materially injure both Burling and Beekman Slips, but in consequence of filling up Beekman Slip it has wholly destroyed the accomodations for market boats and materially injured the property and business in that quarter, which makes it necessary that piers should be made at that Slip without delay. The Committee therefore recommend that a pier of 40 feet wide and 240 feet in length be made at the east side of Burling Slip to be set back 30 feet from the present range of the Slip. This pier will be opposite to the property of Messrs Schermerhorn and Codwise, who are by their grants entitled to the wharfage on South Street in front of their property and as this pier will deprive them of the wharfage, it is reasonable they should be compensated for that loss.

* Marginal note reads See Report P. 27.—Ed.
† Marginal note reads See Report P. 52.—Ed.

*It is recommended that a Committee be appointed to confer and agree with Messrs Schermerhorn and Codwise for a compensation for this Loss, and if they cannot agree that the Committee be authorized to appoint referrees on the part of this board, to meet such referrees as shall be appointed by Messrs Schermerhorn and Codwise to determine what compen [12] sation shall be allowed them by this Board for the right of wharfage opposite their premises. The Committee further recommend that another pier of 30 feet in width be made at the east side of Beekman Slip to be set 20 feet from the range of Beekman Slip and opposite to the property of John Rogers deceased, two thirds of the expence of this pier to be defrayed by the owners of lots on the east side of the pier agreeably as the law directs. It is further recommended by the Committee that two other piers be made out, the one on the east side of Fly market Slip and the other on the west side of Burling Slip, each pier to be set 20 feet from the range of the Slips and to be the usual length into the river: these piers to be each 30 feet wide and two thirds the expence of each pier to be borne by the proprietors of water lots opposite their premises.

A draft of the piers recommended to be made accompanies this report

*The Committee on the Petition of Peter Schermerhorn and George Codwise Junr further reported

That they have had an interview [21] with those gentlemen, but have not been able to agree with them for compensation for the right of wharfage in front of their ground at Burling slip: but the Committee have proposed to them that they should unite with the Corporation in building the Pier and that they should pay two thirds of the expence; for which consideration they should be entitled to receive the wharfage on the east side of the pier for two births of Ships, or for the use of the water not exceeding sixty feet from the pier. This proposition Messrs Schermerhorn and Codwise will comply with, upon condition of their having the exclusive right of wharfage at the end of the Pier. As this arrangement will relieve the Corporation from paying a considerable sum of money for the right of wharfage and also from two thirds of the expence of building the Piers, it is recommended that these proposals be agreed to on the part of the Corporation, and that Messrs Schermerhorn and Codwise be permitted without delay to contract with such persons as they shall think proper to build the said Pier and that this board will pay one third of the expence thereof. It is also recommended that a Pier be run out forming an L so as to complete the Corporation Basin at [22] the foot of Partition Street on the North river and also one other Pier with an L so as to complete the Basin already begun at the Hayscales near Duane Street; That the clerk be directed immediately to make out an Ordinance and have it published for six weeks as the Law directs, requiring all persons interested in the property adjacent to these Piers, to signify their assent to be at their proportion of the expence for building the said Piers, and in default thereof their right will be granted to such other persons as are willing to take it.

forty feet wide at top and bottom, making a distance of two hundred and fifty feet, be [23] sunk from the South line of South Street into the East river on the east side of Burling Slip opposite the property of George Codwise Junr and in such manner that the westerly side of said pier be on a line *thirty feet easterly from the east line of the said Slip; and that the said pier be commenced on or before the third day of August next, and finished without delay.

And be it further Ordained, That one other good and substantial Pier, composed of Four blocks and four bridges be sunk opposite the property of the Heirs of John Rogers deceased on the East side of Beekman Slip, in such manner as that the west line of said Pier be on a line with the front of the buildings erected on the east side of said Slip; that the two inner blocks be thirty feet square at top and bottom, the two outermost blocks forty feet wide at bottom and thirty feet at top, and that the whole be two hundred and fifty feet in length from the south line of South Street: and that the said pier be commenced on or before the third day of August next and finished without delay.

And be it further ordained That one other good and substantial pier, composed of Four blocks and four Bridges of the same dimensions as the [24a.] two piers last above mentioned be sunk from the southerly line of South Street into the east river on the east side of the Flymarket Slip, in such manner as that the west side of the said pier be on a line twenty feet easterly of the east side of the present Ferry stairs at the said Flymarket slip; and that the said pier be commenced on or before the third day of August next and finished without delay.

And be it further Ordained, that all the piers above mentioned are to be completed in a good workmanlike manner with faced sides above half tide, in a manner [such as] those are done at the Battery and Peck slip and that they are to be securely connected with the several wharves any thing hereinbefore to the contrary notwithstanding.

And be it further Ordained that this Board will contribute their proportion towards the expence of the said piers agreeably to law, and that Selah Strong, John W. Mulligan and John S. Hunn, be a Committee to unite with the several proprietors, to consult upon the best methods of effecting the objects of this Ordinance and to sign any contracts or agreements they may agree upon, in behalf of this Board.

The following Report of the Comptroller was read.

The Comptroller to whom was referred the [24.b.] petition of Henry Stanton praying to be discharged from a demand which the Corporation have against him on account of rent for the Brooklyne Ferry

Reports that from the representation of Richard Furman Esq^{r} hereunto annexed it appears that M^{r} Stanton took the Ferry at Brooklyne in December 1800 under an expectation that in the Spring a lease would be given to him for a longer period, and that without that expectation, which it appears the Committee who had the charge of leasing the ferries sanctioned, he would not have undertaken the business.

That from documents produced by M^{r} Stanton it appears that he sustained a loss of Three hundred and twenty three dollars on the boats which he purchased from M^{r} Van Mater, the former lessee of the ferry and which he sold to the succeeding lessees Mess^{rs} Townsend and Van Nostrandt. When to this actual Loss is added the expences necessarily incurred for the repairs of the boats and for the wages and maintenance of the men employed at the Ferry; and when it is considered that the period for which M^{r} Stanton held the Ferry is a season of the year when it is generally believed that the expences equal [25] if not exceed the profits, it is highly probable that M^{r} Stanton was, as stated in his petition a very considerable loser by his engagement.

Under all these circumstances of this case the Board will therefore judge whether it would not be equitable to remit to M^{r} Stanton the rent charged against him.

All which is respectfully submitted.

with [28] the application of William Hunter and others for liberty to make Corlaer Street, have the honour to report

That they have examined the title of Mr Cannon for the lands under water on the North side of Grand Street and find that he has obtained a water grant from high to low water mark 200 feet into the river. That he is bound to make half the Street to low water mark where a slip is to commence. That the Slip is to be left 70 feet wide being the width of Grand Street and that he is to recede 25 feet from the line of Grand Street, or side of the Slip, from Mangin Street easterly, for the line of his buildings leaving the 25 feet for a public passage along the said Slip, and they further find, that Mr Cannon is bound to leave the same space for a passage along the line of Broome Street.

Your Committee further report, that as Corlaer Street is a very short distance above Mangin Street, they conceive it most adviseable that the proprietors of lots joining Grand Street, on the South side, should also leave a space of 25 feet in width south of Grand Street and from Corlaer Street to East street as designated on the Map accompanying [29] the report of the Street Commissioner, by a red line from F to G. and that they should be bound to make the Slip and wharf in the same manner as has been stipulated with Mr Cannon.

Your Committee further recommend that the several proprietors be directed to take their grants without delay between Grand Street and Cherry Street, and that they be directed by proper ordinances for that purpose to sink a bulkhead on the easterly line of Corlaer Street from Grand to Cherry Street and fill in the westerly part within six months; that they also sink a bulk head at least 200 feet east of Corlaer Street and fill in the same before the expiration of twelve months; and that on failure to comply with these stipulations they shall severally forfeit their preemptive right to the said grants.

Your Committee are aware that these stipulations may be considered by some as too partial and severe and that it is unusual to compel so large a space of ground to be made in so short a time: but they beg leave to answer that four or five persons are connected in making the said Corlaer Street, and if only one of them should fail to sink or contribute his proportion to sinking [30] a bulkhead along the Street in front of his lot, it would prevent his adjoining neighbours on each side from complying with their engagements in this respect, unless they went to the enormous expence of sinking a wharf along his ground to protect their earth.

Your Committee farther state that all the water as stated in the report of the Street Commissioner is very shoal and the ground bare at low water; that the bank adjoining the premises is very high and without rocks, and that in all probability the work can be done cheaper now than at any future period as earth is daily becoming more scarce and valuable.

Your Committee further remark that it would, in their opinion, be conducive to public improvements to grant to the several proprietors the additional lands under water to the east side of East street immediately upon their complying with the stipulation above mentioned and upon such terms as may be fixed for water grants in that vicinity.

All which is respectfully submitted.

[31] Ordered that the preceding Report be confirmed.

*The Street Commissioner informed the Board that in surveying the grounds in front of the lots at the corner of Washington and Cortland Streets lately agreed to be taken in by the proprietors he finds that the referrees have measured too far into the street, and if the line they have marked out was built upon the Street would not only be narrower there by 3 or 4 feet† than it is at Greenwich Street but if continued would cross the Slip before it would reach West Street; which was never the intention of the Committee and which never could be right.

The Street Commissioner therefore recommends that the report of Messrs Gosman and Stanton be referred to them to make such alteration and deduction upon the sum to be paid as shall be proper, when they have ascertained the true area of ground to be taken in by a survey of one of the sworn city Surveyors, which they neglected to do in the first instance.

[43] That the two lowest proposals presented are those of Mr Cholwell & Mr Auld: that neither of those are so specific as to admit of forming a certain contract without verbal explanations: that upon such explanation being made your Committee perceive but very little if any difference in the terms. Considering that by the late contract with Mr Cholwell the Corporation are bound to pay him for the Oil on hand, if they contract with another, and that Mr Auld is at liberty to take it or not from the Corporation should they accept his proposals, Your Committee are of opinion that a new contract be made with Mr Cholwell upon the above terms, restricting the quantity of oil, which the Corporation will receive and pay for at the end of the year to a sufficiency to light the Lamps for two or three weeks only, and that the Lamp Committee ascertain and fix the

The following Report was received and read

*The Committee to whom it was referred to report a state of facts relative to the claim of William Thomas, for a water grant on the East river at the foot of Scammel Street in front of his Lots Report that from the annexed extracts from the minutes of the Common Council, it will appear that Mr Thomas has no claim [68] upon the Corporation for such grant, from any stipulations entered into by the Board at any time heretofore: That the question of Grant to him or not, as prayed for, is now merely a question of expediency. Your Committee regretting that, by some mistake or inadvertence a grant so extensive has passed to Doctor Romayne, are of opinion that in the present case a grant ought not to be made to Mr Thomas, for any ground or land under water, west of the line of the easterly side of Scammel Street, and that all the ground west of that line, as it may be extended southwardly into the said river, to wit, of the breadth of about feet ought to be reserved for public uses, and particularly for the extension of Scammel Street and the accommodation of the public basin there. Your Committee are however of opinion that Mr Thomas ought to be reimbursed or otherwise compensated for monies laid out by him for improvements there made and for assessments paid by him—And that proper enquiry be made, to the end that such sums of money may be ascertained and adjustment made with Mr Thomas: And that upon such adjustment being made Mr Thomas receive a grant of the water right for the ground or Lots laying on the easterly [69] side of the said line of Scammel Street, as it may be extended into the said river.

Report that Mr Ten eyck as stated in his Memorial has, at considerable expence run out a Pier on the East side of Coenties Slip the wharfage of the interior of which is received exclusively by the Corporation, and is of very considerable amount. That it appears highly probable to your Committee that the wharfage of that part of the Pier which Mr Ten Eyck is entitled to receive, is, as represented by him, rendered of less value by the constant use which is made of the Pier by the vessels lying within the Bason. In addition to this, as the Legislature by their Act passed in 1806. seem to be of opinion that where Piers are to be run out the intention of which are to form Basons whose wharfage is to belong to the Corporation that in such cases it is reasonable the Cor- [94] poration should bear one third of the expence; Your Committee would submit to the Board whether it would not be equitable in this case, that some allowance should be made to Mr Ten Eyck to reimburse him for part of the expences of the Pier.

Ordered that this Report lie over for consideration.

The following Report was read

*The Committee to whom it was referred to consider and report upon the Petition of Abraham Cannon respecting the situation of the ground in Broome Street opposite his property, having viewed the premises have the honour to Report

That the whole of Broome Street to the present wharf of the said Cannon and Marinus Willett has been regulated, except a sunken space through the center of the street of various widths and depths, more particularly described on the map and profile herewith [95] presented; which hollow or sunken space is conceded on all sides to be a great nuisance inasmuch as the water ebbs and flows into it through the wharf and is a receptacle for filth.

Ordinances passed this Board in 1805 as stated in the memorial as well as others of a recent date, directing this ground to be regulated, but owing to the difficulty of ascertaining the precise quantity of earth to be deposited by the opposite proprietors, nothing effectual has been done.

The remark of Your Memorialist that he has a claim on Mr Willett for damages, Your Committee are of opinion is irrelevant to the present subject and upon which they have no opinion to advance; the reference to them being, as they conceive, intended to point out the best method of correcting the present evil, and to render justice to the contending parties.

Your Committee deem it hardly necessary to remark that if either of the parties commence filling their side of the Street without the other, that the earth so filled in would soon glide over upon the opposite line and that therefore it would be continuing the present opposition to insist upon their doing it [96] individually.

*Marginal note reads See P. 63.—Ed.

Your Committee are therefore of opinion that it will be most adviseable to direct the Street Commissioner to advertise for proposals for filling up the space to the level of the Streets, and that he together with one or more of the City Surveyors cause a correct survey thereof to be made and apportion the expence thereof between the several proprietors in such manner as they may think just and right.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The following Report was presented and Read.

The Committee that was appointed to call on his Excellency the Governor for information respecting the State of the Ordinance and Military Stores in this City and to offer him the aid of the Corporation in putting such in compleat repair as are at present unfit for service.

Report That there are Forty 32. Pounders Iron Cannon at the Ordinance Yard, Also Twenty eight 24. Pounders Iron pieces at the same place: these Cannon have carriages provided for them, but they are not mounted nor fixed to the carriages.

[100] There are also Thirteen 24 Pounders Iron pieces on Ellis' island, these are on carriages which however are of bad construction and so much decayed that they may be considered unfit for service. The above mentioned Cannon all belong to the State of New York. The Governor also informed the Committee that he has employed men to fit the carriages to the Guns for immediate service.

In addition to the above there are in the new Arsenal near the Gaol. These pieces are on travelling carriages and in compleat order.

The United States have lately sent from Philadelphia Twelve 24 Pounders Iron Cannon fixed on travelling carriages which are now in the Arsenal at the Battery and in compleat order. Independent of these there are a number of 2. 3. & 4 Pounders Brass Field Ordinance in the Arsenal in good [101] order.

There are about Three thousand Stands of English muskets in good order, and about the same number of Hamburgh muskets unfit for service. A considerable quantity of Cartridges for the small Arms, are made up and filled in the Arsenal, but there are none of any kind made up for the cannon, there is a large quantity of Powder in the Magazine belonging to the State, also a sufficient quantity of wadding and Ball fitted to the different Calibres of the Cannon.

The Committee further report, that they have received from Colonel Jonathan Williams Engineer to the United States, a report for fortifying the Harbour of New York at the Narrows, with an estimate of the probable expence which is hereby submitted.

of Colonel Jonathan Williams
for Fortifying the Narrows Between Long and Staten Islands.

To

Selah Strong Esq[r] Chairman of a Committee of the Corporation of New York.

Fort Columbus. July 20[th] 1807.

Sir

I have received your favour of yesterday, inclosing a resolution of the Corporation [103] dated 27[th] inst. requesting me "to furnish with all possible dispatch a plan for fortifying the Narrows, with an estimate of the probable expence."

Although my official station will not permit me to enter into any engagements respecting plans of defence, without the authority of the Government of the United States, yet I shall with the utmost freedom communicate to you, and through you to the Corporation, every idea that can in my mind relate to a permanent and effectual defence against a maratime force; leaving the execution of the plans, and the means of raising the necessary supplies, to their good judgment and patriotic zeal. In stating the principles upon which as perfect a defence as the nature of the case requires should be founded, I must necessarily include those which influenced the orders I am now acting under, and, believing as I do that to form a correct judgment of the whole, the adopted plan should be known, as well as the reasons for its adoption, I shall go into some detail which, however irrelevant in appearance, is too much connected with your object, and too dependent upon it, to be omitted, consistent with a due regard to perspicuity.

[104] In the late conference between the *Vice-President of the United States, the †Secretary of War and myself, there has been but one sentiment respecting the mode of applying the means in our power, with the best effect: but nothing has been said against a defence at the Narrows, provided we had equivalent funds to depend upon; yet it has been uniformly a settled opinion, that a defence of the Narrows only, would be putting all upon one stake, and probably wasting the zealous and laudable efforts of our citizens, without affording them more than a momentary and perhaps an ideal security.

* Marginal note reads George Clinton Esq[r]—ED.

The propriety of a defence at the Narrows in conjunction with an interior force, is in a striking manner indicated, by the introductory words of my orders. "It being the intention of the general govern-"ment so to fortify the harbour of New York, as will, with the aid "of gunboats, afford a reasonable defence to the citizens and their "property against Ships of War, unaccompanied with any formidable "armament, such as can only be opposed by a superior army; the "following system has been [105] deemed most expedient at present, "with such additions hereafter, as may be thought adviseable, farther "in advance.

The Narrows offer a passage of more than twelve hundred yards in width for any ship that could come over the bar at Sandy Hook; now, every Sailor knows that a dozen ships of the line could, upon an emergency, sail abreast through that passage, with fair wind and tide, and allowing one on each side to be destroyed, ten might surely pass unhurt, in as many minutes, and if there were nothing to encounter afterwards, they would indemnify their losses by the contributions they would exact from the city; hence an ineffectual defence at the Narrows, would only serve to increase these contributions.

Seeing therefore the magnitude of this object, and comparing it with the means provided; also considering the confidence placed in their judgment, the above named Officers naturally reverted to a very plain principle which comes home to all our domestic feelings: let us secure our house first, and then according to our ability, defend our courtyard.

In looking around, it was perceived that the prominent rocks on Governor's island, the [106] point of the Bastion of the old City Battery, and Ellis's island, forming nearly an equilateral triangle; and that the centre of this, offered an intersecting point, which, at the greatest distance from each, would only be about one thousand yards, while it would be difficult to go into either the North or East river, without passing within point blank shot, or between four or five hundred yards, of some one of them. It was also seen that former administrations before, and since the revolution, so highly valued these points, that fortifications have been erected upon or near every one, although time, the great destroyer of all things, has obliterated some of them. It was further considered that the modern improvements of marine batteries, which give double the number of guns on the same horizontal base, and by multiplying the tiers may give six times the number of the heaviest metal with a bomb-proof security above, rendered the question of combat, a question of floating wooden walls, against impregnable stone walls on shore, with equal power as to celerity of action, number of guns within the same space, and weight of metal.

[107] It is not a very bold assertion to say that no ship that sails on the Ocean would engage on such terms.

In combining all these circumstances it was a matter of great consideration, and of the most consoling confidence to reflect, that we should be aided by gunboats, commanded by brave and experienced Officers. No man of professional knowledge has hitherto ventured an opinion against the efficacy of gun boats in harbour, in shoal water, and on a smooth surface; not one of these conditions have been attended to whenever they have failed, and with these conditions, they have been, and ever will be, formidable. Fifty gun boats scattered along the flats on each side of the channel, would all of them attack an advancing ship forward the fore chains, and if she passed the nearest pair, they might slip their cables and keep in their wake; all this time the advancing ship, instead of escaping, would be just coming into a still more prompt, powerful and intersecting fire, during which she could not attack more than the boat on each side, while all the others would rake her fore and aft.

But the certainty of passage is the great [108] objection, for it seems to be in the opinion of the world almost a settled axiom, that ships will pass batteries in spite of all their force. Why would they pass them? There must surely be a strong motive to encounter such danger? Doubtless to attack more vulnerable points. And this is precisely the reason they would pass the Narrows to attack the defenceless city of New York; as Admiral Duckworth passed the Dardanelles to attack Constantinople, and certainly if there had been no interior defence, the capital of the Sublime Port would have been reduced.

But merely passing the city cannot be an important object, for to put it under contribution, ships must lie there, either at anchor or with the main topsail to the mast; now that, when the proposed batteries shall be completed, cannot be done, and we do not find that it is generally thought advantageous to run the gauntlet for the purpose of running it back again.

Before I close this part of my subject, permit me to notice an objection to these batteries which seems to have made some impression on the minds of the citizens "It brings the battle home to our doors, [109] within the cries of our wives and children." Will any reflecting mind, not under the excitement of passion, believe this to be the fact? Do invading enemies seek to attack powerful batteries, instead of making depredations where there are none? Will a shore lined with cannon be more inviting to a warlike plunderer, than a shore lined with rich freighted merchantmen, and defenceless, well filled stores? I leave the answer to the dictates of a plain but sound understanding, and as we live in the days of rapacity, rather than in the days of chivalry, I cannot doubt what that answer will be.

I beg pardon for this encroachment on your patience previously to answering your main object in the application to me; but the deference and respect I owe to the high characters with whom I have lately been in conference impose this explanation as an indispensable duty: especially as going at once into a plan, which they might be supposed to have omitted, would on my part be a very indecorous presumption.

I now come to the question implied in the resolution of your Board; "Are the Narrows defensible? If so, what are the means, "and what the probable expence?" To this I answer, they are in my opinion [110] defensible, but the means are extensive, and should unite submarine obstructions, forts on each side, and gun boats on the flats in advance.

With respect to the sinking an island in the centre, which has been much spoken of, it does not appear to me that local circumstances have been fully considered. In the middle of the Narrows there are between sixteen and seventeen fathoms of water, say one hundred feet at half tide; to make an island of stone in this depth, with an area of four acres at its surface, as I have heard mentioned, even if the sides were vertical, which could not be, would be more than seventeen millions of cubic feet of stone, this at fifteen cubic [feet] to the ton, would be about one million, One hundred and sixty thousand tons, and would require near twenty four thousand sloops of fifty tons each to convey it; and if the calculation were to be made at four and an half cents each cubic foot, the cost would be nearly Eight hundred thousand Dollars, with as much in addition as the natural slope of loose stones in a rapid current, would increase the mass.

[111] The best plan for permanent obstructions, in my estimation, is that which in the course of a conversation at the Mayor's was intimated by yourself, and as I take no merit in the invention, I may be allowed to state it in detail.

Suppose numerous blocks were to be sunk in the Narrows at certain distances from each other, which though sufficient for a ship to pass between them, yet should she go but a little on either side of the middle, would insure her destruction; as the depth of water varies in the space before mentioned from ten to sixteen fathoms. Let us suppose a mean, thirteen fathoms or seventy eight feet; the mean would be less, as the depth is less within two hundred feet of the shore on each side, allowing the blocks to rise within ten feet of the surface, and taking a fair but sufficient mean. Let us suppose the averaged depth to be sixty five feet, and the superficial contents of each block, whatever may be its shape, to be fifty feet square, or twenty five hundred square feet, this multiplied by the depth, would give forty five thousand and five hundred cubic feet, which at the price of four and a half cents as above stated, would cost two hundred and twenty six thousand, One [112] hundred and ten dollars. If these blocks were placed at sixty feet distance from each other, and were armed with cheveaux de frize, as they might be, so as to reduce the spaces to the width of a ship, it is self evident that no ship could pass, for if she were but one foot on either side of the middle, one of the projecting points would check her progress, when she would immediately round to, and lay her broadside against all the others. To put this effect in a striking point of view, let us suppose a Ship going at the rate of ten Knots with wind and tide, and that by some accident her own anchor were to drop under foot, every sailor knows, that unless she parted her cable in an instant, she would round to, and carry all by the board.

Nautical men are generally very bold and hazardous when the danger is visible, because they rely upon their own skill and activity; but the boldest sailor is the most cautious of all beings, where the danger is invisible, and they always take care to give rocks a very good birth.

This calculation goes to filling up of the whole space, but it is evident that a channel should be left for our own vessels; this at the [113] worst would oblige an enemy to advance singly, and directly under the guns of the batteries to be erected on either side, while every block so sunk would compleatly cover a gun boat that might be anchored upon, or behind it, without danger, owing to their small draft of water. Besides these considerations, it is self evident that the blocks must aid every other mode of obstruction, and, after the experiment we have witnessed, there can be no doubt, but M^{r} Fulton's Torpedoes could be applied here with almost certain effect. If a pair of these destructive machines were placed in each space between the blocks, should all other means fail, their action would be, as far as human foresight can presume to be accurate, infallible.

If however such obstructions were to be unprotected by batteries on each side, an enemy might progress with a fair wind against the tide, giving to his ship just what way he chose; and by sending boats a head might in a slow and cautious manner feel for a safe passage and remove temporary obstructions; it is therefore of all things the most necessary to prevent the possibility of remaining at rest, any where in the passage.

The most essential as well as the most costly battery should be erected at the edge [114] of Hendrick's reef. Until I can have time to cause the plan and elevation of such a battery to be made, I submit to your consideration the plan and elevation of one designed for a point, not dissimilar as to position in the harbour of Charleston, which I must request you to return after it has been laid before the Corporation.

On the Staten Island side, only the lower battery need to be casemated, as those ascending the hill in the rear, would be above the reach of either small arms or swivels from the tops of the enemies ships. These batteries could be so constructed as to be impregnable to the fire of shipping, and could form an intersecting fire of from fifty to eighty shot on each side.

It is not an easy matter to calculate the expence of batteries, where, nothing of the kind having been done before. I am deficient in the requisite data, upon which alone accurate estimations can be made, but as I have often heard it said that, could the defence at the Narrows, like the one described be procured, the inhabitants of New York would not think a million of dollars too great an expence. I feel a self assu [115] rance that, with certain dependence on such a fund, the object might be so far obtained, as in conjunction with protecting redoubts on the high grounds, and the interior fortifications and gun boats before described, the harbour of New York would become invulnerable to any maratime attack. In case of an invading army our only method would be, and the only one the spirit of our countrymen would require that of meeting the enemy in the field.

Deeply impressed with the importance of the present crisis, and knowing how anxious the public mind is at present, I have thought it best to give a prompt answer to your request, though from the nature of the case, it must be a very imperfect one; and were I very thirsty for professional fame, it might be considered imprudent, thus to lay myself open to criticism on a subject where there are so many opinions, with much confidence in the validity of each one.

I make no pretensions to infallibility upon any subject, and shall listen with complacency to any opinion, on this one, from any quarter; but while I respect the sentiments of others, I hope I may rely on some indulgence for my own.

[116] Should it be in my power to give the Corporation any further information, I shall at all times most readily do it upon the slightest requisition on their part; without any other view than the satisfaction of resulting from the reflection of having rendered an acceptable service to the citizens of New York.

I have the honor to be Very respectfully
Sir
Your most obedient and most humble servant
Jonathan Williams.

Resolved that the Committee appointed to confer with Col. Williams, in behalf of this Board, on the subject of fortifying at the Narrows, be and hereby are directed to request his opinion, whether the Narrows, under all circumstances, be the most eligible place for obstruction and the erection of batteries, in addition to those already determined on by the United States for the protection of the City and harbour of New York, and if, in his judgment, other positions are preferable, to request that he will report the [117] same to this Board with as little delay as possible.

The City Inspector reported drafts of Ordinances, for the purpose of correcting various nuisances, from No 3706. to No 3710. inclusive.

Ordered that the same do pass.

The following Report from Mr James Hardie to the City Inspector, was read.

Sir

On Tuesday last I was informed by Doctor Douglas, Commissioner of the Health Office, that the cemetery of the African Zion Methodist Episcopal Church, emitted, frequently, a smell which was very offensive [125] to the neighbours. Since that time I have repeatedly endeavoured to see the Sexton; but did not fall in with him till yesterday, towards the close of Divine Worship, when I had a conversation with him and two of the trustees of the Congregation.

This Society has no burying ground, but inter all their dead in a vault under the church. Since the first commencement of this practice full five years have elapsed and I believe it will be nearly correct to state that, at an average, One hundred and fifty persons have been interred there annually since that period: hence there are now in that vault not less than seven hundred and fifty dead bodies.

Upon opening the door of this vault the smell is, at this season of the year peculiarly offensive; and I fear that unless an immediate stop be put to the practice of interment therein, it may be productive of terrible consequences to the neighbourhood.

The two trustees with whom I conversed informed me that since the first complaint was made, respecting the nuisance, it had been their anxious desire to put a stop to interments in the vault altogether; but that they found themselves in the minority. They observed, however, that if an order [126] should be sent by the Common Council or Board of Health, they were persuaded an unanimous resolution would be forthwith passed by their body, directing the discontinuance of interments in the aforesaid vault.

August. 10th 1807. James Hardie.

*Whereupon an Ordinance was passed "to restrain interments in the Vault under the African Zion Methodist Episcopal Church."

Strong and Mr Bogardus to examine into the facts relating to said attempt and to enquire into the conduct of the Watchmen on duty.

A Petition of John B. Tenbrook, butcher to be allowed a stall in Duane Market, was read and referred to the Market Committee.

The following communication from the Assessors for Burling Slip was received.

The Assessors for Burling Slip have attended to the complaint of M^r^ Peter P. Van Zandt, respecting the assessment on his [134] property, and they consider it improper for them to make any alteration therein. M^r^ Van Zandt represents that for the purpose of widening the Slip, he formerly released a very valuable water lot, without any compensation, and consequently he claims a total exemption from Assessment. The Assessors therefore believe, that it is in the power of the Corporation, only, to determine the propriety of exonerating him, in consideration of the sacrifice he states that he has made.

confirmed by the Board, but which had been omitted to be entered on the Minutes, and that the same may be entered, was read and ordered to be entered as follows:

The Street Commissioner has the honor to communicate to the Board, that Miller & Baker who are large creditors on the award of the Jury for opening Canal Street, have some months ago suggested to the Board by petition that an error existed in the quantity of ground [136] required of them for said Street, and the same being referred to the Subscriber he finds it to be true. These gentlemen do not wish to enter into further disputes upon this subject and have agreed to release the whole of the ground as now taken upon condition that interest is allowed to them on their bond from the date of the award, which in the opinion of the subscriber is much less than would, by impartial judges be awarded to them for the error aforesaid. They further state that they are indebted to Mr Lispenard in part for the said ground, and wish the money for that purpose. The bond intended to be given to them is yet in possession of the subscriber, amounting to $8.079 $^{60}/_{100}$ and they have requested him to propose to the Board that they will comply with the necessary cessions and pay the assessment now levied upon them, if the Corporation will give them their bond for the ballance (after deducting the assessment) in twelve months from this date, with interest from the date of the award as aforesaid. The Street Commissioner is of opinion that this is a just and fair proposition, and such as the Corporation ought to comply with. Which is respectʸ submitted Oak Street from Roosevelt to James Street, which was confirmed and William Dustan was appointed Collector.

*The Street Commissioner presented new Assessments for Chamber Street and Beekman Slip, which were ordered to be advertised in the usual manner.

†The Street Commissioner represented that Ebenezer Clark and William Ross [138] are possessed of ground, under lease from Mr Spingler, through which Broadway is to pass, and which is not included in the award of the Jury for opening said street: That they are willing to leave to referrees to determine the compensation that may be due to them, and recommended that a referee be appointed, on the part of the Board, for that purpose.

Whereupon Joseph Watkins was appointed referree.

The Street Commissioner reported that Messrs Stagg and Anson have completed their contract for regulating part of Broadway above Jones Street, and recommended that the ballance of $250. be paid to them.

Ordered that a Warrant be issued in their favour for Warrt No 268 that sum.

The following Report was read and confirmed.

‡The Comptroller and Street Commissioner, by the approbation of Thomas Buchannan signified by his subscribing his name to these presents, have the honor to Report that they met Mr Buchannan [139] with the Surveyors on the ground and adjusted the division line between the land of the said Buchannan and the lands proposed to be conveyed to Robert Lylburne, and therefore recommend that the boundaries of the deed to Mr Buchannan be expressed in the following manner, viz[t]

Chains 32 Links; thence along the land of said Heirs of David Devore N. 47° 45′ W. 2 Chains 35 Links to the Common Lands; thence N. 63° 30′ W. 8 Chains [140] 85 Links; thence S. 34° W. 30 Links; and from thence 12 Chains in a direct line to the place of beginning, containing 42 Acres 1. Rood, be the same more or less, all which courses are to be run as the needle pointed in 1806.

The Committee further state that this survey is according to Mr Buchanans fences nearly and includes more ground than the original survey of Gourke; and that they have agreed with Mr Buchannan that he shall pay for the ground included in this survey which exceeds the original measurement at the rate of the original purchase with interest thereon, until the day of payment.

The Committee are of opinion that the abovementioned boundaries are such as the Corporation ought to accept and recommend that the deeds be made out to Mr Buchanan immediately and delivered on his paying for the extra land, the amount of which will be ascertained by the Committee without delay.

[141] *The following report was read and Ordered to lie for consideration.

The Comptroller to whom it was referred to examine into the situation of the claims of Messrs Rhinelanders to water grants at the foot of Reed, Jay and Beach Streets, and to report such plan as might be proper and just respecting said claims as preferred by the petition of the said Rhinelanders, has the honour to report:

That he has had, aided by the Street Commissioner several conversations with Messrs Rhinelanders upon this subject and has examined the minutes of the Corporation relating thereto, by all which he finds, with respect to Reed Street; 1st That the Corporation agreed on the 10th June 1794 to give a water grant to the Corporation of Trinity Church for all the ground from Washington Street, between Reed Street and Chamber Street to the river, to certain lines therein particularly described, on condition they would do certain things thereinmentioned, at an annual rent of one shilling per foot after the expiration of 42 Years from the 10th day of June 1794. That by mesne conveyances the said premises and appurtenances have [142] become the property of Mr Rhinelander, the breadth of which premises on the present wharf of West Street is about 52 feet.

2. That Messrs Rhinelander also by purchase from the Corporation of Trinity Church and before that Board had agreed to widen or cede their streets in the vicinity, became possessed of all the grounds between Jay and Harrison Streets from Greenwich Street to the North or Hudson river. That Jay Street, on the south side of the premises last aforesaid, is only 40 feet in width, and it is contemplated to widen it by cutting off 25 feet on the north side of it, from the premises owned by Mr Rhinelander, and that a verdict of a Jury now exists in favour of Messrs Rhinelanders for the value of the ground between Greenwich and Washington Streets. But that a large portion of the street, between the east side of Washington Street and West Street remains to be obtained from Mr Rhinelander, as well as the whole breadth of Washington Street from Jay to Harrison Street aforesaid.

3d That the Corporation of New York on or about the 29th day of May. 1797. [143] agreed to sell to Messrs Rhinelander all their right between high and low water mark fronting his property near Beach Street for One thousand Dollars in fee simple, being a breadth of about 125 feet: but which sum has not yet been paid; all which said premises are better understood by an inspection of the maps herewith presented and to which the Comptroller begs leave to refer.

It does not appear, from an investigation of this subject that there is any impropriety in issuing these grants to Messrs Rhinelander, provided they are equally disposed to render justice and a reasonable equivalent therefor. This idea being suggested to Messrs Rhinelander they have consented to a negociation of the whole subject matter stated in the preceding part of this report: and have consented to accept of the grant near Reed Street and pay the aforesaid quit from the time thereinmentioned; that they will relinquish all claims they have to the ground required to widen Jay Street, west of the line of Washington Street, on condition their property on the west of Washington, between Jay and Harrison Streets is exempted from any charge for opening Jay Street above: That they will [144] cede Washington Street from Jay to Harison Street and that they will pay the principal sum of One thousand Dollars, with the interest due thereon, for the ground between high and low water mark, opposite their property in Beach Street.

The Comptroller is therefore of opinion that as Messrs Rhinelander do agree to the stipulations aforesaid, Grants ought to be ordered to be made out in their favor for the grounds to the permanent line and present wharves inclusively, and upon such terms as may be just and right and according to the usual prices of grants in that quarter of the city. All which is respectfully submitted.

The following Letter from Col. Jonathan Williams was presented

To Selah Strong Esqr
Chairman of a Committee of the Corporation of New York.

[146] Fort Columbus, Augt 17. 1807.

Sir

Since your favour of the fifth, inclosing the resolution of the Corporation dated the fourth instant, was received, I have been employed in examining the depths and distances of the shoals and channels in several parts of the harbour and bay of New York, in order to be as correct as possible in the representation I am about to make. The Corporation have done me the honour to ask my opinion,

"whether the Narrows, under all circumstances, be the most eligible "place for the obstruction and erection of batteries, in addition to "those determined on by the United States, for the protection of the "city and harbour of New York."

The best answer that I can make to this enquiry, will doubtless be to lay before the board, a collection of facts relating to the whole space, within and without the Narrows, which have resulted from credible information and unequivocal experiment.

There are people now living who remember when the channel between Governor's island [147] and Long island was fordable, and I have the best authority for saying that about fifty years ago, the gardener of the then Governor used to pass and repass in a canoe, without a paddle, by merely a push with his foot at setting out. By an English chart published in 1776, it appears that the shoalest water in this passage was at that time three fathoms; by a Chart made by Captain Chauncey and Mr Loss, the depth in the same place was in 1798, increased to five fathoms, and there are now seven fathoms of water at low tide.

The cause of this is universally, and I believe truly, ascribed to the cast given to the East river ebb tide, by the docking out on that side of the city.

If this be the effect of a partial obstruction occasioned by the new docks, it may be asked what would be the effect of one general obstruction across the channel between flats of deep and soft mud? As nature acts upon a large scale, and is not disposed to yield to the operations of art upon a comparatively small one, it is not unreasonable to suppose that a new channel would, in such a case, be soon opened on either side.

By the English chart abovementioned, [148] there appears to be a channel round Red Hook, of at least three fathoms deep, across the entrance of Gwoan's Cove, by Yellow Hook, and so on to the Narrows. Capt. Chauncey and Mr Loss' Chart describe the same channel, but it appeared to have been filled up to about two fathoms near Red Hook. I have now sounded the whole length of this channel, and find it has opened itself again, so that I carried from three and a half, to five fathoms, all the way through at low tide. It is therefore reduced to a certainty, that any ship, drawing as much water as can be brought over Sandy Hook, which is barred quite across by three and an half fathoms, may sail close on the Long island side to the eastward of Mud Flat, and come round Red Hook into the main, or into the Buttermilk channel, without coming near enough to be attacked from any point in advance of the already described interior defence.

Buttermilk channel may doubtless be rendered impassible by chains well protected from the shores of Red Hook and Governor's island; and the South side of the latter would be a very commanding point for a battery, [149] which would rake the channel just described, to the whole length of cannon shot. The southern point of Gwoan's Cove, called Yellow Hook, lies about due east from Robins reef, and nearly at right angles with the channel, it was therefore essential to find the true distance and depth of water in this direction, since this appears to be the place most spoken of for obstructing an enemy's passage. By actual measurement with a line and two boats, warping from one to the other, and carrying on this warp as nearly as possible in one direction, making due allowance for the curve of the line by its sinking and by the tide, there appears to be at least three thousand nine hundred yards distance between the points, so far from the shore of each, that the least depth in any one place is seventeen feet, which compared with the ship channel in the Narrows, is nearly as five to two.

In the middle of the main channel the water is twelve fathoms deep to a width of about four hundred and fifty yards; it only decreases to nine fathoms on each side in a space of six hundred yards, and it is not less than five fathoms in fifteen hundred yards width; the channel east of Mud Flat, is in this place about five hundred yards [150] wide, with no less than twenty five feet, all the other depths vary between three and five fathoms.

That the Corporation may have at one view, this distance and the several depths in an east and west direction, I have subjoined a section of the passage quite across from Robins' reef to the point above mentioned. After this representation, the Corporation will not think it necessary for me to give any opinion as to the practicability, expediency, cost or effect of obstructions in this place: their own judgments will decide these questions. It must be remembered, however, that in obstructing the channel in this place, there is nothing to prevent the enemy from possessing the Kil's channel, and totally blockading Newark Bay and the sound, thus cutting off all communication with Jersey below Paules Hook, while the whole anchorage at the quarantine ground is left open, where a fleet of any number or size may ride unmolested and obtain coercively every supply it might want. It will also be matter worthy of consideration, how far this fine harbour may or may not be injured by obstructing the present and opening [151] other channels. While upon this business, I thought it best to ascertain the width of Hendrick's reef at the Narrows, with more accuracy than could be done by trigonometrical observations, owing to the unsteady position of the buoy or boat, which I was obliged to make the apex of the triangle; and I found that in the direction from the first new house below Mr Denisses, towards the most southern private signal staff on Staten island, the reef measured, by the line, four hundred and twenty five yards, allowing twenty five yards for the curve of the line, this shoal may be calculated at four hundred yards from the shore; pursuing the same mode of measuring, the whole width of the Narrows, in this place, appears to be nineteen hundred and five yards, which agrees very well with my previous trigonometrical observations. The water, from the reef and from the shore on the Staten island side, deepens so suddenly that the width of the channel for any ship that can come over the bar at Sandy Hook, ought not to be calculated at less than fifteen hundred yards, and the depth in the line abovementioned is not more than fifteen fathoms; where greater depths are found they may be considered as holes. On trying the current by heaving the log when the boat was at anchor, it [152] appeared to run at the ebb and flood at the rate of two miles in an hour, but on raising the pitch pot, with which the boat was anchored, about two fathoms from the bottom, the current that passed by the boat was but at the rate of one mile in an hour.

As it is reasonable to suppose that the boat at the surface would have towed the pot a little, even if the water below had been still, we may conclude that the current below is not stronger than one mile an hour, and as all changes of full tides by increased freshes or the agitations occasioned by the wind, probably take place only at and near the surface to proportionally small depths, the velocity of one mile in an hour, or the constant velocity of one foot and an half in a second is all the impulse that blocks in the Narrows can be exposed to, at a certain depth, and this impulse would be alternate at each end, in precisely opposite directions, not more than six hours at a time; while the current of the water on each side would be a support rather than a pressure. Hence I conclude that if blocks were to be sunk in the Narrows two sides might be vertical, and if the ends were to be made like the [153] sterlings of a bridge, with a batter or talus of three inches in one foot, their strength would resist the currents and every sort of agitation of the sea from any ordinary cause whatever. In the same proportion as they are made long below in the course of the current, they may be made short above in such a shape as to be narrow in that direction, and of the full width of the base across the tide; thus if the upper surface were a parallelogram of eighty across by thirty along the current, the surface below might be sixty along, by eighty across the current as above, making the mean surface three thousand six hundred square feet, and as the average depth may be taken at sixty five feet, supposing the upper surface to be ten feet under water, as mentioned in my former communication, which it will be remembered is below the ice in winter, the cubical contents of each block will be two hundred and thirty four thousand feet, and by extending the chevaux de frize fifteen feet each way, obstructions of one hundred and ten feet wide might be made to extend from side to side at such distances as to leave ample passage for the water between them.

Twenty eight of these obstructions, with [154] with intervals of eighty feet, would, at the ends of the cheveaux de frize, leave intervals of but fifty feet, and form a line quite across the channel. But instead of filling up the whole space, it was intimated when this idea of obstruction was first stated, and although I approve, I do not take to myself the merit of its ingenuity, that they might run in different lines from either side, so that altho' each line of blocks might be half the width of the Narrows, the extremities might be an hundred yards distant from each other, in the line of the current, this would be always a safe uninterrupted passage for our shipping, when not closed by a chain, and when closed would float along the current at both flood and ebb, and thereby meet with no resistance laterally, and as the floats would ride, each in the rear of the other, the longitudinal resistance would be small. An enemy who might attempt to force the chain, would be obliged to check his way, and consequently his propelling force, by turning at right angles with the wind and tide, and should the tide resist one effort, he would be immediately thrown, by both wind and tide, with his broad side to the next line of blocks, and [155] remain at the mercy of the batteries. Now the whole of this defence, even at five cents the cubic foot, would be but three hundred and twenty seven thousand six hundred dollars, and the chain, which would answer for this purpose, is now lying in good order, at West point. The remarks I have made relative to the proposed obstructions before mentioned, may be said to apply here, and that I should be found in contradiction with myself, I will therefore beg leave to make a few comparative observations on this subject, which I trust every man of candor will admit to be tolerably well founded. The channel near Robins' reef has on each side an immense expanse of water, and below it a body of soft mud. The channel in the Narrows, has on each side, hard rocks and high grounds, with a bottom that is worn down to its utmost depth, and there is probably nothing but rock remaining. The proposed obstructions in the Narrows, admit a current of as much water between them, as they impede the passage of; and as it is impossible to make any impression on either side, the only effect would be to raise the water in the Narrows as much as the opposing bulk amount to. For the sake of round numbers, I will suppose the whole cubical contents to be seven millions [156] of cubic feet. If this mass of water were to be spread over the whole breadth of the Narrows, through its length, it will be found by calculation that it would raise the surface continually with soft mud, and vast expanse on each side, is another question, the solution of which I make no pretensions to. I do not mean in this new statement, to abandon the position I took in my former communication, relative to Mr Fulton's torpedoes. This gentleman, in the several communications I have had with him, appears to be fully possessed of the subject of his invention, upon principles which are all of them reducible to mathematical and experimental demonstration; and seeing, as I have seen, the effect of his Torpedoes, I cannot hesitate in recommending these engines as a very powerful auxiliary. A question of humanity has been raised relative to the use of these machines, which in its effect has rather an inhumane tendency. Let us, if we can, blow up a few marauding invaders, and the immorality and inhumanity of attacking defenceless towns, for the sake of plunder, would be checked, while human miseries would be lessened by rendering such attacks less frequent. Wars [157] have in effect been less sanguinary since the invention of gunpowder; yet when it was first used, it must have had a treacherous appearance.

In my last communication, I probably did not express myself so clearly as I might have done, if it had been written more at leisure than circumstances permitted, for I find that my meaning has not been fully understood. In saying that ships would always pass batteries, I meant to speak of unobstructed passages, and in the direction of a tangent to the angle of the embrasure. This may be considered as settled, until batteries shall be erected of a greater power than any that have hitherto been seen; but the great force of batteries at the entrance of a narrow passage, should be applied at the moment a ship comes within cannon shot, and by a powerful, quick and intersecting fire, do her all possible injury, before she comes at right angles with the battery; every sportsman knows the difference between a bird flying towards him, and one flying across his view. There is no inconsistency in my not opposing what the world seems to have deemed incontrovertible; where there are neither submarine obstructions nor a floating force to aid the batteries, and [158] saying at the same time, that these three, acting together, might be so placed as to render the Narrows invulnerable. If we were to have batteries without gunboats and obstructions an enemy might pass. If we were to have obstructions without force to protect them, the enemy would leisurely remove the dangerous parts and go between the others. Thus, you see, sir, that in my opinion, although a reliance upon any one mode might be illusory, the whole combined would certainly protect the Narrows, and insure security and tranquillity to this opulent city.

Those who object to permanent defence, because it will require time and expence, and will agree to no expence that does not imply immediate effect, may spend their lives in talking upon this subject, but they will never do any thing. Engineers do not deal in magic; there must be a sufficiency of time, money, with a very good stock of patience, or their works will never do any good to the public, nor credit to themselves. If this harbour and bay were in possession of any of the belligerent powers of Europe, their Engineers would pronounce it to be perfectly defensible, but they would require a good fund of the three requisites before mentioned, money, time and patience. What then [159] are we to do in case of a sudden unexpected attack? I answer that we must make use of the means we can, on short notice, command, send our gunboats in front with an ample collection of torpedoes to be placed in proper positions, put a gun or two on board each one of the North river Sloops, and go down upon the enemy like a swarm of bees. I would recommend however, that these auxiliary sloops should keep so far in the rear of the advanced guard, as not to impede their operations. Desperate cases must have desperate remedies; and this bold advance, with our wharves lined with cannon, might save the city. But this kind of defence should never be relied on, as a sure protection. By frequent repetition, it would be in effect more expensive than permanent batteries; and at every requisition the money so suddenly expended would be all lost; to say nothing of the loss occasioned by diverting our citizens from the daily pursuit of their business, and employment of their vessels. The enemy too, might perpetually harrass us by false alarms, till tired of preparations, without using them, we should be caught, when we thought ourselves the most secure.

As the Corporation have not directed my [160] attention to any particular point, I was desirous of extending my examination down to Sandy Hook, but a violent storm drove me back, under the shelter of Coney island. I had here an opportunity of observing a fine land locked bay, called Gravesend bay, where the water was smooth, although there was a high sea without, and where the largest fleet that ever crossed the ocean could ride with perfect safety in four or five fathoms of water, while only a superior naval force could annoy it.

Between the Narrows and the Hook there does not appear one single point above water except Coney island, from which a ship could be touched, and this is so much exposed to be attacked with success, or to be starved out that it cannot be thought a proper place for a garrison. It is merely a sand bank without vegetation and without fresh water, and even if it were formidable, ships could keep at too great a distance to suffer from its shot, whatever might be their number or power. Although I could not visit Sandy Hook, I have a tolerable knowledge of that point, having passed it, and examined very accurate charts. From my experience in the rivers, inlets, [161] &c: on the coast of North and South Carolina, I am confident that no obstructions could be permanently placed on these moving sandbars at the margin of the ocean. Such ideas should in my opinion be abandoned as soon as conceived, and although I have seen a very elegant plan for fortifying this Hook at the expence of four millions of dollars, and a perpetual garrison of eight thousand men, I cannot hesitate to say, that if the plan were executed it would not in my opinion prevent an enemy's fleet from passing by, and occupying Gravesend Bay with very little injury.

I cannot close this account without acknowledging my obligations to my assistants, especially as their concurrence will show that I have hazarded no unsupported assertion, from any suggestions of the imagination. Capt Wilson navigated my boat in the precise direction required. Mr Thomas Brown placed the warp boat and kept it steady in the proper position. Mr Clark, an experienced seaman, heaved the lead with the utmost regularity, and Lieut Bomford, of the corps of engineers, made all the requisite notes and observations with the most minute exactness: and [162] with respect to the channel east of mud flat, Capt Wilson and Mr Clark have both declared that they could see no difficulty of carrying a ship of the line through upon a rising tide.

Thus, Sir, I have given all the explanations on this important subject that I am capable of, and if it should give any satisfaction to the good citizens of New York, I shall be abundantly gratified.

I have the honour to be the persons in his employ, mark the offender or offenders and report them to the proper officer as the only method of correcting the procedure. As to that part of the petition which prays this Board to restrain the sales of furniture in the said Street, I am of opinion that this Board cannot change the place of sale in any possible way, so as to lessen the evil and to remove them altogether would prove a serious inconvenience to the persons concerned. They ought to have some place assigned them for the conducting of those sales, and no Street on the west side of Broadway is better suited than the one in which they are at present permitted to sell. I would also have the law strictly enforced as the best remedy for the evil complained of, I would submit to [169] the Board the propriety of having that particular law published with a notice that hereafter every violation thereof would be promptly noticed.

The Attorney of the Board begs leave to state that after diligent search and enquiry for Testimony in the cause of Colver vs Corporation in relation to the Mud Machines, he has been able to collect the following. First as it relates to one of them it appears that it was purchased from Colver, and when it decayed a new boat was built but all the old works put in the new boat; and as they wore out or got broken new ones were procured. As to the other two built some few years since, they are not altogether in imitation of Colvers, yet the variation is not so great as to exempt the Corporation from the charge of having used his for their model. And as Richard Clarkson has been appointed Collector in place of said Bussing the Street Commissioner recommended that warrants to compel payment be passed in favour of said Clarkson, which was confirmed.

*The Comptroller and Street Commissioner to whom was referred the application of Robert Lylburn respecting a grant of Common Lands reported

That the line between the lands of the Corporation and M^{r} Buchanan having been settled, it only remains, previous to giving the deed to M^{r} Lylburn, that the price at which he is to pay per acre for the ground should be determined. By former resolutions of the Board the whole subject was referred to the, then, Comptroller and the Street Commissioner and by a late resolution the present Comptroller was directed to report his opinion as to the mode of settlement. But as any valuation which might be made by an Officer of the Board would not be obligatory on M^{r} Lylburn, and as therefore, in addition to its not being a final determination of the business, it would give [172] him an election which would not as between him and the Corporation be fair and equal, the subscribers would therefore respectfully suggest the propriety of submitting the valuation of the land to Arbitrators; one to be appointed by the Board, one by M^{r} Lilburne and a third to be chosen by the two persons so appointed. To this arrangement M^{r} Lylburn has signified his assent.

The following letter from Colonel [173] Williams was presented and read.

To Selah Strong Esq^{r}
Chairman of the Committee of the Corporation.

Fort Columbus August 21, 1807.

Sir.

In compliance with the request of the Committee expressed in your letter of the 18th inst. I have sounded from the Southern part of Redhook in a direction West by South to the middle of the main channel bringing the eastern extremity of Bedlows island to bear North by east half east. I divided the soundings into equal distances of time and supposing the Boat to have equal way upon her the division of the length of the lines by the number of soundings gives about thirty yards for the distance between the heaves of the lead: by pursuing this calculation it will be found that the width of the interior channel, eastward of Mud flat, where the water on each side was three and a half fathoms and in the middle five, is about three hundred yards, this was about half tide. The width of the Flat will by the same rule be found to be about four hundred yards with [174] not less than three and a half fathoms and the rest of the line will be found to be a gradual slope from four to eleven fathoms in a distance of about twenty one hundred yards, the averaged depth of which will be six and a half fathoms, the whole length will be found about two hundred yards short of a mile and three quarters as required, but as I brought the bearings of Bedlows island exactly as marked by a pencil line on Cap^{t} Chaunceys and M^{r} Loss' Chart, and as the tide had caused me to deviate one half a point from the course, I conclude that this spot was the termination of the proposed line. I then sunk a Buoy and proceeded to Cawan Point, where I waited for the next tide. On proceeding from this point in a South east direction as required I found about eighteen hundred or two thousand yards of soft mud, in some places six, but no where deeper than eight feet. We then came rather suddenly into five fathoms and continued deepning till we came into eleven fathoms and brought Bedlows island to bear nearly as before North North east; running across [175] we had about a dozen heaves of eleven fathoms, and then shoaled gradually till we came on the flat again, precisely as we ran off it before. Night coming on with contrary winds we could not proceed up in the line of the channel, but by frequent previous sounding, I am convinced it is no where less than eleven and in many places fifteen fathoms, between the part we crossed to the point of Governor's island. I beg leave to observe that there can be no doubt of the accuracy of Cap^{t} Chaunceys soundings, which I understand were all taken in a boat and in fine weather; the differences therefore are only to be ascribed to the changes a soft muddy bottom is liable to in the way of currents and in a long course of time. Desirous of giving the earliest information, I have not been able to accompany this letter with a section of the depths; but Lieu^{t} Bomford will wait upon you with one on Monday morning, in the mean time I send you inclosed a correct account of all the soundings arranged in the order they were made.

I have the honour to be
Sir
Your obedient Serv^{t}
Jon^{a} Williams.

[176] *The following Report of the Committee, on the subject of fortifying the Harbour of New York, was read and ordered to be printed for the use of the Board.

The Committee that was appointed to carry into effect the resolution of the Corporation dated the 13th of July last, offering to cede to the United States such part of the public ground as the Secretary at War may require for the purpose of erecting fortifications for the defence of this city—and also the resolution, dated the 4th of August, offering the aid of this Board to the Executive of this state, to enable him more effectually to put in proper condition, for immediate service, the arms and ordinance belonging to the State, and to procure such military stores as the present exigencies may require—also to devise such other means of defence as may be in the power of this Board to execute:

Report,

That the Secretary at War, with the other Commissioners of the United States, have determined, not only to enlarge and make durable the works on Governor's island, but [177] are now about erecting a very strong and powerful marine battery, on the Northwest point of that island, to extend on the reef, beyond low water mark, into the river. The works on Ellis' island are to be extended, and the number of guns and weight of metal greatly increased. It is also determined by the general government to erect a strong fort, with two or three tiers of guns, to extend beyond the present battery, in front of the Flag staff: also to build a block in the North river, at the foot of Duane Street, of 100. feet square, and to erect a battery thereon. When these works are completed, it is understood they will be able to bring 120 guns to bear upon any point in the bay, between Bedlow's island and the city. The Commissioners have also fixed upon the old Potters' field, as a proper place to erect laboratories and arsenals for depositing and repairing arms and military stores. The several sites, where these works are to be erected, and which are within the jurisdiction of this Board, your Committee have offered, on the part of the Corporation, to cede their right, as soon as the[y] can be made to designate the proper metes and bounds.

Although the works which are erecting under the direction of the government of the United States are proper, and may be considered very useful, as part of a general [178] system of defence, they are, however, deemed not sufficient in themselves to afford that protection against a maratime force, which will insure us safety in case of an attack. Your Committee have deliberately considered the several plans for the defence of the harbour that have been published, and others that have been handed to them; they have also caused several soundings to be made of the harbour, from the Narrows to Bedlows island, and find the shoalest water to be in a line between Red Hook and a reef of rocks on the west Flat, about half a mile below Bedlows island; and from the various information obtained, have thought it most adviseable to recommend the following plan.

To begin at a reef of rocks that is bare at low water, about half a mile to the South of Bedlows island, and run a course east by south to the southerly point of Red Hook on Long island. The distance across, on this line is about 3.000. yards, of which near 400 yards the water is 60 feet deep at low water, and the remainder varies from 40 to 16 feet in depth. A considerable part of the distance, say about 700 yards, does not exceed 16 feet at low water.

To secure this place against the passage of ships, whose draft of water exceeds 16 or 18 feet, [179] it is proposed that blocks be sunk, to consist of timber and stone, in the manner the piers of our wharves are made, the size of which to be in proportion to the depth of the water, and to secure their standing firm, to have the base always greater than the height. These blocks to be 50 feet wide in their position across the river, and to approach within 10 feet of the surface of the water at low tide, and to leave a space between each block of 50 feet. To commence sinking the blocks at Red Hook and to continue them until they come within 200 yards of the reef of rocks on the Flat beforementioned. If it should be feared that Ships might pass between the blocks, where the space left is 50 feet, that could be remedied by projecting 3 or 4 large timbers obliquely on the upper part of the blocks, with their points faced with iron, in the manner of a chevaux de frize: these might extend from each block 10 feet, which would then leave the space but 30 feet. These obstructions, being thus placed would compel all vessels, drawing more than 16 or 18 feet of water, to pass within the space of 200 yards, next the reef of rocks. At that place a fort of such strength might be erected, with two or three tiers of guns, as should be judged sufficient to defend this passage against any hostile fleet. The fort could be erected without difficulty at this place, there being several acres of ground bare at low water which is hard and firm. But as [180] an additional security against a fleet passing the fort, a number of chevaux de frize might be made and at hand. In case of an hostile fleet appearing, they could be placed in the passage in a short time. These might be removed when the danger disappeared.

A further security against forcing this passage by an enemy, would be placing in it a boom, constructed in an angular form ^ with the point outwards, to be moored with a number of grapplings and anchors. If, however, it should still be believed possible, that these obstructions may be removed, and a fleet pass through the passage intended to be left open, it is proposed, that at the distance of 200 yards to the Southward from the line of obstructions and the reef beforementioned 4 or 5 Blocks be sunk, commencing from the flat that borders the west side of the channel to extend into the channel 200 yards, so as to be parallel to the last block of the range extending from Red Hook, and to connect the outward blocks or extremities of each line of blocks with a strong boom or chain, which can here be used with great effect, as it will ride parallel with the tide and not across it. It will then be evident, that a ship coming to New York must [181] change her course, and stand directly for the fort, and it is almost certain, that her crossing the tide would so much impede her way, that the chain would entirely arrest her progress when she would be swept, by the current, directly on the blocks and left at the mercy of the fort.

If it should be thought necessary, and admitting that this chain might possibly be forced, a like range of blocks might be made 400 yards to the north of the last mentioned line, to extend into the channel 200 yards, and be connected in the same manner as the first, with a boom and chain; this would again oblige a vessel to alter her course and stand directly from the fort; her headway, by this time, would be so impeded, that this second chain would certainly stand.

It may be said, that a fleet of ships would take the fort, and then remove the obstructions. This is admitted to be possible; but if the fort be well defended and of suitable strength, with the aid of gun-boats, which can here be used with great effect, it is reasonable to believe the fleet would also be crippled and some of them destroyed. What then would be their situation? They cannot hold the fort, for it is entirely commanded by the works on Bedlow's island, [182] and it cannot be supposed they would attempt to come to town in their disabled state, to encounter other and more numerous and powerful fortifications.

The plan of defending the city of New York, by submarine obstructions, has been objected to on several grounds. First, it has been doubted by some, whether blocks can be sunk where water is sixty feet deep, and if they can be sunk, whether they will stand the force of the current and the storms.

Second, that by placing obstructions in the channel to such an extent, it will have an injurious effect upon the current and probably affect the ebb and flow of the tide. Third, that if they could be sunk and made to stand, & would have no bad effect upon the tide, the worms in a few years would destroy the timber, and the stones would fall out, when it would require the same expence to renew them again. And fourth, that Providence has given us one of the best harbours in the world, and these obstructions would exceedingly injure the passage of ships going out and coming in, and they would occasionally get on these blocks, by which they might be injured or lost.

As to the first objection it is answered, that upon enquiry from the most experienced dock builders, they assure us there is no difficulty in sinking blocks where the water does [183] not exceed 60 feet in depth, and they have no doubt of their resisting the force of the current. We see almost daily, blocks of only 30 feet square, sunk in the East and North rivers opposite the city, where the water is thirty five or forty feet deep, and the current opposite to the town, is much stronger than it is in the bay, where the obstructions are contemplated to be made. Old mariners assert, that the agitation of water in a storm, is principally on the surface, and the bottom of the sea is not disturbed in any proportion to the surface; this being the case, there can no danger arise from storms, as the blocks will not be within ten feet of the surface of the water at low tide.

The second objection has more weight, as this is a new thing and we have not experience to guide us. If it should, have the injurious effect upon the tide to the extent that some suppose, the obstructions ought certainly to be abandoned; as we have no guide to direct us, every one must exercise his own judgment. Your Committee have, however, made various calculations, that the public mind may have some data to form an opinion.

It will be observed that the extent of the harbour from Red Hook, on Long island to Cowan's Point on the Jersey shore, is near four [184] miles; that the distance of the obstructions contemplated to be made, is about one and a half miles; that the blocks take up only half the space as far as they go, and that they do not come within ten feet of the surface at low water; the whole column of water, flowing between Long island and the Jersey shore, at low water, amounts to 350.000 square feet, and the proposed obstructions amount to 77.000 square feet; not one quarter of the whole column of the water will be obstructed, and if the number of square feet be taken at half tide, the obstructions will only be one sixth part of the whole space. It would appear from these calculations, that the obstructions could have no injurious effect upon the ebb and flow of the tide; the ground and wharves made on the east side of this city, have contracted the river more than one quarter of its original breadth, and our piers now are in the deepest part of the river. It has not been observed that the tide flows less at this time at Hell gate, than it did a century past. The current no doubt, is stronger opposite the town, than it was formerly; but it is believed that the same quantity of water passes in the river now, that did before the river was contracted.

[185] The third objection is against the durability of the blocks. Your Committee have taken pains to examine some of the oldest wharves in this city.

The Crane wharf, which has been built about sixteen years, has been searched under water at low tide; the timber appears to be perfectly sound and not the least decayed. We have examined another wharf, which was said to have been built previous to the revolution; the timber of which appeared to be sound. There is no doubt there are worms in the timber; they make small holes in the logs where they enter, but do not entirely destroy the wood. From the information of the dockbuilders, who have broken up old docks, that have been built 50 years, the timber, some distance below low water mark, has been little worm eaten, but such parts as the stones have covered, has not been touched by the worms, and was as sound as when put into the wharf.

To the fourth and last objection, that it will injure the navigation. It is answered, that there will be water sufficient for nine-tenths of our vessels to sail over the obstructions and such as require a larger draft of water, at all times when the wind is fair, can pass through the space of two hundred yards [186] intended to be left unobstructed; but it may sometimes happen when the wind is a-head, the Ship will lose a few tides before a suitable time offers to come up; and there is a possibility of some being lost by getting on the blocks; but considering the great object of having the city safely protected from invasion, these objections are of small moment.

The calculations of expence to make the obstructions in the channel, will not exceed 200.000 dollars, and to raise the flat sufficiently high to erect a fort upon, of 1000 feet in length, and 100 feet in breadth, will not be more than 100.000 Dollars; the cost of building the fort, and its necessary appendages, Your Committee have not military experience sufficient to determine.

If the Corporation should think proper to adopt this plan of defence, and to proceed immediately to carry it into effect, the next question is, in what manner the funds are to be raised. It is believed from the patriotic zeal of our citizens, and from the general anxiety expressed by all persons, that something should be done, without delay, to put this city in a posture of defence; there would be no difficulty in raising by [187] loan from the citizens, a sum sufficient to effect this purpose, upon Corporation Bonds, redeemable at pleasure, the interest to be paid half yearly. There can scarcely be a doubt, but the Government of the United States will assume and pay this debt; but in case they should not, and it should ultimately fall upon the city to pay it, the debt and interest would be extinguished in three years, by doubling the usual yearly taxes. Would it not be best even to pay the debt outselves, rather than remain in this exposed and defenceless situation? Our interest clearly dictates the propriety of the measure.

This is a work of great magnitude, and will take more than one year to complete it. The materials are not to be had in sufficient quantities at present, but we ought to make a beginning this year with what materials can be procured, and the works may probably be finished in the course of the next summer. If we should unfortunately be involved in a war, in consequence of the present dispute with England, it will most probably take place before any effectual system of defence can be completed, and we must submit to our unhappy situation. But if the storm should blow over, we ought not to desist [188] from our determinations, to put the city in a state of defence; we cannot always promise ourselves an exemption from the calamities of war: on the 20th of June last, the country felt as secure and as confident of the continuation of peace, as it has felt for many years past; but from the events that have recently taken place, it is seen upon what an uncertain tenure the peace of nations depends. The advice of our immortal Washington ought therefore to be confided in, "that to preserve peace we ought always to be prepared "for war."

All which is submitted.

The Committee to whom the several Petitions praying for a reduction of ground rent in Chatham Street were referred

Report on the petition of Henry Titus* That from the present situation and advantages of the premises, it would be inexpedient to make any reduction on the rent at present. The Street Commissioner reported that the referrees appointed by the Corporation and Ithacar Bouker and his associates to decide upon the price to be paid for the extra work done at Post's bridge in the Manhattan Avenue had agreed upon the sum of Thirty Dollars.

Warr^t N° 327. Ordered that a warrant be issued in favour of said Bouker for that amount.

The Street Commissioner to whom was referred the* Petition of Mess^rs Hulsart & Stagg, reported that a difficulty has existed in collecting the money upon the warrant issued against [217] the delinquents on the assessment for regulating Rivington Street, in consequence of the present Occupant, M^r Benjamin Judah, who purchased the premises since the assessment, not being named in the said warrant, and recommending the Board to authorize him to insert that name for the said purpose, and that it was inexpedient from the present state of the treasury to make an advance to said Hulsart & Stagg, which was confirmed.

The Street Commissioner reported an Ordinance for paving the east side of Peck slip, between the store of Jacob Mott Esquire and South Street which was passed.

The following Communication from the Street Commissioner was read;

The Street Commissioner has the honour to communicate that he has this morning attended with Colonel Williams at Duane Street Basin to ascertain the quantity and position of the water right he wishes the Corporation to convey to the United States for fortifications at that place.† The letter from him to the Chairman of the Committee of the Common Council, herewith presented, dated in August last, inserted at end of this report P. 221. mentions a [218] distance of 300 feet in a North and South direction parallel to the intended permanent line, which he has now agreed will be sufficient for his purposes, provided he has an indefinite line from his eastern limits into the river.

* Marginal note reads See. P. 205.—Ed.

In order to preserve the revenue of the wharves and basin as much as practicable the subscriber has pointed out the grounds to be occupied by the United States as portrayed on the sketch herewith presented and to which he begs leave to refer. To this area Colonel Williams has given his consent giving him free egress and regress over the pier to a draw bridge leading to the works. To be more particular, the Street Commissioner begs leave to describe the grounds by references to the map as follows:

1st A. B. C. D represents the ground required by Col. Williams.

2d A to E is a space of 20 feet over which is to be a draw bridge, up at night, to let vessels pass into the basin N° 2.

3d A is to be 50 feet east of F and the line from A to B is to be 300 feet long and parallel to the permanent line, to the east of which the Corporation are to retain the right wharfage.

4th From A to G a line of 250 feet in the extent [219] of ground to be built upon. The other 50 feet from G to B is intended by Col. Williams as a water lot, and to be used by the Corporation in common with the citizens when not in use by the government.

5th The distance from H. to I. being the space the Street Commissioner believes the Corporation have an indisputable right to, is about 225 feet, being 95 less southerly than the line of the intended grant. This 95 feet trenches of course upon the waters fronting upon the block between Chamber and Warren Streets and will deprive those proprietors of so much of their future water right into the river. How far the Corporation possess the right to grant this space to the United States is not for the Street Commissioner to determine. Upon this subject however he will remark that no water grants have as yet been issued in that vicinity.

By this arrangement it will be perceived that due regard has been had to the preservation of the Corporate revenue, and that the works in front of the line from H to K will afford a fine shelter for small craft or sloops and deprive the Corporation of no part of their wharfage except the small space of 50 feet from E to F where it is indispensably necessary to have the draw bridge before mentioned.

The Street Commissioner hopes this arrange- [220] ment will meet the approbation of the Common Council and request to know whether he shall direct the survey and maps for the cession to the United States to be made in conformity therewith.

All which is respectfully submitted

[221] Colonel Williams Letter to Alderman Selah Strong, referred to in the preceding Report.

Fort Columbus. Aug^{t} 1807

Sir

The number and variety of my late duties and the difficulty of fixing determinate lines on a watery surface have delayed my application to you for certain cessions of submarine and other territory to the United States in conformity to the resolution of the Corporation of the 13th of July. It is impossible to determine the precise limits in the submarine cessions, and owing to the granted water lots on the North river the distance from the point of the Battery will necessarily be greater than at first intended. I would therefore propose that the grant be made in a line from the salient angle of the bastion of the battery in a direction S. 77. W. towards Ellis' island to the edge of the channel and on each side of that line, to any distance that may be occupied by the United States not exceeding two hundred feet at right angles from that line northwards, and two hundred feet southwards, granting however only so much as shall be absolutely occupied, with a water lot [222] of fifty feet on each side and to the channel in front with a right of egress and regress to and across the Battery to the main street. In like manner I would propose that the grant of the Corporation's property near Rhinelanders wharf should be restricted on the inside by the quantity of space the Corporation thinks proper to reserve as a place for vessels to be within; to leave it unlimited towards the channel; but the space to be limitted by two parallel lines three hundred feet distant from each other and perpendicular to the front line of the wharves and a water lot of fifty feet on each side of the works that shall be actually made. The Corporation may further restrict, if they please, that the Bridge to be made to connect the Fort with the shore shall have a draw in it sufficient for vessels to pass and repass.

I inclose an extract of a letter from the Governor, by which it appears that the grant of Pottersfield must be made by this Corporation and I would propose to have the place designated by the existing fences in the open square behind the house and garden of that place at the angle of the intersecting roads now occupied. The Magazine, Arsenal, Labaratory, Workshops &c: &c: proposed to be built should [223] not be exposed to any buildings near them on either side on account of the danger of Fire. I should therefore think it proper for the line to extend to the road on each side and so wide as to admit a large yard to be inclosed which may also serve for a deposit for various purposes. The metes and bounds of this may be ascertained by the City surveyor; and I will attend him at any moment that may be agreable, on notice being given me the day before.

Extract of a letter from His Excellency Governor Tompkins to Colonel Williams.

New York. 25th July. 1807.

Sir

"The land around the Bastion of the old Battery belongs to the Corporation of New York, together with the land on the Battery which will be necessary to answer the purposes of fortification."

"The land at Pottersfield originally belonged to the Corporation. They granted it to the State for the use of an Arsenal, but as it has not been applied to that use by the State, and as by an act of the Legislature a lease which the [224] Surveyor General had given of it was directed to be assigned to the Corporation and the rent which had been received in the mean time was ordered to be refunded to them. it is presumed the right of the State was relinquished and that the property revested in the Corporation. At any rate I think their title will be deemed adequate, and that you will have nothing to apprehend from any interference with you by the Agents of the State."

"The resolution of the Corporation of the 13th inst. embraces the whole property belonging to them. It will therefore be necessary for you only to furnish them with the precise limits and boundaries of the land required to answer your objects and a conveyance will be forthwith executed therefor."

Ordered that the Comptroller prepare a deed in conformity, on condition that the premises be applied by the United States for the sole purpose of erecting a Fortification for the defence of this city to be commenced forthwith.*

Resolved that the Street Commissioner cause the survey of the shores of this city, lately ordered to be made, to be completed and a plan thereof presented to this Board at the next [225] meeting.

Resolved that the east side of Broad Street between the mouth of the Common sewer and the intersection of Front Street be taken up and repaired and that the collateral entrances to the Main sewer, within that space, be taken up, repaired and constructed upon such plan as the Street Commissioner shall direct: And that the Street Commissioner be and he is hereby directed to prepare an ordinance for that purpose, as well as an ordinance for the paving the head of Whitehall Slip and the adjacent grounds where paving may be necessary.†

Board that he has been at the Old Potter's field with Colonel Williams to point out, more particularly, the ground intended to be ceded to the United States, and mentioned to him that a Street lying at right angles from Bloomingdale road to Albany Avenue cutting off an angle from the rear of the public grounds, was long since intended to be opened by conversations with General Bailey upon that subject, who owns the grounds adjoining thereto. Colonel Williams approved of the arrangement as the public grounds would then be surrounded by spacious streets and the property in the vicinity be more protected from the explosion of a magazine in case such an accident should happen. And he requested the Street Commissioner to obtain from General Bailey his determination, and if possible to settle the streets previous to the cession.*

[232] The Street Commissioner has further to communicate that he has been, likewise, on the ground with Gen. Bailey and finds him willing to make a fair exchange of ground which will be cut by the aforesaid street according to such principle as may be settled by referrees reciprocally chosen and named Jacob Shute as a referree on his part, if the plan was agreed to by the Common Council.

The Street Commissioner believes it will be productive of public good to comply with this arrangement, and recommends that George Gosman, who resides in the vicinity, be appointed on the part of the Corporation to settle the proportionate value of the ground in question, the position of which may be better understood by inspection of the annexed map to which the Street Commissioner begs leave to refer.†

The Street Commissioner also submits to the Board whether it would not be better to straighten, or make straighter, the north side of the old post road along the public grounds by bringing out the line as marked on said map about 20 feet where the road is now 144 feet wide and where it has a considerable and unpleasant bend. This alteration can be [233] made without any personal inconvenience and will increase the triangle proposed by the subscriber to be reserved on the east side of the Albany Avenue and which the United States do not want.

The following Report was presented

The Committee appointed to examine the situation of Oak and Chesnut and Bancker Streets between Pearl and Roosevelt Streets and to determine upon such plan as might be most adviseable to improve said Streets.

Reports that they have viewed the premises and considered upon the subject and are of opinion and now recommend that Oak Street be repaved from Pearl to Roosevelt Street and raised in such manner as that the walks be on a level with the platform of Gilbert Jacksons house.§ And that Bancker Street for the same distance be raised and paved in like manner.

That Chesnut Street, which now empties [252] in the above streets be taken up and raised to conform to the above lines, and that the water out of Chesnut Street be carried into Roosevelt Street through an Alley of Mr Dodges House and an alley of a house said to belong to Doctor Torbert.

The Committee further recommend that a negociation be directed by a Committee for the aforesaid privilege through those alleys: And that the Street Commissioner be directed to prepare an Ordinance in conformity to the above remarks.

Ordered that the same be confirmed.

A Report of the Street Commissioner with an Ordinance for regulating Vandam Street, formerly Budd Street, was confirmed and George Clealand, Gilbert Coutant, George Smetzler, William H. Robinson and John Ten Eyck, were appointed Assessors.*

The Street Commissioner reported an Assessment for regulating Front Street from Peck to James Slip,† which was confirmed and William Peters was appointed Collector

[253] The following Report was presented:

‡The Comptroller and Street Commissioner to whom were referred the petition of Peter Ogilvie praying that Cherry Street be directed to be extended into the river, and the Petition of John & Thomas Gardiner relative to Water grants opposite their property at Corlaers Hook have the honor to Report that Peter Ogilvie in common with other persons as stated in his petition was directed to carry out and make Corlaers Street and the grounds for the distance of two hundred feet east of Corlaers Street, in twelve months from the date of that order.

That said Ogilvie owns the ground bounded by Cherry Street and in order to comply with the aforesaid order would be obliged to sink a block or wharf at a great expence from the present shore the distance required into the river, and notwithstanding that expence, would not be able to come to the front of his premises unless Cherry Street was also made.

That John Gardner owns the water lots on the opposite side of Cherry Street and for which he has with his brother Thomas applied for a grant, by the inclosed petition.

[254] That by a conversation with Mr Tablé agent for said Gardners it appears that they would have no objection to uniting with Peter Ogilvie and make the whole of Cherry Street, provided it was so ordered, and which would thereby afford them a spacious wharf and basin on the south side of that Street.

That Mr Cunningham who lately petitioned the Corporation against the grant to Messrs Gardners, has a lease of them, 18. years unexpired, for the ground between Cherry and Water Streets, bounded by the east river: and that as far as respects his objection, the Committee believe it rests between him and the persons from whom he leased and that the Corporation have no right, or at least ought not to interfere.

That Messrs Gardiners do not wish to improve the waters in front of Mr Cunningham and are willing to leave it in its present situation until the Corporation shall order it to be filled.

Under all these circumstances your Committee are of opinion that Cherry Street ought to be carried out at the joint expence of Peter Ogilvie and John Gardiner and that the blocks ought to be directed to be sunk and filled forthwith, to an extent into the river, equal to and on a line with the bulkhead now sunk by William Hunter and his associates and filled up within [255] the time stipulated in their order to the level of the intended height of the street.

Your Committee are further of opinion that on compliance with such order, that water grants ought to be issued to John Gardiner and Thomas Gardiner for the water in front of their grounds between Cherry Street and Water Street to such extent into the river as are contemplated to be given to the said Ogilvie, Hunter and their Associates and upon the same terms, with the condition that they shall be obliged to make half of Water Street to the same extent whenever thereunto required by the Corporation.

The Committee in conformity with these opinions have the honor to present the draft of an Ordinance, which in their opinion ought to be passed.

John S. Hunn.

N. B. The Committee are not prepared to report upon that part of Messrs Gardiners petition relative to Lots on the South side of Corlaer's Hook.

Ordered that the same be confirmed and that the Ordinance pass accordingly.

The following Report was presented*

The Comptroller and Street Commissioner [256] to whom it was referred, further, to report upon the case of water grants to be given to Messrs Rhinelanders have the honour to state

That in addition to their former report they deem it only necessary to observe that Mr Rhinelander ought to receive a water grant for the ground between Reed, Chamber, Washington and West streets upon the terms stated in the former report: but that the water fronting these premises and the whole width of the Street be reserved by the Corporation for public purposes.

2d That he also receive a water grant on the usual terms for the grounds between Jay and Harrison Streets, after deducting such sums as may be due for repairs upon that wharf agreeably to his certificate hereunto annexed; and on condition also that he unites, on the usual terms, with the Corporation, whenever thereunto required, to build a pier, the center line of which shall be on the north side of Jay Street.

3d That a grant be given to Mr Rhinelander for the waters fronting his ground between North Moore and Beach Streets, on condition that he unites, on the usual terms, with the Corporation, whenever thereunto required, [257] to build a Pier, the center line of which shall be on a line with the South line of Beach Street, and also upon condition that the interest of the sum of One thousand Dollars and the interest thereon, mentioned in the former report, be added to the rents of the last mentioned premises, as a future rent, all of which interest shall be calculated at the rate of seven percent per annum. And that these streets be made to the west line of West Street by the said Rhinelander, and that the same shall be kept in repair by him, except the wharf south of the present Pier at Duane Street, which shall be repaired by the Corporation.

The Comptroller and Street Commissioner conceive it unnecessary to be more particular as the present report, connected with so much of the former report as is not affected by the above remarks, will give the Board a full idea of the subject and which they submit with the map of the grounds in question.

said repairs from the papers and books in the Comptrollers Office without effect, owing to the circumstance of the accounts including repairs of sundry other places at the same time without any particular statements or heads in them, by which to ascertain [266] where the work was done.

That from the statements made by Mr Warner they find that he is also unable to tell any particulars. That the practice with him was to employ Smiths to do a large quantity of iron work and to deposit it at a suitable place, and from thence to carry it and use it where wanted and the same with respect to timber and other materials, and that even the mens wages did not specify the precise place they worked and that they were taken occasionally from one part of the Corporation work to another without regard to the time expended at each place.

That the Subscribers have viewed the premises and are of opinion, which opinion is made up from the best information they can collect, that one thousand Dollars will cover all the expences put upon this particular wharf and they are corroborated in that opinion by Mr Warner himself.

That they have had several additional conferences with Mr Rhinelander, who is still willing to allow the sum of One thousand Dollars, deducting the rents received by the Corporation or otherwise, if the Board will consent to that, to leave it to any two persons the Corporation shall appoint to settle that expence, agreeably to his certificate hereunto annexed.

[267] Considering the right of Wharfage which Mr Rhinelander has relinquished and his consent to comply with the other particulars stated in the former reports, the Subscribers are decidedly of opinion that the board ought to give him his grants, without further and more severe conditions: Conditions which have been exacted from no other persons.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Ordered that the same be confirmed.

The following Report was read.

The Comptroller and Street Commissioners to whom it was referred to fix upon such price as ought to be paid Thomas Ten Eyck* [268] for his advances on the Pier at Coenties Slip, have the honour to report,

That M^{r} Ten Eyck expended Four thousand Seven hundred and eighty seven Dollars upon said pier, as appears from the accounts and statements exhibited to us of the Superintendant of that work. That he has at his individual expence kept the said pier in repair to this time, and he never received from the Corporation any thing therefor; which in equity ought to be paid, as they receive the wharfage on the West side next the Slip.

That considering no person is situated similar to M^{r} Teneyck and considering he has long since advanced this money and by especial order of the Board complied with their request to erect said pier; it is but reasonable he should be remunerated a just portion of that advance.

Your Committee are therefore of opinion that he will receive ample justice if the sum of Fifteen hundred Dollars are paid to him, at the expiration of One Year without interest, Upon the condition however, that he forever hereafter keep the said Wharf in repair at his expence. And Your Committee are assured that [269] with such sum and upon such conditions M^{r} Ten Eyck will be satisfied.

The following Report was read

*The Street Commissioner to whom was referred the petition from sundry inhabitants in and adjacent to the lower part of Roosevelt Street, respecting the widening of said Street, has the honor to Report,

That about three years ago the Corporation conceiving it conducive to the interest of the community to widen that Street, caused an award to be presented in Court, by which it was determined that about the sum of Sixteen thousand Dollars should be paid for widening Roosevelt Street from Cherry Street to the river, of the same width it is above Batavia lane, the Board did not, however, pay the money and the transaction fell through.

The present petition is intended to revive the former proceedings, or to request the Corporation to operate anew. In consequence of which the Subscriber has called upon Mr and Mrs Beekman for their price for [282] so much of the ground and buildings thereon, as will be required to make the Street of the aforesaid width: and he has only been able to obtain from them the enclosed statement of their terms which however includes but about one half of the ground that will be required. This statement fixes the sum of Ten thousand One hundred Dollars for that portion necessary to make the Street about the width it is on the opposite side and according to that ratio, the whole ground required would exceed twenty thousand Dollars.

The Street Commissioner is well persuaded that the widening of that Street would be a great convenience, but he is of opinion the Board ought not to accept of the terms proposed and would in preference recommend the usual mode of valuation through the agency of a Jury.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Common Council
19th Octr 1807

*The Committee to whom was referred the complaint of Joseph De la Montagnie, John Johnson and others relative to an Assessment made in 1804 for filling in and making a bulkhead at Vesey Street Slip

Report

That your Committee having met and viewed the situation of said Slip, and there received the objections and explanations of the persons complaining: And having also examined the minutes of this Corporation, find that in August 1803. a Committee reported on the petition of Joseph De la Montagnie and others, [284] that Vesey Slip ought to be filled &c. &c. That on the second of July 1804, the Comptroller reported in favour of building a bulkhead at said Slip. That on the 10th July an Ordinance passed for that purpose. That on the 20th August an Assessment therefor was confirmed. That on the 3d September Israel Wood and others petitioned against the Assessment, and that the Petition was referred, and again referred on the 22d Octr That on the 19th Novr the Collector made a return of Delinquents, and that on the 24th Decr 1804 the Committee to whom was referred the Petition of sundry inhabitants complaining of inequality in the assessment for making a Bulkhead and filling in Vesey Street Slip, reported in Substance,

That they had heard the petitioners by Counsel and attentively examined the subject, and were of opinion that the Assessment was fairly made and correct, and therefore recommended that the prayer of the Petitioners be not granted. And thereupon the said report and Assessment, was ordered to be confirmed, and the prayer of the said petition rejected.

Your Committee find also that the greater part of the monies assessed have been paid and believe that an attempt to correct or alter the assessment would probably create more difficulty than it would remove, even if the Assessment should be proven unequal or improper [285] in some particulars, which however your Committee do not discern to any great extent if at all. And are therefore of opinion, that it is not only inexpedient, but improper, that this board should, at this late date, interfere to alter, or vary, said Assessment so made and

The Street Commissioner has the honour to inform the Board, that during last Summer he attended several surveys with Mr Bridges [306] and Mr A. Loss to ascertain the line of Broadway from the North of Leonard Street to the houses built by Mr Hattrick and Mr Thompson and after having consulted Mr Stillwell & Mr Charles Loss on the subject, it was agreed that the line on the West side of Broadway should be straight from the two points above mentioned and an accurate survey, under his inspection, was made accordingly, particularly designated the position of Buildings on that side of the Street, which survey has since been tested in various ways and found right: That he has also attended with the same persons a few days past to fix the corner of Spring Street and Broadway, and to ascertain which, it was measured with precision under his inspection, from Bayards South line, and the corner fixed after deducting 5/8ths of an Inch from each lot, being a deficiency in the whole line; where they fixed a foundation for Mr Clark, as appears from the annexed certificate of the Surveyors.

The Street Commissioner is persuaded the above measurement is correct, and agreeably to Justice, and as it is adviseable to establish the line of Broadway, as above mentioned, as well as the corner of Spring Street; that it may be a record for the future government of the Surveyors: He proposes the following resolution in respect to it.

Resolved, that the west line of Boadway [307] be straight from the houses built on the North side of Leonard Street by Francis Neuville to the houses built at the corner of Amity Street by Robert Thompson agreeably to a survey made by the Street Commissioner accompanied by Mr A. Loss and Mr Bridges as the same is on file in his Office. and

Resolved further that the survey made by the aforesaid persons fixing the foundation of a building for Mr Clark, on the Southerly Corner of Spring Street and Broadway in conformity to the aforesaid line, be confirmed as the true corner of Spring street aforesaid.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The Street Commissioner has the honour to communicate to the Board that he was called upon by Waldron Beach to survey two lots in Spring Street, west of Broadway, and appointed to meet him there the next day at one o'clock, where he attended for that purpose with Mr Bridges. That in the morning of that day Mr Beach had caused a survey of the ground to be made by Mr A. Loss, and the same was lined and staked out by him when the subscriber came.

That Mr Beach was informed in the evening previously when he called that there was a considerable deficiency of ground on Bayard's [308] estate between Broadway and the grounds late of Col. Burr and that the Common Council had passed a Resolution that the said grounds should be equally divided amongst the proprietors so that each lot should bear a loss of its due proportion. But Mr Beach directed Mr Loss, or staked out the grounds without such deduction.

That when the Subscriber called at the time appointed, he found Mr Beach and others digging the cellar in conformity with Mr Loss' survey and he informed Mr Beach that it was wrong and at least three feet two far to the westward and directed him to desist from laying the foundation in that place and that Mr Bridges, who was then present, would give him the true line of his lots if he wished it.

That a few days ago the Street Commissioner passing through the street, observed the foundation carried up on the same spot, level with the Street, which foundation is between two and three feet from the Street, and as aforesaid above three feet west of the true line of apportionment. That he again, in presence of Mr Brydges directed the workmen to desist raising the house, and that the foundation was incorrect. The Street Commissioner therefore submits to the Common Council to direct him whether he ought to commence a prosecution for such intrenchments on the lots and violation of the standing resolutions of the Board.

All which is respectfully submitted.

[309] Ordered that the same be referred to the Attorney of the Board with directions to consult with Mr Harrison on the subject.

The following Report was read

†The Comptroller reports that in pursuance of the directions of the Board the cellar under the Market in Duane Street was on the 31st Ulto put up at auction for a lease of Five Years and six months from the 1st inst. and was struck off to Mr John J. The Comptroller presented the following Report.

‡The Comptroller to whom was referred the application of John Jacob Astor for Water Grants opposite the property lately purchased by him on the west side of Greenwich Street, between Brannon Street and the State Prison, has the honour to report.

That the property now owned by Mr Astor bounds upon the Shore of the Hudson, from a point Fifty two feet south of King Street to Leroy Street, being three entire Blocks of two hundred feet each, with the exception of Fifty feet owned by Mr Bruce.

[310] That he has been upon the premises with the Street Commissioner and had several consultations with him respecting suitable places to be reserved for public Basins. That it appears no reservations on the East of West Street can be made to any advantage opposite Mr Astor's property except in front of the Block, between Charlton & King Streets, where it was formerly agreed to make a reservation, but which has since been partly built upon by Mr Ritter. This space including Charlton & King Streets from Washington Street westerly is recommended to be reserved affording an Area of Water Two hundred and Ninety feet wide besides the Wharves or piers and which is at Sixty feet west of Washington Street, about three feet deep at low water, from whence piers may be extended as may more particularly appear by a reference to the Map accompanying this report.

The Street Commissioner agrees in opinion with the Subscriber, that all the expanse of water from Brannon Street Wharf, for three or Four Hundred feet south of it, opposite to the mouth of Canal Street and Westerly of Washington Street ought to be reserved for public purposes, and if the Corporation reserve the right of wharfage in front of West Street from the south side of Leroy Street to the North side of Morton Street and from thence extend piers of the usual length as [311] portrayed on the Map aforesaid, the public accomodations will be as ample as will be required in that vicinity, particularly if they reserve the wharfage in front of the intersecting streets.

The Comptroller is therefore of opinion that there would be no impropriety in issuing Water grants to Mr Astor from High water mark to West street, and recommends that they be directed to be prepared for him, and also for Mr Bruce, who has already extended a Wharf, subject however to the reservations aforesaid, and upon the further condition that he unite with the Corporation to make the abovementioned piers, in manner as has been agreed to by Mr Rhinelander. Report

That having examined and seen the operations of the Hydrant at the corner of William and Liberty Street, They are of opinion that very great benefit and use may be derived from such in the speedy extinguishment of Fires, far more than by any other source yet made use of. And therefore would recommend that a Committee be appointed to confer with the Manhattan Company on this subject, and whether the privilege can be obtained for the water on reasonable terms. Then Your Committee further recommend that at least three of those Hydrants be ordered by this Board to such parts of this city as are most destitute of a supply of water; and that the Chief Engineer have the management of procuring, placing and superintending the said Hydrants under the direction of the Committee of the Fire department.

That as the heirs of Jacobus Kip sold their lots between Water & Front Streets as bounded on Dover Street, and which are opposite to those of William Lawrence. It is to be inferred thence that some understanding has subsisted, at least by implication, to lay open the said Street. The Street Commissioner presented a return of Delinquents on the assessment for the Bulkhead in Beekman Slip:

Ordered that a warrant to enforce payment be issued in favour of William Peters.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report

The Street Commissioner has the honor to cover the Award of the Arbitrators appointed between the Corporation and the Tenants of Mr Spingler on Broadway; by which it is decided that the Corporation pay to Mr Clark|| [322] Two hundred & seventy six Dollars, to Mr Ross One hundred & Eighty five Dollars, and to Mr Wheaton Ninety Dollars, for their several interests in the ground required for the Street, deducting therefrom the amounts assessed to them respectively, which will leave a ballance to be paid to them of Four hundred & Fifty one Dollars ten cents: A warrant for which sum the Street Commissioner recommends may be directed in favor of the Comptroller or himself to pay them off.

It may here be proper to communicate to the Board a Short Statement of the case in Broadway respecting Mr Spingler.

When application was made to him to cede the Street to the Corporation, in common with his neighbours, he objected to it, on the ground that he was not equally benefitted, having a piece of land, which would be cut by the Street greatly to his disadvantage, by leaving a gore between the Bowery and Broadway. But he afterwards signed the deed of cession, upon the express condition, which was agreed to, on the part of the Attorney and the Street Commissioner, Agents for the Corporation, that his Estate should not be charged for any part of the assessment for opening Broadway.

It was afterwards found that Mr Spingler had, previous to signing the deed, leased part of his grounds to the persons above named, [323] and the Assessors have thought proper to assess them respectively for their several portions of removing the houses and other buildings of Mr Burling and Mr Dunham, in which assessment Mr Spingler is charged Two hundred and Nine Dollars ten cents, which he conceives the Corporation ought to pay. It is further to be understood, that the condition on the part of the Corporation to release Mr Spingler was made, upon the presumption that he was to release the estate of incumbrance. And if it should be otherwise determined, and the Corporation are considered still bound to release Mr Spingler, they will be obliged to assume Six hundred & Sixty Dollars twenty cents of that Assessment instead of Three hundred and Nine Dollars which has been assessed, making an assumption of Three hundred and Fifty One Dollars twenty cents more than was intended by the Agents of the Corporation.

The Street Commissioner, knowing these circumstances, cannot take upon himself to make these settlements in the way proposed by Mr Spingler, and Solicits further instruction from the Board.

Mrs Arden who promised repeatedly to sign the deeds of cession and to whom the Street Commissioner has three or four times been with the deeds for that purpose without finding her home, now objects to making [324] the conveyance, unless the Corporation also releases her from the assessment amounting to Ninety dollars: although there appears to be no good reason for the assumption by the Corporation, particularly as Mrs Arden has sold all her interest East of and bound upon Broadway, previous to her engagements with the Corporation.

The Board will determine the course to be pursued in this respect; when there will be no further obstacle to opening that Street, except the opposition of Mr Farquhar, who assents that the agreement to cede the street through the estate he occupies, signed by a majority of the Trustees, is not binding upon them; because it was never entered upon their minutes.

All which is respectfully submitted

Novr 9th 1807. John S. Hunn.

Whereupon Resolved that the Collector of the assessment for Broadway be directed to return the names of those persons who have not yet paid their respective assessments, in order that a Warrant may be issued to enforce payment.*

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report†

The Street Commissioner being directed by a Resolution of the Board to examine the [325] propriety of appropriating a leased lot in the Commons N° 113 (after the expiration of the lease) for a public opening or square, has the honor to Report.

That he has sketched the inclosed plan of the premises together with Hamilton Square adjoining thereto on the East, in order to shew its relative situation to that place.

That the Lot contemplated to be reserved for that purpose does not open directly opposite the said square, but runs 105 feet northerly of the North line of the intended houses, and being only 260 feet broad, brings the South line a little to the South of the Centre of the Square and consequently would not materially improve that neighbourhood by being opened as it is.

That M^r Brasher who owns the Lot immediately South of Lot N° 113. has been consulted, and he agrees that if the Corporation consent to open Hamilton Square to Manhattan Avenue he will immediately convey to them so much of the Lot N° 110, as may be required for that purpose, on Condition the Corporation convey to him the residue of Lot N° 113, subject to the conditions of the lease.

The Street Commissioner is of opinion that such proposition will release the Board from all the difficulties suggested in consequence of the position of Lot N° 113. and if adopted will contribute [326] much to the advantage of the neighbouring property and an additional public improvement. But the Board are to judge of the expediency of the measure. It might be objected that the Commissioners are delegated with authority to lay out Squares &c^a and that it would be infringing upon their privileges to act in this business; but it is well understood on the contrary, that the Commissioners do not pretend to possess the right of altering any Streets accepted or laid out by the Corporation, as provision has been made in the Law to prevent their interfering or altering those streets; so that they neither have the disposition or power to alter or prevent any arrangements the Corporation may make with respect to their Common Lands

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report.

The Street Commissioner to whom was referred a Petition of Thomas Timpson, Gabriel Furman and sundry other persons, a large majority of the proprietors on Lombard Street, between Walnut Street and Corlaer's Street, requesting the Corporation to accept of deeds of cession from them respectively of five feet on each side of the Street in order to make it 60 feet in width, being now only 50 feet has the honor to Report,

That he has examined the premises and finds that it would be adviseable to extend the width of said Street, as there are no buildings now upon it except the house of Mr Timpson which is set back to meet such contingency; and as wide Streets are always to be desired, there appears no reason for rejecting the prayer of the petitioners.

That upon investigating the proprietors he has found that the heirs of Byvanck, being in their [333] minority, Garrit N. Bleecker who owns one lot, Mr Gardener & Mr George Janeway are the only persons who have not signed the petition or consented to cede the ground.

That the Street Commissioner has delayed reporting upon the said petition upon the presumption that the reference to him was for the purpose only of making out the deeds of cession. but as Mr Schiefflin is now about building upon his grounds in said Street, and will, if not otherwise directed go to the original front line, it becomes necessary for the Board to pass some particular act respecting their intention of accepting such cession: Mr Scheifflin being perfectly willing to recede the five feet required and to convey it to the Corporation, if they adopt the measure.

The Street Commissioner therefore begs leave to propose the following resolution upon this subject.

Resolved that Lombard Street, which is now 50 feet in width, be made Sixty feet wide from Walnut Street to Corlaers Street, by taking five feet from the front of the Lots on each side, and that the Street Commissioner take order to obtain the Cession thereof and report the names of the persons who refuse to cede the same.

Ordered that the same be confirmed.

Warrt No 507. [334] On recommendation of the Street Commissioner, Ordered that a Warrant be issued in favour of William Bridges City Surveyor, on account for $50.

Warrt No 508. On recommendation of the Street Commissioner Ordered that a Warrant be issued in favour of John Meghan, on account, for paving in front of Whitehall Slip for $200.

Ordered that the preceding Returns be referred to Messrs Mulligan, Ludlam and Alderman Mott.

The Comptroller presented the following Report,

*The Comptroller to whom was referred the Petition of the Heirs of Anthony Lispenard deceased, praying for a Water grant in front of their premises [337] bounded formerly by the Hudson river, has the honour to Report,

That the original front which Mr Lispenard had upon the river was about Four hundred and forty four feet, and extending easterly a considerable distance towards Broadway, and through which the Corporation have projected Canal Street, One hundred feet in width.

That Canal Street will unite with Washington Street nearly in the centre of the grounds sollicited by the petitioners.

That upon consulting the Street Commissioner and agreeably to the report upon the petition of Mr Astor, it is thought expedient, if not absolutely necessary to reserve a considerable space of water at the mouth of the intended Canal, not only for the free access through it, and to project such works as may be thought necessary there, but also to afford a spacious basin, for the accommodation of the public, which will be the more necessary, if it should be determined to make the Canal navigable.

That, however, it does not appear necessary to reserve the whole of the front of Mr Lispenard for such Basin, and the Comptroller is of opinion that there would be no impropriety in granting to the petitioners all the grounds to the East side of Washington Street, reserving the whole breadth of Canal Street, and such portion of Broome Street [338] as may run through the premises, agreeably to the Map of Canal and other Streets, laid out through Mr Lispenard's Meadows, and said by the Street Commissioner to have been presented by him and adopted by the Board.

The Comptroller further reports that it is believed the petitioners ought to have a further grant to West Street for a breadth of One hundred feet, on the Southern boundary of the premises, with condition to make a street of thirty feet along the Basin, which will leave a space of about three hundred feet for public purposes and which it is thought will be as much as may be necessary to reserve.

The Comptroller therefore recommends in substance that Mr Lispenards heirs receive water grants for all the ground fronting their premises from high water mark, to the East side of Washington Street, on the usual terms, reserving the whole breadth of Canal and Broome Streets as aforesaid, and with condition to make those Streets, as well as half of Washington Street, in front of the aforesaid Basin. That they have a further grant for One hundred feet, taken from their most Southern boundary, from the centre of Washington Street to the permanent line, reserving Washington and West Streets; and with condition to make a street thirty feet in width from the centre of Washington Street to the permanent [339] line on the North thereof and along the said Basin And lastly, that the said Heirs receive the wharfage in front of the aforesaid One hundred feet, and the Corporation to unite with the petitioners to make the bulkhead of the Basin along Washington Street, and thereafter keep it in repair, as they will receive the wharfage in the manner it is arranged at the Corporation Dock.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The Comptroller presented the following Report.

The Comptroller to whom was referred the application of John Jacob Astor* for a recommendation of the terms upon which the water grant is to be made reports

That he has conversed with Mr Astor and has heard his objections to the terms fixed by the Comptroller in his late report. Mr Astor urges an extension of the term from fifteen to Thirty years for the payment of the first established quit rent on the ground that it will be a considerable time before the property can be made at all productive to him. As the Board have been governed by similar considerations in fixing the quit rent upon the property on the East river, and the Comptroller thinks Mr Astor's suggestions have equal weight with those that have [340] been urged for the proprietors on the East river, he would therefore recommend that similar indulgence be granted to him.

I am of opinion that the Corporation had no authority to apportion the deficiency in Mr Bayards land, which was a subject that could only be settled by agreement of the parties interested or by a legal decision, and I am further of opinion that as the Laws now stand, any person may build back from the Street, but cannot encroach upon it.

The following Report was presented.

The Committee to whom was referred the Petition of Anthony Jones,† Report

That upon enquiry and examining the premises they have collected the following State of facts.

First. That Mr Jones began to build on his lot in Thompson Street in November last, the lots on each side being built upon he supposed that the line of the Street was parallel with the fronts of said houses and consequently commenced building his house upon the same line with the other houses. A few days after he had begun to lay the foundation of his house, he was informed that the line on which he was building was not correct. He immediately, on receiving this information applied [345[to Mr Loss to survey his Lot and to give him the right line of the Street. Mr Loss after surveying the said Lot, directed Mr Jones to proceed in building his house in the manner he had begun it, that he was right as to the line of the Street.

Secondly. That sometime after Mr Bridges by order of the Street Commissioner surveyed said Thompson Street and reported that the said house was four feet on the Street, he consequently ordered Mr Jones to stop building, which order has been complied with by Mr Jones to this time.

Mr Jones' house is brick with cut stone foundation in front: the first tier of beams was laid and the rear and two side walls raised sufficient to receive the second tier; a Stone area and a brick cistern with a stone well in the yard, all finished when he received orders to stop building.

Exclusive of the loss Mr Jones sustains by the loss of rent which cannot be calculated at less than one year, the walls have received so much injury by being exposed to the weather in an unfinished state as to be insufficient for the building, and must, consequently be taken down.

The Committee are of opinion that some compensation is due to

Mr Jones and that One hundred and fifty Dollars, will be reasonable in the case;* and as a number of buildings are erected on this Street, likewise on Sullivan Street, directly in the rear, which would all be affected by the alteration in the street of the said four feet, and [346] the proprietors of which would all be entitled to receive compensation for cutting off part of their houses:

The Committee therefore recommend that the said Street remain in the same situation for the present as it was when Mr Loss surveyed it, conceiving no material injury can result therefrom, and that the said four feet of ground, on which the said buildings are erected, be leased, to the proprietors of said buildings respectively, for a term not exceeding twenty one years at an annual rent of One Dollar, on condition that at the expiration of said leases, the said proprietors, their heirs or assigns will remove their buildings from off the said four feet of ground, and will lay the said Street open, agreeably to a clause to be inserted in each of the said leases respectively.

†The Committee to whom were referred the Petitions of Mary Hazen and James Nesbitt presented the following Report

That on investigation they find that the two lots of ground now in possession of Mary Hazen and James Nesbitt were formerly in possession of Daniel Shaffer: After his decease his Executors sold the same at auction to John Spies, who immediately thereafter sold the part now occupied by [347] James Nesbit to Mary Hazen: But the daughter of said Shaffer and wife of John Greenwalt, and who occupied at same time the premises, not being content and satisfied with the sale, an arrangement took place, whereby the said John Greenwalt was to retain the part he occupied. Accordingly a lease was given by the Executors to Mary Hazen for the two lots and she the said Mary Hazen by David Marsh her Trustee executed a lease to John Greenwalt dated May. 1st 1800. And for which a deduction was made by the Executors out of his wife's dividend of the Estate; and in November following John Greenwalt sold and set over the lease to John King: and in August 1801, John King did transfer the lease to James Nesbit. From the above facts stated Your Committee are of opinion that a Lease ought to be granted to James Nesbit of part of Lot No 115 to contain twenty five feet six inches in front and rear at the rate of Two hundred and Fifty Dollars for thirty feet which will be Two hundred and twelve Dollars fifty cents, the yearly rent for the same.

And Whereas it appears from the lease given by David Marsh, that the twenty five feet six inches in front continues only towards the rear for the space of seventeen feet three inches and from thence along to the end of the Lot Nineteen feet six inches in breadth; Your Committee are of opinion that the Lot ought to continue on a straight line, but that it be suffered to remain as the line now runs, (excepting that part which is in fence) [348] for three years from the First day of May next and at the expiration of three years the said James Nesbit shall cause the parts, as shall be required to be taken down, to be finished off again as expeditiously as possible and in as good a manner as it now is. And that said Nesbit be permitted to use such materials as shall be taken down as far as they may be fit to be used: and further that the said Nesbit shall pay and allow the sum of Ten Dollars to Mary Hazen as a compensation for the inconvenience she may sustain thereby. Also that a Lease be granted to Mary Hazen of Lot N° 114 and part of Lot N° 115. containing thirty four feet six inches in front and rear at the Yearly rent of Two hundred and Eighty seven Dollars and fifty cents

But he is induced to believe that Mr Bache has built upon a part of the water lot for which no grant has ever been given, and, for that, he would recommend a grant to issue upon the usual terms and upon the further consdition that the Petitioners pay a quit rent upon the same, from the time at which Mr Bache took the same into possession.

Decr 1. 1807. John S. Hunn.

The Comptroller presented the following Report.

*The Comptroller to whom was referred the Petitions of Peter Fenton, David Ackerman and Simon Ackerman, praying for Water Grants opposite their respective Lots.

Reports, that the Petitioners heretofore obtained Grants from high water mark to Washington Street, on their several Lots which lie on each side of Watts Street. That they now request a Grant to the permanent line from Washington Street. That the Corporation some time since made a reservation of the water at this place for a public Slip or Basin. But as a reservation has lately been made at the foot of Canal Street for a similar purpose, which is but a short distance from Watts Street, The Comptroller is of Opinion, that it has now become unnecessary to reserve the water at Watts Street, and would therefore recommend that a grant issue to the Petitioners agreeably to their request upon the usual terms.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Ordered that the same be confirmed

[370] The Report of the Market Committee in favour of granting the Stand No 3 in Oswego Market, lately occupied by Jacob Jeroleman, removed to Duane Market, to George Ship, and that the Butcher's† Stalls on the same side of the Market be removed higher up, was confirmed.

A recommendation of the Market Committee that the Stand in Duane Market N° 7. lately granted to Henry Hoffman, who declines accepting the same, should be granted to Caleb Conklin,* was confirmed.

The following Report was presented.

†The Committee on the Communication from the Street Commissioner respecting the reserving a square between Hamilton and Manhattan Avenues

Report that the propriety of that measure will depend on the opinion which the Board may have on a comparison between the probable value of the ground leased to M^r M^cKoy, at the expiration of his lease, and the public convenience and improvement and advantage the neighbouring public property which will ensue from the contemplated reservation.

By the annexed Sketch it appears, that at the expiration of the lease the Corporation will hold two rows of contiguous City lots between Hamilton and Manhattan Avenues and two contemplated Streets, 60 feet wide. If the Board shall be of opinion, that it may be adviseable to have a [371] public square in the situation proposed, the Committee conceive that it would be proper, by making the exchange mentioned in the Street Commissioner's communication. on equitable terms, to secure at once the means of conforming the reservation to the line of Hamilton Square.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The following Report was presented by the Building Committee

The Committee appointed on the 8^th of December 1806. to Superintend the building of the New City Hall,

Report, That they have carefully examined the vouchers and compared them with the charges of their Treasurer, and find that there has been expended since the 26^th of November last to the 26^th of Nov^r inst. for the purchase of materials and for erecting the building, the sum of $37.768.81. which sum, together with $1426.80. that was due the late building Committee amounts to $39.195 $^{61}/_{100}$. that during the above mentioned period, the Committee have received by warrants drawn on the Treasury by order of the Common Council, $33.400. together with $515.50 which has been received from the Sale of Boards [372] and Planks amounting in the whole to $33.915.50. which leaves a Ballance due the Committee of $5.280.11.

The Committee have been furnished by Mr Macomb with an account of the quantity of work finished and nearly ready to lay on the walls, also the amount of marble and other materials on hand amounting to $37.675

The Committee beg leave to remark, that this Building has now been on hand about Four Years and a half, and has cost about $207.000 including all the materials on hand: the marble is all delivered and paid for, agreeably to contract, except about Three hundred Dollars. The Building is now up to the Window Sills of the Second Story windows; and a considerable quantity of marble already cut and prepared to lay: the work will be mostly plain until it comes to the top of the second Story window, which will enable the workmen to make great progress in carrying it up; and the foundation of the building is now sufficiently settled, so that no danger can be apprehended in carrying it up to its height, and the beams and timber have been exposed to the weather for several years, and a number of Articles now on hand in a state of decay, which must be renewed if the Building is much longer delayed. The slow progress with which the Building has been conducted from the beginning has greatly enhanced the expence. There has been expended for the last two years past about $35.000 per an. and upwards of $7000 per an. of this sum has been paid to Overseers [373] and Officers that are employed to superintend it, that is 25 per cent upon the sum actually expended on the building. These Superintendants can, with equal facility, oversee three times the number of workmen, without any additional expence to the publick; it therefore appears prudent and economical to put this Building, at least the two wings, under cover, in the course of the ensuing season.

Building Committee Wynant Van Zandt. Junr
Novr 26th 1807. Chairman.

Warrant Nº 566. Ordered that so much of said Report as relates to the State and progress of the Building be published, and that a Warrant be issued in favour of the Committee, for the Balle $5280.11.

Warrt N° 567. Ordered that a Warrant be issued in favour of John H. Sickles, on acct of the Building Committee, to discharge the balle due the Contractors for delivering Marble, for $316.10.

Ordered that a Warrant be issued in favour of J. H. Sickles, an acct of the same Committee, to pay said contractors for Marble delivered of an extra size for $2246.88. security to be taken from the Contractors to deliver any further Marble that may be required, in case of any defect in what is already delivered, at the contract price.

Warrt N° 568

Warrt N° 565 Ordered that a Warrant be issued in favour of Richard Furman, Supt of the Alms House for $3000.

Mr John Slidell, elected Assistant of the First Ward, sent in his resignation as Firewarden of said Ward, which was accepted, and Wynant Van Zandt Junr Esqr was appointed in his place.

[374] John T. Duryee was appointed Fire Warden of the Second Ward, in the place of Abraham Prall, deceased.

The Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Memorial of the Inhabitants of the Fifth Ward, Petitioners against the election of John Bingham returned as Alderman and Thomas J. Campbell returned as Assistant for said Ward, as not being qualified according to Charter, being neither Freeholders in said Ward, nor Freemen of this City, was read, together with the following opinion of the Council of the Board.

"I have inspected the Memorial presented to the Corporation relative to the late election [381] of an Alderman and Assistant in the Fifth Ward; and pursuant to their directions do report as my opinion:"

1st "That if Messrs Bingham & Campbell were not Freeholders of that Ward, nor Freemen of the City, they were not by Law eligible to those Offices."

2d "That the Corporation has the power at once to examine and determine upon the said Memorial; and are bound, if the allegations in it are true, to direct a new election."

Decr 2d 1807. Richard Harison.

The following Memorial was also read.

To the Honorable the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, in Common Council convened.

The Memorial of the subscribers respectfully sheweth.

That they are Inhabitants, Freemen and Electors of the Fifth Ward, entitled to vote at the late Charter election, and who did vote at such election for John Bingham as Alderman and Thomas J. Campbell for Assistant Alderman to represent the said Ward in the Common Council the ensuing year.

That they have been informed a remonstrance has been preferred to the said Common Council against the due election and legal qualifications of the said John Bingham and the said Thomas [382] J. Campbell, to fill the said Offices, as being neither Freemen of the said City, nor Freeholder of the said Ward.

Your Memorialists dissenting from the correctness of the objection, with due submission and respect, represent, their concern on being advised that Your Honorable Body are about to act upon the said remonstrance, as in their opinion, in other hands and under other circumstances it will afford an evil precedent, be injurious to the elective franchise, and a fair enjoyment of the plain provisions of our Charter.

That Your Memorialists conceive the investigation and decision of this question, properly and of right belongs to your Successors, who are chosen and to be sworn in on the first Monday in December instant, inasmuch as it is expressly granted by the said Charter to the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty for the "time being" to determine and decide all Elections of all and every their officers and ministers to be chosen or elected in or for the said Corporation.

That the said Alderman and Assistant are not members of the Corporation for the present year, nor officers nor ministers thereof for the "time being," but are chosen the successors of those now in office; and while your memorialists are not unmindful that the Corporation is a perpetual body, they respectfully consider [383] that a discrimination of the powers of the incumbant and succeeding Aldermen, are in this case emphatically recognized; and the right to examine and decide upon the election and qualification of the officers and ministers, chosen for the Corporation, is in terms given by the charter to that Corporation existing at that particular time, during which the officer or minister is elected to serve. Your Memorialists scarcely need remind your Honors, that a different construction of the Charter would enable any future succession, at any length of time, to examine and decide upon the due election, and legal qualification of former members of the Board, and thereby to invalidate, annul and destroy the important Acts of their predecessors.

That the 23d Section of the Act of the Legislature of this State, passed 5th April 1804. strengthens the opinion of your Memorialists; That, the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty for the "time being," are only competent to examine into, and decide upon the qualifications of their own members and Officers, and not into those of their successors. It provides that "if any Alderman, chosen as aforesaid, shall refuse to serve, die or remove out of the city, before the expiration of the term for which he was chosen in such office, or shall not be legally qualified &c" Now an Officer cannot properly refuse to serve in an Office, so as to render him liable to fine for such refusal, until after the time is in "being," for which he is chosen to serve. [384] The Aldermen elect are not chosen to serve until next Monday, and if any one should die or remove from the city before that day, there would be no vacancy in the Corporation, and of course none to be supplied by a new Election.

But if in this respect Your Memorialists should have conceived the true construction of the said Charter and Act, then they would further respectfully suggest that the 12th. Section of the said Act, entitles every Freeholder, every Citizen of the State, or of the United States of twenty one Years of Age, having resided in the city for six months previous to a charter election, during that time rented a tenement of Twenty five Dollars yearly value paid taxes, and no way disqualified by law, to all the right and privileges of a Freeman of the said City.

That among these are the right and privilege of being an Artizan and trader in the said city, and of being eligible to the Office of Alderman and Assistant or other officer of the City and Corporation.

That Messrs Bingham and Campbell being inhabitants of the said City, Citizens of the State, and not disqualified by law, having rented a tenement of twenty five Dollars yearly value and paid taxes, are by the aforesaid section qualified Charter Electors and Freemen of the city, or so far at least as to entitle them to keep [385] shop, and pursue manual occupation therein, without incurring the Five pound penalty to which those who are not Freemen are liable, and also to be most eligible to the Office of an Alderman and Assistant Alderman.

Lastly, Your Memorialists further represent, that they are informed that the Counsel at law of the said Common Council has reported his opinion to the said Corporation, that if the said John Bingham and the said Thomas J. Campbell are neither Freemen of the said City nor Freeholders in the Ward, they are not by law eligible to those offices for which they are chosen. In the correctness of this opinion Your Memorialists fully acquiesce; but respectfully remind your honors, that by the said 12th. Section of the act aforesaid they being Electors qualified by law to vote at the said Charter election, are also by the same law Freemen of the said City, and as well for the tranquillity of the said Corporation and Ward, as because a great majority of the votes thereof were given for those gentlemen, and to avoid the establishment of an injurious precedent, the great trouble, expence and public inconvenience of a second election, Your memorialists respectfully pray that the said remonstrance may be dismissed, or that the said John Bingham and Thomas J. Campbell be declared legally qualified and duly elected to serve in their offices of Alderman and Assistant Alderman.

All which is respectfully submitted

[386] Whereupon the following Resolution was offered by Alderman Selah Strong,

Resolved that the further consideration of the Memorials of the Inhabitants of the Fifth Ward respecting the Election of John Bingham and Thomas J. Campbell to the offices of Alderman and Assistant of said Ward, be postponed to the next meeting of the new Board, it being doubtful whether the Board have the right to determine the qualifications of their Successors.

The following was proposed by Mr Mulligan as an Amendment.

Whereas a Petition has been presented to this Board against the Election of John Bingham as Alderman and Thomas J. Campbell as Assistant of the Fifth Ward of this City, returned as elected at the last Election for Charter Officers, and a counter petition has this day been presented to this Board. And Whereas by the opinion of the Council of this Board, also this day produced, he appears to be of opinion, that the present sitting Members are the proper Judges of the subject matter of the said Petitions. And it is very important to the rights and immunities of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of this city as also to the rights and priviledges of the Freemen, Freeholders and other Electors thereof, that the same should be decided by the body to which it of right may belong, and that this Board, previous to any decision thereon should be as well informed as [387] possible on the subject. And whereas there has been offered to this Board the Resolution, as before cited.

Resolved that the consideration of the said resolution be postponed to a meeting of this Board to be held on Monday next at 10 o'clock A. M. and that a Committee be appointed to ascertain and enquire what proceedings have taken place in cases of contested Elections for Charter Officers, and that they make a report thereon to this Board at said meeting.

Which amendment, a division being called, was carried in the Affirmative as follows.

A Petition of George Janeway and Cary Ludlow praying an order of the Board for the reservation of a Street, Fifty feet wide, through the grants of soil under water to the Petitioners and Peter Ogilvie and William Hunter, between Grand Street and Cherry Street, was read and ordered to lie for consideration.

*A Petition of Garrit H. Van Wagenen for a water grant in front of his property between Romaine and North Street, was granted, Provided it should not interfere with any reservation for public Slips.

A Petition of Samuel Winship for a stand in Grand Street market was granted: His further application to rent the Cellar under said Market was referred to the Comptroller to fix such reasonable terms for the same, at a yearly rent, as he may judge right.

A Petition of Francis Bibbins to be allowed Ten Dollars as compensation for taking care of the park, was referred to the Superintendant of the Alms House.†

[389] ‡Resolved that a public square, or place, in the situation‖ recommended by the communication of the Street Commissioner of the 9th of November last, will be useful and advantageous to this city, and that the exchange mentioned therein be made upon such equitable terms as may be agreed on between this Board and the proprietor of the ground necessary to make such square;

And it is further resolved, that the Street Commissioner be authorized to treat with the said Proprietor, therefor and report thereon to this Board.§

The Mayor presented the following opinion of Mr Harison relating to the Sailor's Snug harbour.

Upon the will of Robert R Randall and the Act of the Legislature incorporating the Trustees of the Marine Hospital, I am of opinion that these [405] Trustees have a right to convey land for Streets to the Corporation of the City. There are no words, either in the will or Act, prohibiting such conveyance. The laying out of Streets is essential to the improvement of the property, and must have been foreseen as a measure necessary and which ought to be adopted, even if it was not required by the public. Mr Randall, by his will, appears only to provide, that the Hospital shall be built upon his land, but in all other respects he leaves his property to the disposition of the Trustees, and in my judgment, there is nothing in that instrument from whence it can be inferred that he meant his whole real estate should be unalienable in any event.

meetings on the subject and having viewed the situation of the premises beg leave to submit to the honorable Corporation.

That after mature deliberation we do not [406] deem any of the owners or occupants of said Lots to be benefitted thereby and therefore cannot, agreeable to our Oath, proceed to make any assessment thereon for the following reasons

As we are informed.

1st That none of the proprietors of Lots on said Street have petitioned for the same.

2d That Bleecker Street was dug out at the expence of the public for the same purpose as Art Street to give vent to the water from Broadway.

3d As it is not deemed a permanent regulation we conclude it ought to be considered as the common highway.

George Cliland
W. H. Robinson
New York. 9th Decr 1807. Gilbert Coutant
George Schmelzel
John Ten Eyck.

The Street Commissioner having been informed by several of the Assessors named in an Ordinance for regulating Art Street, that they could not agree upon a principle, upon which to lay the assessment, and the contractors pressing for their money, he wrote to them, requesting the said assessment to be made out by this day, as, if they could not agree, that they would report upon the cases that others might be appointed to perform this necessary duty.

[407] The Assessors, agreeably to his request, have now sent in their report which is covered by this communication and upon which the Street Commissioner begs leave to remark in answer to the "Reasons" they have offered for not making out the said assessment.

They first state, that none of the proprietors petitioned for it; but it was well understood by the Board that when Broadway was directed to be regulated, it would be necessary also to regulate Art Street; and if any mistake has occurred in that respect, it was, that Art Street ought to have been first regulated; besides the presentation of a petition from the proprietors, has not under such circumstances been considered by the Common Council as a necessary measure.

The Assessors next state that Bleecker Street was dug out for the same purpose as Art Street to vent the water. This is true, but the cases are not parallel. Mr Bleecker has a very large tract of ground on the west side of Broadway, through which many streets will necessarily intersect each other, none of which have ever been ceded to the Corporation, and the Board, in order to obtain a ready cession of those Streets without subjecting themselves to the expensive and tedious method pointed out by Law for opening Streets, made a special agreement with Mr Bleecker [408] to regulate so much of Bleecker Street, as far as has been done, on condition that he cedes all the Streets through his ground to the Corporation without further compensation. With respect to Art Street, the proprietors can make no such equivalent, as that Street has been opened and recorded as a public Street or road about forty years ago.

The third reason offered by the Assessors can have no weight, as it is founded in error, they state that the regulation is not deemed permanent, but it is well known to the surveyors and the Subscriber, that the line given to the Contractors is intended as a permanent regulation of that Street. The Street Commissioner begs leave further to remark, that all the gentlemen named in the Ordinance have qualified to make the assessment, and there is a plain existing law, by which they are to be governed. It therefore becomes an important question, how far they are bound by their appointment and their oaths to perform this duty.

If the Board should decide that they have the right to excuse these gentlemen, they will of course name five other persons in their stead. If they should decide otherwise, perhaps it would be well to direct the assessors to make out the assessment agreeably to their consciences, when [409] the Common Council can reject it, and according to usual practice direct a new ordinance to be presented.

All which is respectfully submitted

Decemr 14th. 1807. John S. Hunn.

Ordered that the same be referred to the Alderman and Assistant of the Eighth Ward.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Communication.

The Street Commissioner has the honor to communicate to the Board, that Ordinances passed the Common Council several months since, directing the individual proprietors of sunken lots in Hester and Rynder Streets to fill up the same in such manner as to preserve the Streets from washing away when they had been filled. These ordinances were faithfully served upon all such persons as could be found to be owners and they have pretty generally complied with their conditions: but several vacant Lots on the South side of Hester Street between Broadway and Rynder Street and two or three on Rynder Street between Grand and Hester Streets, remain sunken, and for which no owners can be found.

Rynder Street has lately been directed to be paved: the pavement and even the curbstone have by the late rains been removed and consider- [410] ably damaged in consequence of these cavities on the sides of the Streets.

The Street Commissioner is persuaded that the evil will be corrected if the lots are filled up, and, as in such cases, the expenditure is a lien upon the property, he proposes the following resolution.

Resolved that the Street Commissioner be and he is hereby directed to take order for filling in such sunken lots on Hester Street between Broadway and Rynder Street and on Rynder Street between Grand and Hester Street, as in his opinion may require to be filled up to preserve the said Streets and to such depth and height as he may think necessary, and that the expences of the same be a lien upon the property agreeably to law.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following Communication was received from the Reverend the Clergy of this city.

A number of the Clergy, of different denominations, of this city, at a meeting held on Wednesday [420] the 16ᵗʰ instant, having taken into consideration the merciful dispensations of Divine Providence towards the city during the late Season, and also the present interesting aspect of public affairs:

Resolved, That it is proper to take public and Solemn notice of the Divine goodness, and, as a People, to implore that continued protection, and those temporal and spiritual blessings which are so essential to our welfare.

Resolved. That it be recommended to the several Congregations under our pastoral care, to set apart Friday, the 25th instant, as a day of solemn Thanksgiving and prayer, and that, abstaining from all servile labour and recreations on that day, they come together, to acknowledge the mercy of God in again exempting us from the Scourge of pestilence; to praise him for the multiplied favours of his gracious Providence; to beseech him to preserve us in peace, and to continue and extend our national prosperity; and, above all, to pray for the sanctifying influences of the Holy Spirit on our Churches, and that we may be favoured with all spiritual and heavenly blessings in Christ Jesus.

Signed by order of the meeting.

John Rodgers, Chairman.

New York. Dec. 16th. 1807.

[421] Whereupon Resolved, That this Board unite in the recommendation of the Reverend the Clergy of this city upon the above occasion, and accordingly recommend, that Friday, the Twenty fifth day of December instant, be observed and set apart as a day of public and Special thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God for his benevolent dispensations of Mercy to this city; and we accordingly recommend to our fellow citizens, that they carefully abstain from all recreations and secular employments on that day.

Stillwell on the subject of a Coalmine on his land in Wood-Stock in the County of Ulster in this State; [422b] Report, that they have submitted the Specimen of Coal produced by Mr Stillwell to the inspection and examination of Doctor Bruce professor of mineralogy and Doctor Dewitt professor of Chemistry of the College of Physicians in this city. That those gentlemen are decidedly of opinion that the Specimen indicates the existence of a Coal mine, the extent and quality of which can only be ascertained by actual exploration.

From satisfactory enquiry into the character of Mr Stillwell, Your Committee are perfectly assured that the Specimen of Coal offered by him has been, bona fide, taken from a mine as set forth in his petition. The expence of exploring being too great and hazardous for him to attempt alone, he proposes to raise a fund of $50.000. in Shares of Fifty Dollars each, pledging the land on which the mine is situate for the benefit of the Subscribers together with a right to one half of the coalmine.

How far the Corporation may judge it expedient to contribute towards exploring the mine, either by subscription for a number of shares, or by an advance of a reasonable sum on such security as Mr Stillwell can give, or by offering a premium for the first quantity [423b] of Coal amounting to Chaldrons produced from his mine, is submitted to the wisdom of the Board.

The Committee cannot conclude this reference without observing that it is certainly an object of the highest consequence and a duty imposed on this Board to encourage every plausible plan that may tend to produce a supply of an Article so essentially necessary for the comfort and existence of the citizens of this rapidly encreasing metropolis, as mineral Coal; especially when the resource can be found within the bosom of our own State, whereby our citizens will be relieved from the uncertain dependence on foreign supplies.

The Augmentation of our population exceeds, annually, the growth of Forests for Fuel, and unless additional resources be explored, this essential article of existence must bear extremely oppressive, as indeed it does at present, on the poorer classes of Society.

To the Honorable Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York in Common Council convened

*The Board of Trustees of the New York public Free School

Respectfully represent,

That in order to render the institution under their superintendance as extensively useful as the funds [432] from time to time will enable them to do: they have in contemplation the erection of a building which may be adequate to the accommodation of 500 Scholars, with the appropriation of a part thereof for the Teacher and his family, and as the Trustees apprehend that the children in the Alms House are equally the objects of pity and of the public benevolence with those of any other description, they feel solicitous that this charity may so fully extend to them as to interest the Corporation and induce a liberal co-operation on their part, so as to enable the Trustees to make such further provision in the premises as may not only be commensurate to the reception of all the children of a suitable age in the Alms house, but also with the utility and magnitude of the establishment, and which if wisely conducted may prove a blessing to the rising generation, and productive of great good to the Community at large. Under these impressions of the subject and with desires to revive the consideration of it in the view of the Corporation, and in order that a full discussion may take place thereon, they have appointed a Committee of their Board for that purpose, and request a similar measure may be adopted by the Corporation, as the most [433] eligible medium of communicating sentiments on this important subject.

The following Report was presented

The Committee of Laws and Ordinances respectfully Report

That the Laws and Ordinances composing the printed Volume now in use were passed on the 17th day of January 1805. and are therefore about to expire.

[437] That most of the Laws respect the permanent regulations of the City, and have with few alterations been in force for a series of years. And your Committee conceive that with such amendments as have been made or may be adopted by the Board it may be proper that the whole or the greater part of them be re-ordained.

As a commencement of this work, the Committee submit herewith several Ordinances of a permanent nature revised according to the amendments now actually in force. A List of these is hereto subjoined and the Committee respectfully recommend that they be passed to remain in force for the ensuing three years.

The Committee also beg leave to suggest that in future the date of the passing of every Law be printed after the Title as is usual with the State Laws.

The following Report was read.

*The Committee to whom was referred the petition of Robert Stoddard respecting his house in Leonard Street

Report That upon enquiry it appears that about the 10th of September Mr Stoddard called on the Street Commissioner to survey his lot so that he might set his house agreeably to the line of the Street, on which application the Street Commissioner referred him to Mr Bridges as one of the City Surveyors, Mr Stoddard applied to Mr Bridges accordingly and had his lot surveyed by him. Mr Stoddard then proceeded to build his house on the line of the Street as designated by Mr Bridges; and about the first of October the Street Commissioner [440] called on Mr Stoddard and informed him that his house was on the Street and that he must stop building until the will of the Corporation should be known.

The Committee is therefore of opinion that as Mr Stoddard has complied in all respects with the requisitions of the law and by so doing has by the incorrectness of the Surveyor placed his house Nine feet in the Street; that the said house ought to be removed back to the line of the Street and there put in the same state of repairs, the chimney excepted, as it is where it now stands, at the expence of the Corporation, as soon as it conveniently can be done.

Decemr 28th. 1807. John D. Miller
Stepn Ludlam.

Ordered that said Building be removed in conformity with the aforesaid Report, at the expence of this Board, under the superintendence of the Committee of repairs.

the 3d January next: And as the money to reimburse the Corporation is to be raised by Assessment on such persons as may be deemed to be benefitted thereby: he further presented the draft of an Ordinance for that purpose which was passed and Oliver Drake William L. Rose Henry Astor Alexander Clark and Leonard Warner were appointed Assessors.

The Street Commissioner has the honor to state to the Board, that by virtue of the powers vested in the Corporation by an Act of the Legislature entitled "and Act for regula [442] ting the Buildings, Streets, Wharves and Slips in the City of New York," passed the 3d April 1801. They have directed him to take order for filling in the sunken lots on Hester and Rynder Streets, which had not been filled and regulated agreeably to certain ordinances passed for that purpose.

It was at first considered that it would only be necessary to fill in the lots by contract and charge it as a lien upon the property, agreeably to the last section of the said act: But if this is done, it may be a long time before the Corporation will be remunerated, as they cannot, it is believed, sell the Lots under that clause.

But by the 12th Section of the said Act, another process is pointed out, authorizing the Common Council to advertise and sell the Lots to defray the expenses. It is, in this case necessary to cause estimates to be made by five Assessors in the usual way, and to advertise the same three weeks previous to the sale.

The Street Commissioner is of opinion that it would be most prudent to adopt the latter mode, particularly as the owners of several of those Lots are unknown. He there- [443] fore presents the draft of an Ordinance for the purpose of making the said estimate, which in his opinion ought to be passed.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Decr 28th. 1807. John S. Hunn

Ordered that the same be referred to the Attorney of this Board.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Communication which was read and referred to the Road Committee.

†Agreeably to the directions of the Board the Street Commissioner presents a profile of Broadway from Art Street to the Bowery road for their inspection and consideration.

If the Commissioners should make no material alterations in the Streets which intersect Broadway above Art Street, the pencil line on the profile giving an elevation of one inch on ten feet from Art Street might with propriety be adopted, as a permanent regulation; but as it is probable the Commissioners will alter the position of certain Streets which will be affected by that line, the Street Commissioner cannot recommend an Ordinance for a permanent line until he is better informed from them on this subject.

[444] It might however be considered of advantage to regulate the Street in a temporary manner and the Street Commissioner has drafted an ordinance in conformity which he is of opinion might be passed with propriety.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Decr 28th. 1807. John S. Hunn.

A request of the Street Commissioner for leave of absence for a fortnight to attend to urgent private business, was granted.

On representation by the Clerk,

Ordered that the Law to prevent the firing of Guns and setting off squibs in this city be published in the several Newspapers, and that all Constables, Marshals and Watchmen be enjoined to attend to the strict execution of the same.

The City Inspector reported drafts of Ordinances for the purpose of raising sunken Lots and correcting other nuisances, from No 3897 to 3906. inclusive.

Ordered that the same do pass.

Ordered that the Captains of the watch report, daily, at the Bridewell the state of the Lamps in their respective districts.

[445] Ordered that the Daily Advertiser be discontinued as one of the public papers employed to print the Laws and Advertisements of this Board and that the Public Advertiser be substituted instead thereof.

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of opening the Broadway road from Art Street to the Bowery road,

Report that in their opinion it is incumbent on the Corporation to use such means as may be in their power, particularly at this inclement season, to alleviate the evils which must result from a suspension of the ordinary avocations of the laborious part of the Community in this City: That the opening of the Broadway road, while it would tend to public convenience and improvement, would also afford employment for a number of industrious persons, who may be suffering for the want of work, and thereby relieve themselves and families from distress.

[7] The Committee are therefore of opinion, that it would be proper, without delay, to commence the opening of said road, according to the profile thereof, with as many hands as can be usefully employed therein, under the direction of the Overseer of roads for the Southern district, and that the expence attending the same be defrayed by the Corporation.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The Street Commissioner presented a Report and the draft of an Ordinance for regulating First Street from Grand to Delancey Street which were confirmed and passed and William Hunter Whitehead Hicks Benjamin North Thomas Timpson and Ezekiel Bishop were appointed Assessors.

[12] The Street Commissioner presented the following Report.

*A Petition from the inhabitants and owners of property in Stone Street praying that an Old building projecting in the Street be removed, having been referred to the Street Commissioner he has the honor thereon to

Report

That the house complained of by the Petitioners had been for many years the joint property of John Leake late of this City and William Peartree Smith of Elizabeth town in New Jersey. That John Leake devised his interest in the premises to Robert B. Norton, and William Peartree Smith devised his interest in the premises to his daughter Mrs Boudinot, which interest Mr Elisha Boudinot still holds. That Robert B. Norton made a will by which he devised his interest in this estate among other things to his two children, infants, and appointed his brother John L. Norton, and his brother in law George Clinton, his Executors; without giving them any power to sell any part of the estate so devised to his children, until they should arrive of age.

[13] The Street Commissioner further reports, that twelve months ago or more, from an application made to him by Mr Storm one of the Petitioners, he communicated to Mr Norton, the acting Executor of Robert B. Norton, the anxiety of the neighbourhood to remove that house, and that Mr Norton made him the answer stated by the petitioners, that he had no power to treat respecting it, but could have no objection to its being removed by the mode pointed out by law.

This building is very old, built of Wood and very slight. The expence of the removal will not be of any serious consequence; and it is really a very considerable incumbrance to the Street and ought to be taken away. And as the Executors of Mr Norton, who are in the actual possession of the premises cannot treat, the only measure necessary and proper for the Corporation to adopt for its removal is to direct the Attorney to prepare the usual precepts, which the Street Commissioner recommends by proposing the following resolution.

Resolved that the Attorney of this Board be and he is hereby directed, with all speed, to prepare and deliver to the Sheriff of the city and county of New York a precept to impannel and return a Jury to appear before the Mayor's Court of this city to enquire and assess the damages and recompence due to the owners of a House [14] projecting in Stone Street, and the grounds upon which said house stands, supposed to belong to Elisha Boudinot and the heirs of Robert B. Norton deceased.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Jan^{y} 4th. 1808. John S. Hunn.
S^{t} Comm^{r}

Ordered that the same be confirmed.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report.

*The Street Commissioner, to whom was referred the petition of John Keese praying that he may be released from filling up his sunken lots in Stanton Street, has the honor to Report

That M^{r} Keese's lots are situate at the Northeasterly corner of Stanton and Columbia Streets, at that part where Stanton Street has been filled, and that the loose sand of Stanton Street, lately deposited, is daily washing into his in common with all other sunken lots on that Street, which was the very reason of directing these lots to be filled, least the street should be further injured.

That if it be true that the tide waters would wash M^{r} Keese's lots, it is equally true that they will wash away the Street if part of [15] his lots are not filled to prevent it, and as other persons nearer the river are also directed to fill in their lots by the same Ordinance, there can be no reason for excusing M^{r} Keese.

The Street Commissioner is therefore of Opinion, the prayer of the petition ought not to be granted.

Which is respectfully submitted.

The Mayor informed the Board that he had called a special meeting of the Common Council in consequence of a Notice published in the Daily Advertiser of this morning "inviting the Seamen in the vicinity of this city to assemble in the Park tomorrow at 11. o'clock, for the purpose [18] of enquiring of him what they are to do for their subsistence during the Winter." That he wished to consult with the Board on the measures that might be proper to be adopted to prevent any unpleasant consequences.

Whereupon, the Mayor was requested to publish the following Notice in all the Daily papers and to circulate the same in Hand Bills, viz[t]

Notice.

The Mayor decidedly disapproves the mode of application recommended in a Morning paper, to be pursued by the Sailors of this port for relief.

He informs the public that the Corporation will, on the present emergency, as they have done on former occasions, provide for the wants of every person, without distinction, who may be considered proper objects of relief.

The Mayor cannot conclude this Notice, without exhorting all classes of Citizens to refrain from assembling in the mode as proposed, and especially dissuades the Sailors from meeting in the Park.

*The Street Commissioner presented an Assessment for paving Rynder Street from Hester to Grand Street, which was confirmed and William Dustan was appointed Collector.

[19] Resolved that the Treasurer be, and he is hereby directed to cause to be laid before this Board, at their meeting on Monday next, an exact account of the several sums of money collected on the last Tax granted by the Legislature, and likewise the ballance still due the Treasury, by each of the Collectors of the several Wards of the City.

Resolved that Forty eight additional men be added to the City Night Watch, and that they be assigned to the different districts under the direction of the Watch Committee.

Charles McPherson was appointed to assist the Superintendant of the Alms House in relieving the out door poor.

The Mayor laid before the Board the following Memorial, which had been presented to him by the Seamen assembled in the Park, on Saturday morning last, who quietly dis- [21] persed on being assured by his Honour that the Corporation would take their case into consideration.

Honorable Sir.

Our situation is not only distressing, but truly alarming. The Embargo lately levied upon our shipping, has not only destroyed all employment by Sea, but rendered it impossible to gain a subsistence by our labor on shore. Our humble petition, to you Sir, is to know how we are to act in this case, and to beg of you to provide some means for our subsistence during the winter, should not the embargo be immediately taken off. What has America to boast of but her Agriculture and Commerce? The destruction of one, will be the ruin of the other.

The greatest part of the wages due us from our last voyages is already expended, and more, we are already indebted for our boarding. By what means shall we discharge these debts? Should we plunder, theive or rob, the State prison will be our certain doom.

In a handbill, this morning, You tried to dissuade us from our purpose, mentioning that provision was made for objects of pity. We are not objects of pity yet, but shall soon be, if there [22] is not some method taken for our support. We are the most part hale, robust, hearty men, and would choose some kind of employment rather than the poor house for a livelyhood. We humbly beg therefore, you will provide some means for our subsistence, or the consequences may not only prove fatal to ourselves, but ruinous to the flourishing Commerce of America, as we shall be necessitated to go on board foreign vessels.

Saturday Jan^{y} 9th

Petitions of Samuel Montgomery, to be appointed Keeper of Bridewell, and

*Simeon Crooker, Measurer of grain, were referred to the Committee on applications.

A Petition of John Tenbrook, butcher, for a grant of Stall N^{o} 6. in Flymarket, was referred to the Market Committee.

A Petition of John G. Leabeck to lease part of Lot N^{o} 101. in Chatham Street, at present under lease to the estate of George Albert deceased, sublessee of Peter Bausher deceased, the heiress of said

* Marginal note reads See. P. 167.—ED.

Albert, as he sets forth, does not incline to renew the same, was referred to the Comptroller.

[23] *A Petition of Cary Ludlow, reviving his claim on the intestate estate of Reuben Johnson deceased, paid into the City treasury, was referred to the Attorney of the board.

†A Petition of Derick Amerman for the renewal of the lease of Catherine ferry, was referred to the Ferry Committee.

‡A Petition of Lewis Kelly and Abner Conklin, administrators of the estate of Joseph Kelly deceased, claiming a ballance, due said estate, for the regulation of Broome Street, was referred to the Street Commissioner.

A Letter from General Stevens to the Mayor, inclosing a plan of a Radeau or Floating battery, calculated for the defence of this harbour, was referred to the Committee of Defence.

A Communication from Jonas Humbert on the subject of furnishing the indigent poor with good and wholesome bread, which he offers to bake, materials furnished, at the rate of fourteen shillings per barrel, was referred to the Committee of ways and means.

The following Report was presented.

The Committee of ways and means

[24] Report

That in order to provide for the subsistence of the Seamen of this port, thrown out of employment in consequence of the existing embargo, they have conferred with Captain Chauncey of the U^d States Navy who has consented to receive the Sailors in the Navy Yard, on condition of signing the Articles of the U^d States Navy, to continue in service, during their own pleasure, and perform duty agreeably to his orders, the Corporation agreeing to pay the amount of their maintenance, at the rate of twenty cents per ration for twenty four hours, which includes victuals, drink, fuel, candles and accommodation for lodging. Soap for washing to be an extra charge.

The Committee recommend this arrangement to the Common Council, as thereby every Sailor in distress will be comfortably supported, and being removed from town, and subject to the orders and discipline of the Navy, no ill consequences can result to the peace of the city, from their tumultuous associations. This meritorious class of citizens, it is confidently presumed, will be perfectly satisfied with this plan for their immediate support. Whenever they can do better they

* Marginal note reads See Report P. 101.—ED.
† Marginal note reads See. Report P. 54.—ED.
‡ Marginal note reads See Report P. 98.—ED.

[25] Should the Common Council approve the measure, the Committee will arrange the details with Capt. Chauncey for the admission of the Seamen and charge of the rations.

To provide for that class of citizens, who are capable of labouring and who are destitute of occupation, the Committee have directed the Street Commissioner to examine how many Carmen and hands to load carts can be advantageously employed to fill the collect, and the means of providing earth for the purpose: and to report Ordinances to compel proprietors of low grounds in the vicinity to co-operate with the Corporation.

The Committee likewise contemplate the expediency of reducing Inclenberg hill on the Boston road, provided the frost shall not oppose insuperable obstacles.

They will likewise direct the Street Commissioner to examine the situation of Streets and lots that may require to be regulated and raised in the vicinity of Corlaers Hook, and, if practicable and not too oppressive to the proprietors, to report ordinances for regulating and filling the same.

These various objects may employ a considerable number of industrious persons at moderate wages, which may enable them to support their families without becoming a public burthen.

[26] For the maintenance of that class of citizens for whom labour cannot be provided and who are incapable of labouring, the Committee propose to issue rations of Soup and meat, four times a week, in proportion to the numbers of their respective families, agreeably to the accompanying plan.

To conduct this measure, with the greatest possibly economy, the Committee are providing a Soup House in the Alms House, which will be compleated by Thursday next; in the mean time partial supplies are provided, adequate, it is presumed, to the present demand.

The Committee suggest the propriety of keeping a distinct account, from the ordinary expences of the Almshouse, of the expences which may be incurred for this extraordinary exigency. For this purpose they have appointed Alderman Bingham their Treasurer, and recommend that a Warrant be issued in his favour for One thousand Dollars, to be accounted for by the Committee.

It is impossible, at this moment, either to foresee or provide for all the contingencies or [27] details that may arise in the discharge of the duties devolved on your Committee, who will, from time to time, report progress of their proceedings to the Common Council. They recommend that the following Resolution may be passed as authorizing their proceedings.

Resolved that the Committee of ways and means be empowered to adopt such measures for the support of the Seamen and labouring class of the community, thrown out of employment in consequence of the existing embargo, and of the indigent poor, by furnishing labour or means of subsistence, as in their judgment may appear most expedient; And that the said Committee keep a regular account of all expences incurred by them, in fulfilling their engagements, and report, weekly, progress of their proceedings to this Board.

John Bingham
Chairman.

The following Report was presented.

The Committee of Laws and Ordinances respectfully report

That among the Ordinances of the Common Council, of a general and permanent use, there are several in which no material alterations have been suggested, and which it is therefore thought may with propriety be re-ordained for the next three years.

The Committee learn that the last edition of the printed Laws is now expended. They therefore submit to the Board the propriety of ordering another Edition to be printed, comprising all the Corporation Laws of a general and permanent nature. It is presumed this may be done at little or no expense to the Board, as a printer might probably afford to allow the Corporation a considerable number of copies, for the priviledge of printing and selling the [29] rest of the edition for his own account. Should this be done it would be convenient that all the Laws contained in the printed Volume should have nearly the same duration to the end, that while the Volume is at all in use, it may form a full collection of the Laws. With this view the Committee submit the propriety of reordaining several laws, some of which would not expire in a considerable time.

Among those laws of a general nature, in which no material alterations have been suggested, and which it is therefore submitted may be reordained, are those subjoined.

The remaining laws of a general nature are, for the most part, those which have been amended, from time to time, so that the whole present Law upon the subjects they relate to will be found scattered through successive Ordinances. In these cases, it was thought proper to digest the whole law upon each subject into one Ordinance, a work in which the Committee have been greatly aided by the care and accuracy of the City Inspector and by the use of his documents and papers. Of course, the Committee have lessened the number of Laws and omitted several titles which are in the last edition.

To prepare complete regular copies of all the Laws, so digested, would have required too much [30] time and labour to have been done in season. The Committee therefore present herewith two Volumes of Laws which contain all the clauses of the Laws now reported; but as those clauses are often scattered in different places, they have added to each title a sketch showing, by references, how the clauses will be read in order, so that the Laws can be recorded with entire accuracy.

All which is submitted.

And in that event, the reputed father and his sureties to be liable on their bond for the maintenance of the said child.

[33] The Attorney presented the following Report.

*The undersigned, to whom was referred the report of the Assessors named in an Ordinance for regulating Art Street, with the accompanying documents, has the honor to state

That in his opinion the Report is not in any point of view consistent with the appointment of the gentlemen who made it. They have it is presumed been sworn to discharge the duties of their situation, in pursuance of the Statute, by the authority of which they have been chosen. This Oath must have been "to make an estimate of the "expence of conforming to the Ordinance for regulating Art Street, "and a just and equitable assessment thereof among the owners or "occupants of all the houses and lots intended to be benefitted thereby, "in proportion as nearly as may be to the advantage which each may "be deemed to have acquired, fairly and impartially according to the "best of their skill and Judgment." Instead of which, they undertake, in their report, to judge of the propriety of the ordinance itself, and apparently forget the duty which they have undertaken to perform.

The right or the propriety, on the part of the assessors, of determining on any of the grounds [34] stated in their report, cannot be gathered from the expressions or the nature of the oath prescribed in the Act. The power to do this, it appears to the undersigned, is clearly and exclusively vested in the Common Council. Of course it must be presumed that as well the circumstances mentioned by the Assessors, as every other, relative to or connected with the measure itself, has been already considered and decided upon by the proper forum, and it remains for the Assessors to perform their duties, without reference to any considerations whatever which does not necessarily arise out of the nature of their appointment. Whether the proprietors have petitioned for the regulation, whether Bleecker Street was dug out for the same purpose, for which Art Street is intended, at the public expence, and whether this is to be a permanent measure or not, are points, certainly not comprehended in the Oath before recited, and with which therefore these Gentlemen have certainly, in strictness, nothing to do. It appears to the undersigned that the only question which this case presents, is, whether the Corporation will decide for themselves, or select others to decide for them, on subjects exclusively within their jurisdiction. The undersigned therefore submits to the consideration of the Common Council the following resolution.

[35] Resolved that the Assessors named in an Ordinance for regulating Art Street be and they are hereby required, to proceed with all convenient dispatch in the discharge of their duties, and to make an estimate and Assessment of the expence of conforming to the said ordinance, in such manner as by Law they are directed.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The Attorney presented the following Report.

*The Undersigned to whom was referred the Ordinance for filling vacant Lots situate in Rynder Street, between Hester and Grand Street, and in Hester Street, between Broadway and Mulberry Street, and an accompanying communication from the Street Commissioner, has the honour to report,

That the Ordinance, in his opinion, is correctly drawn, and that for the reasons mentioned by the Street Commissioner, the mode adopted by him appears the preferable one. The only difficulty which occurs to the undersigned, and which relates merely to the rule of apportionment by the Assessors, is that which the reading of the preamble to the Ordinance presents. By that it appears that the regulation has been already in part complied [36] with. Of course some of the Individuals must have expended sums of money, for which they ought to have credit to the full amount. But the Ordinance, which in this respect follows the words of the Act of the Legislature, and no doubt ought to follow them precisely, directs, that an estimate of the whole expence, in respect to each lot, shall be made without reference to the improved situation of any particular lot. To this however, the Street Commissioner will undoubtedly attend, when the Lots come to be sold, as he can then give credit for such expenditures as may have respectively taken place.

		Rations
On Monday.	11th inst.....	243
Wednesday.	13th "	641
Friday.	15th "	1018
Sunday.	17th "	1049
	Total.....	2951. Rations

There has been distributed during the same period, towards the relief of distressed families, in cash.....		89.29
Making an expenditure in the course of last week.....		$354.88

[47] The Soup house has been compleated and the Boilers will, in all probability, be adequate to the supply of rations, without interfering with the Alms House establishment unless the demand should increase beyond the calculations of the Committee.

The Committee flatter themselves that the arrangements they have made will be equal to the exigency of the times: and the Common Council may rest assured that every possible economy will be rigidly observed in the distribution of the public charity.

Should the Seamen, to any considerable number, avail themselves of the offer to be maintained at the Navy Yard, it may not be improper to request his Honour the Mayor to inform the Secretary of the Navy of the measures which have been adopted for the relief of the Sailors, and to suggest, that as the United States will derive the whole benefit of their labour, that it can be no more than reasonable to expect that the expense of their support will be defrayed by government: especially, as the Corporation will incur a very serious expense by providing for the wants of their own citizens.

From the inclemency of the season it has hitherto been impossible to provide any profitable labour, for the numerous applicants to be employed. Should the weather mitigate, it is proposed [48] to remove the earth in the vicinity, that may belong to the Corporation, into the Collect; which, together with taking out the mud from the Collect; will occupy a certain proportion of labourers, but to no great extent.

That no reasonable cause for complaint may, however, exist, the Committee give notice to every applicant to apply, in case they should want, to the Alms House for rations for themselves and families. And Mr McPherson is constantly employed in visiting those families who are reported to be in distress and administering such supplies as their respective cases may require.

All which is submitted.

The following Report was presented.

*The Committee of the Corporation appointed to confer with a Committee of the Manhattan Company on the subject of purchasing the Waterworks of the said Company

Report that in pursuance of their appointment they have conferred with a Committee of the Company, and find a proper disposition [49] on their part to promote the views of the Corporation, but that no alienation of the said water works can take place without the sanction of the Legislature.

It has been generally understood and believed, that the right of supplying this city with pure and wholesome water, ought to be vested in the Corporation, as the constituted guardians of its prosperity. Previous to the institution of the Manhattan Company, this measure was recommended to the Corporation by a respectable and enlightened Committee, and although it unfortunately failed, yet it has commanded the attention of subsequent Boards, and there has been no diversity of opinion on the general expediency of being invested with the exclusive power; altho' there may have been at different periods variances in sentiment with regard to the mode and extent of executing it, and altho' obstacles from various sources have hitherto interfered to prevent the accomplishment of this desireable object, when your Committee consider the importance of this power, in supplying the citizens with good water for domestic purposes, in guarding against the ravages of fire and disease, in purifying the Streets, and in accommodating the public buildings, they can not but earnestly recommend to the Corporation, the most prompt and efficient measures for obtaining it.

[50] In 1804, the year after the prevalence of Yellow fever, the attention of the Corporation was pointedly drawn to this subject, with a view of preserving the public health, and it was at that period generally conceded that the Island of New York did not yield a supply sufficiently commensurate with the public exigencies, but that recourse must be had to the river Bronx or the Sawmill river in the county of Westchester, and that the water works of the Manhattan Company, and their right of supplying the city with water, ought to be procured in order to aid and promote this great project. The best mode of proceeding at present in the opinion of your Committee is, by an application to the Legislature for permission to purchase all the rights of the Manhattan Company in this respect and for power to pass all necessary Ordinances to protect and guard the rights vested in the Corporation in consequence of such purpose.

The question, as to a suitable compensation to the Company will be open for future treaty and adjustment, and if they are unreasonable in their demands, the Corporation will not be bound to accede to them.

Resolved that an application be made [51] to the Legislature for leave to purchase from the Manhattan Company, their water works, real estate appurtenant thereto, and also their right to supply this city with pure and wholesome water; and if such purchase shall be made, to pass all necessary ordinances for regulating the said works, and guarding the rights and interests of this Corporation in relation thereto; and that the Clerk and Attorney of this Board prepare and present at the next meeting a form of such application.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Ordered that the consideration of the preceding Report be postponed until the next meeting.

*Resolved that the Committee to whom was referred the resolution respecting the purchase of the Manhattan water works do examine and report to this Board at their next meeting, whether the said water works produce any and what annual revenue or any and what annual loss.

The following Report was presented.

†The Committee of the Corporation appointed to confer with a Committee of the Free School

[52] Report that they have conferred with the said Committee, and are of opinion that an arrangement may be made on this subject highly beneficial to the public in various respects.

* Marginal note reads See Report P. 79.—ED.
† Marginal note reads See Vol. 17. P. 431.—ED.

That the present buildings occupied by the State as an Arsenal is illy adapted for that purpose, not being sufficiently extensive to accomodate the Artillery and military implements belonging to the State.

That it is therefore expedient to assign to the State other lands for that purpose either in or as the State shall elect: and that in such case the present building shall revert to the Corporation.

That if the State shall assent to this arrangement, it will be expedient to grant the new building and suitable adjacent ground to the Trustees of the Free School, to be occupied as long as they use the same for the purposes of their Institution; and on the express condition that the said Trustees shall educate the children of the Alms House gratuitously.

The Committee can confidently recommend this plan. It will accommodate the State in a more public and spacious Arsenal. It will accommodate the Corporation in the education [53] of their poor children. It will accommodate the Trustees of the Free School with a convenient place for education; and it will redound to the honour of the Corporation and the general good of the Community, in the means it will afford for the diffusion of the blessings of knowledge among the necessitous: an object of the first importance, and which has hitherto been neglected in this city, particularly as it respects the poor children under the care of the Corporation.

The Committee on the Laws and Ordinances have the honour to report that they are not yet ready to report on the Laws not reordained, and recommend to the Common Council that those mentioned in the Report of the Committee on Monday last, as still lying for consideration, and which have expired or may expire before the next meeting of this Board, be for the present reordained.

} were appointed the Committee.

The following Report was presented.

*The Committee to whom was referred the Petition of Dirck Amerman, praying the grant of a new lease for the ferry from Catherine Slip to Brooklyne.

Report

That they are of opinion that if the time of leasing the Ferry should be altered from the 1st of May to the 1st of February beneficial conveniencies would result therefrom, as that is the usual time of renting dwelling houses [55] it would doubtless be a great accommodation to those that may wish to lease that or any other ferry to know whether he is to have it or not before he takes a house for the ensuing year, and likewise to every applicant, in case they should not be successful in their application, as in that case under the present regulation they would very probably have on hand a house that would be very inconvenient for whatever other occupations they should think proper to employ themselves in.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the said Ferry, with the privileges thereunto appertaining be leased to the said Dirk Amerman for the term of two years and nine months to commence on the first day of May next on the same terms, conditions and reservations as he the said Dirk Amerman holds the said ferry of the Corporation at the present time except as to the term as above stated, Reserving to the said Corporation and their successors the right if they shall, at any time during the terms of said lease, think it adviseable to establish a ferry at or near the foot of Walnut Street, across

The Building Committee report

That they have reduced the daily pay of the Journeymen Stone cutters at work at the New City Hall, from 125 cents to One Dollar, and have now Twenty five Journeymen employed in that business for the same sum, that they before paid Twenty.

During the present exigency, the Committee are of opinion, that the interests of the City would be promoted by employing an additional number of Journeymen Stone cutters at this reduced price. The workshops where they are employed can conveniently accommodate a larger number, and are made very comfortable by the means of stoves, and the Superintendants of the Building assure us, that they can do as great a days work as in the summer season. Should the Board sanction this measure, the Committee will only employ such additional Journeymen who have families, and from the present scarcity of employment, would become pensioners on the bounty of the Corporation. Thus a twofold good would result, the employment of our citizens who are in distress, and their labour obtained at a reduction of 20 per cent [57] from the usual rate of wages.

Now we the said William Denning and Henry J. The Street Commissioner has the honor to cover the Award of the Arbitrators appointed by the Corporation and Messrs Lawrence and King to divide in an equitable manner the property at the corner of Elm and Leonard Streets and to make such exchange as might be just and right; by which it appears that the Corporation are to pay Messrs Lawrence and King $1340 for the difference between their former ground and that now assigned to them by the award.

The Street Commissioner conceives it to be his indispensable duty to guard the interests of the Corporation in all matters submitted to his discretion, and to present to them such remarks thereon as may suggest themselves as necessary for their information when deliberating upon the subjects. Impressed with this duty the Street Commissioner cannot refrain from communicating to the Board his disappro- [60] bation of the decision of the Arbitrators above mentioned: and he begs leave to offer the following statement of the circumstances in support of that opinion.

The Corporation, in order to increase the value of their property on Elm Street, originally laid out but Forty feet wide, agreed to cut off ten feet from their grounds on each side and make the Street Sixty feet in width. They also gave up Ten feet in width along the south side of their grounds at the corner of Elm street to make Leonard Street of the width of Fifty feet:

although Messrs Lawrence and King, at the same time, were paid exclusive of the assessment, One thousand Dollars for a slip of Ten feet required of them for the same purpose, and adjoining the ground of the Corporation, and above Three hundred and forty Dollars of that sum was paid by the Corporation, and the residue by Mr Clarke who owned the opposite ground.

The Corporation, further to improve their property there, regulated the whole of Elm Street at their expence: having previously regulated the whole of Leonard Street, Three hundred and fifty feet along the property of Messrs Lawrence and King, through massy hills, without any expence to them.

Notwithstanding these sacrifices on the part [61] of the Corporation, to enhance the value of their property, the Arbitrators have apportioned the lots they were to exchange, according to their several Areas, by a nominal value, without regard to their situation with respect to the Streets: and have actually valued front and corner lots belonging to the Corporation at no greater sum than other grounds belonging to Messrs Lawrence and King in the rear of those lots and to which there is no communication from the Streets.

The Street Commissioner is persuaded the Common Council, upon a slight inspection of the Map of the property, herewith presented, will see the impropriety of agreeing to the arrangement proposed by the Arbitrators; but he will do these Gentlemen the justice to state, that he has reason to believe they have been led to make this decision from misunderstanding the subject and the principles upon which they were to act. For it is evident that a front upon a Street is worth considerably more than the same area of ground in the rear of it. And such has been the invariable practice and opinion of other Arbitrations. The Street Commissioner will only recite one recent instance, where the Corporation, in exchanging ground with General Bailey at Pottersfield, have been obliged to give at the rate of two square feet on Albany Avenue, an intended Street of Sixty feet, for one foot on the Bowery road, and the [62] only reason assigned was, that the one was accessible and the other not.

The Street Commissioner is sincerely of opinion the property of the Corporation to be exchanged, as proposed, is worth at least as much as that included in the award to be taken from Messrs Lawrence and King; and he therefore recommends that the award be disagreed to for the reasons above stated, or that a Committee be appointed to investigate the merits of it with directions to report their opinion before it is approved.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Jan^{y} 18th. 1808. John S. Hunn.

Ordered that the same be referred back to the Arbitrators for further consideration.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report

The Street Commissioner has the honor to state to the Board, that warrants sometime since issued in favour of the following persons proprietors or Lessees of ground in Canal Street for the amount of the awards in their favour, deducting the sums they were assessed. The Committee observe that this estimate is not submitted as perfectly correct, but as nearly so, as it has been in their power to make.

* Marginal note reads See Report. P. 130.—Ed.

The Committee further remark, that they will employ as many Labourers as can possibly work to advantage. They have endeavoured to discriminate, in the distribution they have made, by giving the preference to those who have families. The future expense on this head, will not, probably be much increased. The demand for rations at the Alms House has gradually increased, nor is it easy to foresee where it may cease. The public bounty has hitherto been extended, without discrimination, to every applicant. Impositions must un- [75] doubtedly be practised. Should they grow to any serious extent, measures will be adopted to check them.

The Committee apply for the further sum of Two Thousand Dollars to meet their engagements.

Which is submitted.

Warrt No 706. Ordered that a warrant be issued in favour of Alderman Bingham, on account of the Committee of ways and means for $2000.

The following Report was presented.

*The Committee to whom was referred the Communication of the Reverend John Rodgers President of the Humane Society. Report

That in their opinion sound Policy advises the retaining the controul of all funds which can be appropriated by the Corporation to charitable purposes: That the numerous and pressing claims for relief renders it impracticable at present to afford assistance in the way required: But that the Humane Society well merits the support and patronage of the Citizens of New York.

Ordered that the same be confirmed and that a copy of the Report be sent to the President of the Humane Society.

[76] The following Report was presented.

†The Committee to whom was referred the Memorial of Aaron Ogden of Elizabeth Town in New Jersey,

Report,

That it appears to your Committee, that the Memorialist is a Proprietor of a large ferry establishment at Elizabeth Town point, and of a number of Ferry boats which constantly ply between that place and the city of New York, transporting Horses, Carriages, Cattle and huckstery.

* Marginal note reads See. P. 45.—Ed.
† Marginal note reads See. P. 43.—Ed.

That this is an important and growing intercourse as is set forth in the said Memorial.

That the only present place of resort for these boats, is the Whitehall basin, which on account of the crowd of Vessels there, has become a very inconvenient and, sometimes, almost a useless place for the unlading and landing passengers, horses, cattle &c[a] from the said boats.

That the situation at the end of Marketfield Street as contemplated by the memorialist, is very bleak, the water shallow and the bottom rocky, so as to render it altogether useless, as an harbor, without very considerable expense, and it does not appear in its present situation to be of any material benefit to the Commerce or business of this city.

That it is for the consideration of the Memorialist, whether he will, under these disadvantages, [77] be disposed to incur the risque of making the same, at his own expense, a safe and secure harbour.

That if such should be the case, a greater facility will be given to the intercourse between this and a growing country, fast improving to a great extent, by turnpike roads leading to Elizabeth Town point, the present revenue of this Corporation will be advanced, and there will be a prospect of improvement to a greater degree in future, by the rents resulting from the establishment, and encouragement will be given to enterprize in new improvements.

Your Committee therefore submit, that whether, in consideration of the premises, it may not be proper to grant the prayer of the Memorialist, so far as to give him a lease for nine years and Nine months, commencing on the First day of May next, at the reserved rent of One Hundred Dollars per year, for all the right of the Corporation to the wharves and Docks at the end of Marketfield Street facing westward and Southward, with liberty to erect stairs, Cranes and other necessary accommodations, and the free use of the said Slip, subject, however, to the controul of the Comptroller and the Street Commissioner, and a sooner determination, if this Corporation should, in the mean time, find it expedient to fill up the Slip there for any public purpose whatever.

*The Committee to whom was referred the Resolution respecting the revenue and expenditure of the water works belonging to the Manhattan Company

Report

That it appears from the Books of the Manhattan Company the Capital [80] Stock expended, including real estate, (first Cost,) is		$23.466.47 leaving a surplus of Ten thousand and Sixty One Dollars, being the net revenue for one year, equal to 6¾ per cent on the Capital expended.

It may not be improper to remark that the real estate belonging to the Waterworks have, in the opinion of the Committee, increased in value, since the term of purchase nearly 100. ℔ c^{t} and that the revenue has on an average for the last three years increased 10 ℔^{r} c^{t} per annum.

Your Committee therefore considering the importance of this valuable establishment, and the necessity of its being in the hands of the Corporation of this City, at some future period, whereby they may secure the right of obtaining possession of an establishment that never ought [81] to be in the hands of any private company. Should this opportunity now be lost, perhaps it will never be in the power of the Corporation of this City to obtain it hereafter.

certain map or chart made on the day of June 1805 by Charles Loss, and described as follows, viz. the first Plot (N° 1.) is an irregular figure, bounded on the east by a line running along Broadway and across Canal Street, from the northeast point of M^r Duggans house to the South east point of Thomas Dick's lot, on the west by a line running parallel to Broadway from the southwest point of Thomas Dick's lot to the opposite or southern side of Canal Street, and on the South, by the Southern side of Canal Street to the place of beginning. The second plot (N° 2) comprehends from the western boundary of the preceding plot a parallelogram sixty feet wide, running westerly to the boundary line of M^r Duggans property, being a part of Canal Street in its original breadth, as formerly laid out: The third Plott (N° 3.) comprehends a square peice of ground included in the contemplated widening of Canal Street, and the breadth of a strip of ground that has been called Mercer or Clermont Street.

As to M^r Duggans claim for damages which he alleges to have sustained by the direction of Canal Street having been repeatedly changed, the Committee are of opinion, that he ought not to have [94] regulated his conduct by what appeared to be only the intentions of the Corporation, But should have previously ascertained what had been really adopted, and that if he has sustained damage, either by leasing or selling lots on Streets which he presumed were contemplated, the loss is chargeable to his negligence only, without the least colour of claim on the Corporation.

The Committee further report that for the purpose of opening Canal Street, the grounds of certain other proprietors, viz^t John Jay, Peter Jay Munro, the Corporation of Trinity Church, Walter Bowne, John M^cCamman, Lewis Lorton, the heirs of Anthony Lispenard deceased, and several others will be required, and they are of opinion, that regular measures ought, without delay, to be taken for that purpose. They therefore submit to the Board the following resolution.

*Resolved that the Street Commissioner, as the Agent of this Corporation, apply to John Jay, Peter Jay Munro, the Rector and inhabitants of Trinity Church, Thomas Duggan, Walter Bowne, John M^cCamman, Lewis Lorton, the Heirs of Anthony Lispenard, and all other persons interested in any lands, through which Canal Street, when laid according to the existing resolutions of this Board, will run, and that he have power to treat, on behalf of this Board, with all such proprietors, for so much [95] of their lands respectively, as

The Committee to whom was referred the Petition of *Abner Conklin,

Report

That the Petitioner states himself to be the Administrator of the estate of Joseph Kelly deceased, who was, together with one Magie, Contractor for digging and regulating Bullock Street. That, on conferring with the Street Commissioner, the Committee are informed that the work has been done; but from the Contract it further appears that the Contractors were to wait for payment 'till the money could be collected from the Assessment and that about [99] $495.57 is yet due, of which the Petitioner states that he has himself advanced upwards of $300.

It appears that the collection of this Street has been delayed and embarrassed by some unfortunate occurrences, which are no ways attributable to the Contractors and which in a remote degree are attributable to the persons appointed under this Board.

The Committee are therefore of opinion that even if the Assessment should not be collected, this Board ought, ultimately, to indemnify the estate of the contractors, and that for the present relief of Mr Conklin, the sum of Three hundred and fifty Dollars ought to be advanced to him.

*The Committee to whom was referred the Petition of Anne Culbert

Report

That the Petitioner represents herself as being the widow and representative of Hugh Culbert, who heretofore contracted with the Street Commissioner to dig out and regulate Mulberry Street. That on application to the Street Commissioner it appears that the work [101] has been done, but that by the contract the said contractor was to have received payment from the collection of the assessment. However, as certain unexpected difficulties, depending in some degree on the Acts of the Board or of persons appointed by them, have prevented the Collection of the money, the Committee are of opinion that the ballance claimed should be paid.

By the books of the Street Commissioner a ballance of $140 would appear due, but some payments having probably been made by the Collector without his knowledge, the actual amount due is probably no more than Fifty four Dollars, which is the sum claimed.

Ordered that the same be confirmed and that the Treasurer report the amount of money received by him of the intestate estate of Reuben Johnson deceased.

The following Communication was presented.

The enclosed Petitions from Thomas Palmer and Ann Culbert, are similar to Petitions from the same persons referred to a Committee of the Board, and all the necessary communication on these subjects has been communicated to the said *Committee by the Street Commissioner, so that it will be unnecessary for him to make a specific report upon them as the Committee will probably report this day.

The Street Commissioner avails himself however of this opportunity to communicate to the Board that he was some months since [103] directed verbally at the Board, to advertize the vacant lots, upon which assessments are due, and that he has, in part, prepared the advertisement for the prints; but as no special order appears in the minutes of the Common Council to that effect, and he has been advised that he cannot enter into any important matter wherein the Corporation are a party, without fair and explicit resolutions upon their Minutes shall warrant the Measure. He begs leave to enquire of the Board, whether he is to advertise such lots as he conceives are within the meaning of the Act, and to propose the following resolution to enable him so to do.

Resolved, that the Street Commissioner take order for advertising all the vacant Lots of ground upon which assessments for regulating or paving streets have been made and the money named in the Assessments remain due and unpaid in part or the whole, agreeably to the Acts of the Legislature in such case made and provided.

Streets generally to the West of Broadway and above Canal Street, have been, sometime, in possession of the Street Commissioner, who has deferred to report upon them until some arrangement might be made with Mr Bleecker and other large Proprietors of the grounds in that vicinity.

Mr Bleecker having consented to cede the Streets through his ground and the inhabitants being extremely anxious to regulate their lots, induces the Street Commissioner to report, that no part of that large district has been regulated, except Spring Street, and that it would be improper, in his opinion, to make partial regulations, so near Canal Street, as some of the ground lies. That a general survey of the unregulated Streets north of Canal Street, as far as Art Street, is very desireable, as it will enable the several proprietors to regulate their lots, and appropriate any extra earth they may have to the best advantage. Besides these considerations, the Corporation of Trinity Church and the Heirs of Mr Lispenard are making rapid improvements upon their ground, and have applied to the Subscriber, for the heights of the intended Street, and to furnish them with data upon which they may found contracts for regulating their lots, but he has been unable to give them the necessary information.

It is always desireable to make surveys [105] and regulations previous to erecting buildings, and the enormous damages that have been done to property, in this city, by digging and filling up have arisen from the opposite practice of building first. The district spoken of is very large and contains but a few buildings, and perhaps, more than any part of the city deserves the attention of the Board in this respect. It can be surveyed to advantage now, as the Surveyors are very little employed by individuals and promise to attend punctually to any surveys required by the Corporation.

The Street Commissioner therefore recommends the propriety of employing the Surveyors to ascertain the height through these streets and proposes the following resolution to that effect.

*Resolved that the Street Commissioner take order forthwith, to ascertain by actual survey the heights of the surface of the several Streets between Canal and Art Streets and from Broadway to Varick Streets in order to fix a permanent regulation of the same; and that when the regulated lines are adopted, by the Common Council, at least one substantial mark stone or Monument shall be placed at each intersection and at the angular points where he may think necessary, particularly to designate the several heights above high water mark: and that a map and field book of the said survey be made to elucidate the said regulated lines and the [106] position and heights of the said Mark stones or Monuments.

All which is respectfully submitted.

New York Feb[y] 6[th] 1808

Sir

An Assessment has sometime since been made under the authority of the Corporation to defray the expense of filling up the Slip at the Foot of Vesey Street. A number of the persons assessed, supposing themselves not liable to contribute to this expence applied to me as counsel on that occasion. On examining the case, and considering the object of the work and the purposes accomplished by it on the part of the Corporation I did not think the [112] persons assessed were liable, and it appeared to me also a case of considerable hardship. I then proposed to the Attorney of the Corporation to join an issue with him in any manner that should be thought best, to try the right in the easiest and most expeditious mode, to which I was informed he then agreed. Expecting to hear from him on the subject, nothing farther was done and the business slept.

The persons affected by the Assessment have again called upon me and inform me that a warrant has lately issued to levy the amount of the Assessment and their property has been taken and they are notified that it will be sold on tuesday next, if the assessment be not paid. To prevent so harsh a proceeding where the parties really suppose themselves aggrieved and have shewn every disposition to try the right, I take the liberty to state the business to you and thro' you to submit to the Corporation a renewal of the proposition to try the question in the shortest and least expensive mode of joining an issue for that purpose by the determination of which all the parties will agree to abide. If some arrangement of this kind be not made, the difference must lead to as many useless and expensive law suits as there are individuals concerned. I cannot think but that the Board will agree to this proposition and instruct their [113] Attorney accordingly, and in that case it will be necessary to suspend the proceedings of the Officer acting under the warrant that has issued.

I am sensible that every question of this sort which can in any way affect the Police of the city is of a delicate nature and that the example, whether successful or not, may be injurious. I have therefore really wished to avoid this controversy, but I do not know that it can now be avoided. If however any method can be adopted to accommodate the business, I shall cheerfully do what I can to accomplish it.

I will thank you for an answer on Monday to the proposition of trying the right in the manner above mentioned.

I am Sir

Your mo ob. Servt

With the approbation [116] of the Common Council they propose to issue rations, only twice a week, in future, and to examine into the claims and necessities of the applicants, to prevent, as far as may be possible further abuse of the public bounty.

As this labour is not very profitable, and as means of employment will be afforded at Governor's island the Committee have concluded that it will be best to discharge these Labourers, and have given the Street Commissioner orders accordingly.

Alderman Miller of the Committee to whom the subject was referred, reported a site for An Arsenal for the State situate on the East side of Elm Street between White and Sugar Loaf Streets, together with the following draft of a Memorial to the Legislature [117] which was approved and ordered to be engrossed and the Seal of this Corporation thereunto affixed and to be forwarded to the Legislature at Albany.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York, in Senate and Assembly convened:

The Memorial of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York.

Respectfully sheweth

That the Building in the city of New York belonging to the people of this State and at present occupied as an Arsenal, is, in their opinion, far from being suitable for that purpose, as it is not sufficiently extensive to contain the military stores and implements which belong to them.

That the Trustees of the Free School, for the education of such poor children as do not belong to or are not provided for by any religious Society, are in want of a Building, which should be large enough to accommodate the great and constantly increasing numbers of those for whom the benefit of their institution was intended, and that the present Arsenal would answer extremely well for that purpose.

Your Memorialists further show, that they are possessed of several pieces or blocks of vacant ground between Elm and Collect Streets as designated [118] by the Numbers 1. 2 & 3. on the annexed Map, either of which would be amply sufficient for a spacious Arsenal, and they are of opinion that certain arrangements might be made with respect to the premises which would not only be highly beneficial to the State and to the Corporation of this city; but would also materially extend the usefulness of the Free school, an institution which eminently promotes the general good, in the means of diffusing the blessings of useful Knowledge amongst those who stand most in need of it.

Your Memorialists therefore recommend to the Honorable the Legislature, the propriety of ceding to their Corporation the Building now employed by the State as an Arsenal, upon Condition that the said Building shall be occupied by the Trustees of the aforesaid School, so long as they shall use the same for the purposes of their institution, and shall also educate gratis the children belonging to the Alms House, but that in case of failure in either of these respects the said building shall revert to the Corporation.

Your Memorialists in consideration of the aforesaid cession on the part of the State, do pledge themselves to cede to the State the peice or parcel of ground designated on the said Map by N° 3. and situate between Elm and Collect Streets and from Sugar Loaf to White Streets, being a block about [119] two hundred and ten feet square, or either of the others if they should be preferred, to be appropriated by the State for the purpose of building and continuing an Arsenal thereon; but which said ground shall revert to the Corporation, whenever the State shall cease to use it for military purposes.

[120] The Comptroller presented the following Report.

The Common Council having, at their last meeting, directed the Comptroller to report an estimate of the sum necessary to be raised by Tax for the expences of the city and county for the present year; he has the honor to present herewith an account of the expenditures of the last year, which, in his opinion, should form the basis of the application to the Legislature for the sum to be raised for the expences of the present year. From that statement it will appear that there was expended for county purposes		$183.180. 4
That the Tax collected amounted to.....		119.943.54
leaving a deficiency of.....		66.236.50
Which was in part provided for by the proportion of Commissions on Sales at Auction, amounting to.....	$24.666.87
and received from the Excise.....	8.679.
		33.345.87

which was supplied by a Ballance in the Treasury arising from monies borrowed from the Manhattan Company in a former year, and a further Loan in that year.

Though it is generally calculated that the City revenue will aid the Tax, yet the amount of city disbursements for the last year exceeded [121] considerably its annual revenue, and if the Building of the new City Hall is to be continued, it ought not to be counted upon in a provision for county purposes for the present year. It ought further to be observed that there will probably be a considerable deficiency in the Collection of the Tax for 1807. arising from mistakes in the Assessors and a reduction from the proceeds of the Excise of $4000. the sum granted by the Legislature to the Free School.

From the aforegoing Observations the Board will perceive, that if the amount of the Tax is alone to be relied upon for the expences of the current year, a larger sum will be necessary than that required for the last year; but as the sum to be asked for will depend upon the determination of the Common Council as to the application of the Corporation revenue, the Comptroller presumes that it would be proper in him to submit to them the Amount which they should, under all circumstances deem it expedient and prudent to require.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Whereupon the draft of the following Memorial was approved and ordered to be engrossed and the Seal of this Corporation thereunto affixed and to be forwarded to the Legislature at Albany.

To the Honorable the Representatives of the People of the State of New York, in Senate and Assembly convened.

The Memorial of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York,

Respectfully sheweth

That Your Memorialists for the purpose of ascertaining the sum necessary to be raised for the City and County of New York, for the current year, directed the Comptroller of the Corporation to lay before them an estimate of the [123] sums requisite for those purposes, founded upon the actual expenses of the last year. This estimate, detailing the particular objects of expense, and the Sums requisite for the same, we have the honour to transmit with this Memorial. From that estimate it appears, that for the purpose of defraying the various charges of the city and county for the present year, there will be wanting the sum of Seventy Thousand Dollars.

Your Memorialists would therefore respectfully solicit, that an Act may be passed, authorising the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, to raise by Tax upon the estates, real and personal, of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the said City the sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars for the maintenance of the Poor and for defraying the other contingent charges of the said City and County.

And Your Memorialists &c[a]

The following Report was presented.

*The Comptroller to whom was referred the Petitions of Thomas Smith and Robert Carnly praying for water grants fronting their property on the East river between the grant of Adam & Noah Brown and Romaine Street

Reports

That in his [124] opinion the prayer of the said Petitioners should be granted.

Which is submitted.

Feb[y] 8[th] 1808. J. Morton.

Ordered that the same be confirmed.

The Comptroller reported the sum of $2542.77 in the Treasury.

The Treasurer reported that he had received $470.57 proceeds of the intestate estate of Reuben Johnson deceased for which a claim had been made by Carey Ludlow who presented a Bond of indemnity to the Corporation for the same, which was referred to the Attorney.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report

The Street Commissioner to whom was referred the petition of Thomas Gardner and others praying that measures may be taken by the Common Council to cause Corlaers Hook Street to be made to the centre of Water Street, has the honor to

Report

That he has viewed the premises alluded to in the aforesaid Petition, and finds that the proprietors of ground between Grand and Cherry Street have not, as directed by the Board [125] completed the said Corlaer's Street, but that they have done some part of the filling and are now employing carts for that purpose. That they have sunk a very extensive line of Blocks nearly five hundred feet from high water mark which will require a long time to be filled and that considering their great expense in sinking these blocks the Board ought to indulge them in an extent of time for their filling, if they should apply for such extension.

That from the conversations the Street Commissioner has had with the agents of M[r] Gardner, the principal object of their petition was to obtain the order of the Board to themselves, for filling in and making Corlaers Street to the centre of Water Street, which by the

The Street Commissioner is of opinion that no good reasons can at this time be presented against the wishes of the petitioners, as the claim of Mr Cunningham has been deemed to extend only to the waters edge.

The low price of labour is another reason offered for permitting the petitioners to take the earth from their hills to the low ground and that they will thereby employ many poor people.

The Street Commissioner therefore presents the draft of an Ordinance embracing, [126] as he believes, the wishes of the Petitioner, which in his opinion ought to be passed.

All which is respectfully submitted

Febr 8th 1808. John S. Hunn.

Ordered that the same be confirmed and that an Ordinance be passed in conformity.

The Street Commissioner presented the following Report

The Street Commissioner has again been applied to, this day, by Mr John R. Livingston to state to the Board the situation of the cellars in Anthony and Thomas Streets which are filled with water, in much greater quantities than can be discharged through the small drain which has been placed in the Streets to relieve them, and that two or three feet of water is now [in] many of the cellars in the neighbourhood.

The Street Commissioner begs leave to turn the attention of the Board to his Reports Nos 452 and 465 in possession of the Clerk, and hopes some order will be taken to afford the necessary relief to the Complainants.

Which is respectfully submitted.

Febr 8th 1808 John S. Hunn

*Ordered that the same be referred to the Alderman and Assistant of the 5th Ward.

[127] The Street Commissioner presented the following Report

The Street Commissioner having been directed by the Common Council to report upon the present state of Stanton Street and the reasons why the contract for regulating it has not been completed, has the honour, in part, to Report

That the badness of the weather and the indisposition of Mr Stillwell, who was directed to make the necessary surveys, have been the primary reasons for presenting, at this late day, an imperfect report upon the subject.

That from the surveys that have been made it appears, that 27000 feet of earth are wanted at the lower end; that within the next 200 feet 30.000 feet are deficient; that within a space of 450 feet between Pitt Street and the Bowery 22.500 feet are wanted and that in addition to the above, 5000 feet will be required between Norfolk and Essex Streets, making a total deficiency of 84.500 Cubic feet, which, at 10 feet to the load, at 4 cents each will make $338. But it is probable that the work could not be completed by others than the Contractors for less than $450 or $500.

The Street Commissioner further reports, that Messrs Hulsart and Stagg have stated to him, that when they took Stanton Street, they also took Arundle Street, both of them at rates lower than they could be done separately as they calculated to deposit [128] the extra earth of Arundle street into Stanton Street, where it was wanted. That Mr Stuyvesant forbid them taking any of the extra earth in Arundel Street, which they had so calculated to use, and that they were therefore obliged to stop their work in both streets until this difficulty was adjusted. They further state that the ground proposed to be given to them from vacant lots on Stanton Street, has not a bank sufficient for them to work in at this season, and that they would be liable to a suit of the proprietor when he should appear. And lastly, that if the Corporation will permit them to regulate Attorney Street, to North Street, where there is a surplusage of earth, they will regulate the Street conformably to a profile for the consideration of the earth and immediately proceed to finishing Stanton Street with the same.

The Street Commissioner being well acquainted with the circumstances of the case in Arundel Street, and having failed in his exertions to prevail upon Mr Stuyvesant to permit the earth to be removed, is impressed with an opinion, that Messrs Hulsart & Stagg have not been so reprehensible as they would otherwise have been, if no such obstacle had occurred: And that if it is consistent with the authority of the Common Council, he will recommend that they be permitted to regulate Attorney Street as aforesaid for the purposes they have mentioned, or to take as much earth therefrom as will be sufficient to finish [129] Stanton Street.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Feb. 8th 1808 John S. Hunn.

*Ordered that the same be referred to the Alderman and Assistant of the 7th. Ward, with power to reject or confirm as they on examination, may judge proper.

†The Street Commissioner reported that he had not been able, within the time limited by the Board, to see all the proprietors of Lots in Canal Street; that some of those with whom he has conversed on the subject have required a few days to give their answers, but that he expects to report fully on the subject at the next meeting.

The Street Commissioner presented a return of Delinquents on the Assessment for regulating Broadway from Great Jones to Art Street,

The Street Commissioner presented an Assessment for regulating First Street, from Grand to Delancey Street, which was confirmed and William Peters was appointed Collector.

The Street Commissioner presented an Assessment for regulating First Street from Delancey to Stanton Street, which was confirmed, and William Dustan was appointed Collector.

[130] The Street Commissioner presented an Assessment for regulating ‡Second Street from Broome to Stanton Street, which was confirmed and ||Lewis Angevine was appointed Collector.

Agreeably to the order of the Board the City Inspector reported Ordinances for raising sunken lots in Spring, Thompson and Varick Streets, and for correcting other Nuisances, from N° 4003 to N° 4027. inclusive.

Ordered that the same do pass.

A Report from the Fire Department that the §Petition of Fire Engine Company N° 28, for two additional Members, ought to be granted

And that the ¶Petition of Fire Engine Company N° 20, for Five additional members ought not to be granted; was confirmed.

M^r James Townsend appointed a Referree at the last meeting, to value the proposed exchange of ground in Chatham Street, with the Executors of Michael Nestle dec^d declined the appointment.

Whereupon Clarkson Crolius was appointed in his place.
